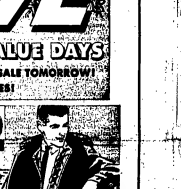
Less of Income to Go for Food During 1960

American families will probably spend a smaller share of their income for food in 1960 than any other year since the end of World War II.

A little more than a fifth of the average income goes for food, after taxes — is expected to go for food next year, according to consumption economists. Increased marketing spent at the University of Minnesota reported today. Twelve years ago food took more than a fourth of the average person's income after taxes.



The average income will also be record high, economists say, but prices of food will probably rise only moderately. They will also be willing to pay for more quality services in prepared foods.

Higher average incomes will probably mean higher meat consumption next year, economists say, especially in beef and pork. Higher grades of beef will be about as plentiful in 1960 as "Happiness, I have discovered, is nearly always a rebound from hard work. It is one of the follies of men to imagine that they can enjoy mere thought, or emotion, or sentiment. As well try to eat beauty. For happiness must be tricked. She loves to see men at work. She loves sweat, weariness, self-sacrifice. She will be found not in palaces but in cornfields and factories and hovering over littered desks; but she crowns the unconscious head of the busy child. If you look up suddenly from hard work you will see her, but if you look too long she fades sorrowfully away." —David Grayson.

Summit Meetings

It will be up to the historians to decide how much the cause of world peace and security was advanced by President Eisenhower's journey to three continents and his appearance before millions of the people of backward countries of the world. We are glad that he is safely home. For an aging man who just a short time ago was only a couple of days ahead of the Grim Reaper, he apparently has made a complete recovery and now is in excellent physical condition. For this recovery all Americans are happy.

There seems to be general agreement that the President made friends, and to whatever extent this is true, our position as a nation probably was strengthened. His visit with the leaders of the government of India must have been especially reassuring to the people of those nations of Asia that are threatened by Chinese aggression.

At this time the Eisenhower journey is viewed as a successful mission. The final verdict however will depend on the final results, and that decision probably will not be made by our generation.

We like the cautious approach to the summit meetings, the first of which will be held in April or May. We are told that this first meeting is going to be exploratory, and that there will be no hurry about arriving at final solutions. That is good.

With this approach there probably will be no secret treaties to embarrass us in later years and the leaders of both parties no doubt will have a voice in whatever agreements are entered into. There should be no more Yaltas.

Organization Needed

Minnesota probably will lose another seat in Congress after the next census and it will be rural Minnesota that will lose the representation. Our district will be increased substantially in area. Dividing the state into eight districts will mean that the districts will average one-eighth of about 3,400,000 population and that is 425,000. The district's present population is about 260,000 and it will take the population of eight or nine additional counties to bring it up to the state average.

The metropolitan area of Minneapolis and St. Paul will strengthen its control over the political destinies of the state insofar as the federal government is concerned. The large cities now speak for us in the United States Senate and they soon will control half of the state's seats in the House.

All of which points up the need for an organized effort on the part of outstate communities to secure a favorable vote on the apportionment amendment that will be submitted to the voters next year. This amendment would provide for a legislature to be selected on an area as well as a population basis, giving assurance that the metropolitan area would never gain control of both houses.

If this amendment is not adopted, and the state is reapportioned on the basis of population alone, as the Constitution now provides, then the large cities will soon gain that control. If the amendment is adopted then control of the House, which would be reapportioned on the basis of population, would go to the cities, but, under the provisions of the amendment, the metropolitan area, consisting of five counties, could never have more than 35 per cent of the Senate seats.

The Minneapolis central labor organization has taken a position against the amendment and Governor Freeman has stated he will oppose it. But there are leaders in both parties in the Twin Cities who recognize the fairness of the proposed amendment and will support it. The campaign should not be made on the basis of country versus city, nor should it be made a party issue. The proposed amendment was approved by the Legislature with the support of both city and country members and the division was not along party lines.

But the amendment will not be adopted unless a well organized effort is made to get the facts before the people, and that is going to require the expenditure of some money too. A statewide organization that would invite the support of all groups should be formed to give leadership to an educational campaign in support of the outstate position.

Our Declining Standards

In a recent editorial the Saturday Evening Post used the television quiz show scandal as an excuse to give all of us a spanking. It is not pleasant reading. Perhaps the charges are exaggerated, but exaggeration for emphasis is sometimes permissible. At any rate, we are glad to pass it along for what it may be worth, hopeful that it may encourage the kind of soul-searching that will be helpful in this season of good resolutions. Here it is:

"During the past several weeks one of our principal competitors, television, has been under severe attack. . . .

"We are reluctant to join in the field day that the press, generally, has enjoyed at television's expense. This is not because we believe the rogues to be innocent. Rather, it is because we believe that the importance of their guilt has been wildly exaggerated, the significance of their guilt almost wholly overlooked . . .

"What is important is that we recognize the television scandals for what they are—a symptom of the declining standards of moral behavior in the United States . . .

"The ethics of the quiz show are by no means confined to television. In many of our schools, for instance, we tacitly approve the policy of automatic promotion—that sleazy practice of sending dullards from grade to grade when they can't, or won't, do the required work. Ultimately they are "graduated," ill prepared for the jobs they will seek with their fraudulent diplomas.

"In our colleges responsible educators now estimate that perhaps as many as one third of all students cheat "rather regularly" on their examinations. It is really not surprising that they do so. Their more celebrated classmates, the football team, were very probably recruited by one or another of the undercover dodges employed by college administrators to circumvent the pious codes they publicly endorse.

"On the labor front we are assailed by the dismal memory of Dave Beck and the spectacle of a Hoffa triumphant over the majesty of Federal authority. We see featherbedding and thuggery upheld in cynical disregard of the national welfare.

"Medicine? After years of tongue-clucking by the American Medical Association, fee splitting goes on as always. Some specialists continue to kick back to general practitioners who send them patients. In another sector health-insurance plans mount in cost because, for one reason, doctors and patients conspire to chisel on the terms of the contracts.

"Lawyers? Alongside the honest attorneys slinks that grimy fringe of ambulance chasers, shysters and mouthpieces—the flouters of justice whose special skill is to teach the willing pupil how to beat the law. . . .

"The income tax? Cheating on it is now a national game. Executives openly boast of living off their expense accounts. . . .

"Washington: The home freezer and the mink coat are old stuff by now. So, also is the strange case of the Miami television license, the vicuna coat, the Goldfine rug, the innocent phone calls of Sherman Adams, the Congressional payrolls stuffed with relatives.

"But what about the senator who conveniently forgets that the hilarious speech which established him as a latter-day Will Rogers was actually written by some ink-stained ghost whose name the senator conveniently forgot to mention? And how many members of Congress accept campaign contributions from donors whose obvious, if unspecified, purpose is to compromise the vote of the successful candidate?

"The catalogue of American Van Dorens is thick and blowzy. It includes those American businesses which caused the Federal Trade Commission to announce recently that advertising abuses were at an all-time high.

"Nor, we regret to say, is the press without blemish. Some of the publications that trumpeted television's derelictions most loudly are themselves guilty of questionable practices. Some permit their baseball writers, for example, to travel at the expense of the team they cover — compromising objectivity for a few dollars a year. Some see no ethical reason why editors should not accept the free travel, free liquor, free entertainment offered by public relations firms in pursuit of favorable mention for their clients. Some angle their editorial content with the advertiser, not the reader, in mind.

"And all of us—newspapers and magazines alike—are wide open to the charge that we have abetted the national delinquency by helping to foster a phony value system in our country. By glamorizing sports we so inflated the football star that colleges felt justified in buying him to fill the stadium that costs more than the physics building. By our preoccupation with the bosomy starlet, the sweetly smiling faces of television, we encouraged our readers to accept phony standards of success, helped the creatures of publicity to rewards that their contributions do not merit. . . .

"Viewed against this capsule picture of the seamy side of the United States, the television mess begins to come into focus. . . .

"Television paid the penalty not because it was the only offender but because it was the most obvious target.

"Some other houses are in need of cleaning—for their own good and for the nation's."

The Post could have extended the list. Conniving to secure government grants of aid has become a common practice not only by individuals but by communities and political subdivisions of the government as well. Few children accept responsibility for the welfare of their aged parents. Millions have made false statements in their efforts to qualify for pensions or other forms of public assistance.

The conditions under which we live have undergone great changes in the last 50 years. Living is easier and more comfortable. To exist requires less struggle. The welfare state is rapidly replacing rugged individualism. If we do not choose to help ourselves a government agency will soon come to our assistance.

Thanks to Sputnik we have become conscious of the possibility that ours may not be the greatest nation in the world. We are not now quite so sure of our invincibility, and that is a healthy development. And probably the Saturday Evening Post is doing us a good service by calling our attention to some of the symptoms of "declining standards" in our moral behavior. By being made aware of the danger we may be able to halt the decline and possibly reverse the trend.

THE SPINNING WHEEL

The spinning wheel above was used in 1850 but is actually much older. There are several different kinds of spinning wheels, but all were used for the purpose of "spinning" the fiber from which clothes were made into thread.

After the spinning was done, the threads or yarns still had to be woven on a handloom into cloth or fabric from which the garments were cut and sewn.

The officers of Immanuel Lutheran church met Tuesday, Dec. 22 and passed the following resolution: Whereas the Immanuel church has for years favored activities for the young people in its Luther League work, Bible camp work and summer recreational program which the village of Plummer, the public school and various organizations are now supporting. The Board of Trustees, however, feels that there is no need for further recreational activities during the school term and, have resolved that Immanuel Lutheran church is not to participate in the present winter program. Signed, Clarence Sebo, secretary.

Fireman Dies in Train Wreck at Stephen

Moorhead Resident Killed in Freight Collision Tuesday

A fireman was injured fatally and an engineer suffered minor hurts in the collision of two Great Northern Railway freight trains at Stephen early Tuesday. Henry C. Jacobs, 52, of Moorhead died at a Warren hosptial a short time after the collision.

Wallace F. Bulger, 41, of Grand Forks, engineer of the locomotive on which Jacobs was fireman, suffered minor head injuries and was treated at the Warren hospital.

The trains collided about 7 a.m. a block south of the depot at Stephen, where they were scheduled to meet, according to a spokesman for the railway.

Bulger was engineer on Train No. 405 northbound. Harold Kranzler was engineer and Leslie Strom fireman on Train No. 406, southbound. Both are from Grand Forks.

The railway spokesman said one of the trains was supposed to take a siding at Stephen but failed to do so and collided with the other coming out of the siding.

An observer at Stephen said it appeared from the position of the locomotives after the collision that the crash occurred on the main line.

He said the boxcar immediately behind the locomotive of the northbound train had telescoped into the cab of the locomotive and that the southbound locomotive was lying across the tracks.

The impact derailed two cars on one train and one on the other.

Jacobs, a native of South Dakota, had been a resident of Fargo and Moorhead about 18 years.

He is survived by his wife, three sons and a daughter, all at home and four brothers.

Babson Sees No War in '60

By Roger W. Babson

1. Naturally, as I am just back from Moscow and Berlin, my first thoughts are what will happen to Berlin in 1960. My answer is definitely, "Nothing Will Happen." Mr. K. will make no more ultimatums; President Eisenhower will continue his peace talks. Therefore the Berlin situation will be just the same in 1960 and 1961 as it is today.

2. There will be no World War started between Russia and the United States in 1960. This does not mean that such a war will not come within 10 years; but just now neither country is ready for it. I am convinced of this after my recent visit to Moscow.

3. Airplane warfare with the dropping of bombs is a thing of the past. We are turning to rocketry with pinpoint precision. Our expensive air bases may gradually be vacated.

4. Moscow is Mr. K's "pride and joy." It is a beautiful city with broad streets and thousands of new apartment houses. Mr. K does not want it destroyed. Furthermore, he wants a reduction in armaments so that he will have money to raise the standard of living in Russia. I forecast he will have to do this in order to hold his power.

5. We first feared a "shooting war;" we are in a "cold war;" but we will soon be in an "educational war." In 1960 the United States will expend far greater effort on education.

6 Along with the effort to improve education during 1960, I forecast that our teachers will be given a minimum salary of $5,000 and that schools of all states will receive federal aid.

7. I forecast that instead of spending so much money on new school buildings, municipalities will give more attention to discipline, promotions, and sifting, and to the teaching of mathematics, physics, and chemistry in both grammar and high schools.

8. I forecast that some of those who have gone into business will seek teaching jobs, which will be a major force in postponing World War III. School teaching will be a part of our national defense.

9. The Russians are afraid of China, which I hope to visit again in 1960. Hence, I forecast that more friendly relations will develop between China and the United States during 1960.

10. Space travel to the moon is

Resolve to Obey All Traffic Laws

New Years Resolution Proposed by Auto Group

If every motorist and pedestrian would adopt and practice a New Year's resolution to obey all traffic laws, the highway traffic toll would take a sharp drop in 1960, an official of the Minnesota AAA said today.

"Statistics show that in a substantial number of traffic deaths, someone was either violating a law or committing an obviously unsafe act," E. Ray Cory, Austin, Minnesota AAA president, said. "Since traffic laws and ordinances are adopted for our protection, it is foolish to try to evade them."

The motoring organization official called on Minnesota's drivers to start off the New Year on the right foot by resolving to follow these three rules whether driving or walking:

1. Familiarize yourself with local laws and obey them in spirit as well as literally.

2. Avoid the attitude that traffic laws are meant to be observed only when police apprehension is likely.

3. Set a good example for others by obeying traffic laws. Never follow the example of violators who speed, jump lanes illegally and commit other violations.

Mercury Dips to 3 Early Wednesday

This Section Escapes Snowstorm This Week

Although the mercury dipped to 3 degrees early Wednesday, the lowest reading for more than a week, the day began with clear, sunny skies and the weatherman predicted fair for most of the day.

The heavy snow and cold that missed this section of the state dumped record amounts of snow in a band from New Mexico and Oklahoma across the nation to the eastern seaboard.

The KTRF forecast is for skies to become partly cloudy later today and tomorrow but temperatures are not expected to be so cold tonight. Little temperature change is expected otherwise.

The high today is expected to be from 20 to 25 and the low tonight from 10 to 15.

Temperatures during the daytime for the last 10 days have ranged from the low 20's to the middle 30's and night time readings have ranged from the 3 reported Dec. 29, to the month's warmest, 30, the evenings of Dec. 25 and 26. No precipitation has been recorded this week.

She carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums with her pearl earrings and necklace being a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Gail Midbo of Bagley, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, followed by Margaret Benson of Grygla. They were attired in ballerina length gowns of red violet taffeta and net and carried bouquets of red roses and white mums. Their necklaces of gold were a gift of the bride.

largely for propaganda purposes and to take our minds off of the military phases of rocketry, submarines, and breaking the earth's crust. Only the fear of retaliation will prevent the Russians from starting a world war.

Political Outlook

11. I will now forecast who the Republican candidates in 1960 will be — Nixon and Rockefeller.

12. The Democratic candidates cannot now be forecast. Senator Kennedy thinks he has the nomination "sewed up," but Johnson and Symington, and even Stevenson, have large followings.

13. I forecast that relations with Russia will become far more important than the question of inflation.

14. The Republican slogan in 1960 will be, "It is always dangerous to swap horses going across a rapid stream." I therefore forecast that the Republicans will have at least a 50-50 chance of success in 1960.

15. In fact, on the basis of their slogan, I look for a Republican victory, though with a very close margin.

16. I forecast no reduction in taxes of any consequence during 1960.

17. I predict that present defense expenditures will be reduced and the money spent on rocketry, submarines, breaking the earth's crust, and education.

18. There will be very little reduction in foreign aid during 1960.

19. I forecast an attempt in 1960 to increase tariffs on goods imported from Germany, Italy, Japan and other cheap labor countries.

20. I expect 1960 to be a "do-nothing" year for our Congress. Both parties will be working for continued ...

Cost of Living

21. I forecast no substantial reduction in living costs during 1960.

22. The newly imported cheap, low-priced automobiles are here to stay. Their importation cannot be checked.

23. Electric power rates will be lowered in 1960.

24. Clothing should cost less in 1960. In fact, most textiles and plastics will sell for less in 1960.

25. Soap and all forms of washing power will sell for less in 1960. This applies also to "wonder drugs" and other chemical products.

26. Cost of wooden homes—due to labor—will advance in price during 1960. Cement and modern machinery will displace bricklaying. Hence, there may not be much increase in the cost of building fireproof apartment houses.

27. The cost of electronic machinery should be higher because of the growing demand for automation to offset the rise in wages.

28. Steel products (especially stainless) — from the tableware used in homes to the steel used to build bridges — will be in greater demand in 1960.

29. The demand for most food products will increase during 1960. This should especially help the United Fruit Company, as bananas give the most nourishment, at the least cost, of any known food.

30. I forecast increases in rents, maintenance and taxes. But supermarkets will compete with one another and the housewife should benefit therefrom.

Florida is a good place for middle aged people to buy a home in a small city as insurance for the time when they retire. Persons buying such homes should depend upon a check from the North every month and not depend upon getting a job in Florida. Even today in Florida one person in ten is over 65 years of age.

Real Estate

31. The price of city real estate will depend upon its parking privileges. Wise municipal officials will pull down old two and three story buildings to make parking lots and municipal garages much more plentiful.

32. The above also applies to suburban real estate. I forecast that new suburban zoning laws will require houses to have vacant adjoining lots sufficient for present and future parking needs.

33. The demand for modern stores and for centrally located apartments will continue to increase during 1960.

34. I forecast that those building a "single" house for their own occupancy will also provide an apartment for rent.

35. I forecast that large commercial farms should be profitable in 1960; but many operators of small farms, not properly located for suburban growth, will sell to some adjoining farmers.

36. Small farms on well-drained land and near enough to a city for future suburban developments should be held. I forecast such farms should some day sell for triple their present price.

37. Seashore property should be held. The government can print more bonds and corporations can split and declare stock dividends to make more stocks; but only God can make seashore property.

38. I forecast that real estate taxes will increase during 1960. Wise are property owners who make their rental "Plus Annual Taxes."

39. As the Russians gradually move westward like a glacier, taking ownership of all property, wise people in Europe will sell their present property and businesses and move to the United States.

40. I forecast that revolutions in mining will continue during 1960, and you may find that you are living on a valuable iron deposit, if not on a gold mine!

Investment Outlook

41. For the first time in the 40 years that I have been preparing these Annual Outlooks, I shall not take a position on the Dow-Jones Average for 1960. I am, however, inclined to believe that the stock market in general will hold up at least until after the election. Then there may come a break, whichever party wins the election next November.

42. I forecast 1960 will be the year to buy good bonds. United States government Bonds yielding 5% are a great bargain. Anyone buying them is bound to make money. I also like all nontaxable bonds and also some taxable but convertible bonds.

43. I forecast some chemical stocks will still be a buy in 1960, although they yield little income and are good only as growth stocks.

44. There will be failures by the thousands among those companies now issuing electronic stocks. Electronics issues have become a popular fad. There is also unemployment ahead for many who are now working in electronics factories.

45. I forecast that the stocks of electric power companies, but not those of large cities, will be in greater demand in 1960.

46. Of all stocks, I forecast that United Fruit may be the most in demand in 1960.

47. I predict that only a few railroads will be popular during 1960, such as Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, and perhaps Southern Pacific and Atchison. I am bearish to Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, New Haven, and all short lines except for the Norfolk & Western, my "pet gravity road." I also fear a short railroad strike.

48. Failures will continue to increase during 1960.

49. I forecast that the huge national road-building program will give an uplift to business as it progresses.

50. There will be no marked changes in money rates during 1960. Inflation will gradually continue, but may not be serious during 1960.

The best investment policy during 1960 will continue to be a well-diversified portfolio with one-third in stocks for possible growth profits, one-third in bonds for safety and income, and one-third in cash in order to have funds available for investment in the severe and sudden drop in the stock market which will come some day.

Conclusion

The three handicaps to American business in 1960 will be increasing installment purchases, the unfair demands of labor union leaders, and President Eisenhower's physical condition. The three hopes for America are our churches, our schools, and our praying parents.

Ring in the New Year, ring out the old — but before we ring the old year out, we, the business and professional people of Thief River Falls wish to express our sincere appeciation to our friends and neighbors of the community for the many favors that have been extended to us during 1959.

Primitive people lived self-sufficient lives, supplying their simple wants as best they could. In our complex civilization we live by an exchange of services and we are dependent on each other for many of our needs. With the development of our society have come social and community responsibilities.

In a small community such as ours there is a personal relationship in many of our business and professional services, and friendship is an important factor in many of our activities. These are the considerations that take drudgery out of work and make living a happier experience.

Our Trip to Ogden, Utah

By Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson

November 18, we boarded the Union Pacific special at Fargo enroute to Butte, Mont. The afternoon of Nov. 19 before coming to Butte, the scenery was just wonderful. The sun was shining and there was snow on the mountains. It was really terrific! Sitting in one of the dome cars, we had a good view. We arrived at Ogden, Utah, the next morning where Rodney met us. Rodney and his family live on the outskirts of Ogden in Ron-Claire Village. They built a three bedroom home which they moved in to last August. They have three children: Hal, 7 years, 8 months; Patricia, 4 years, 7 months; and Ronnie, 4 months old. Rodney works at the Christensen Motor shop. While there we had the privilege of worshipping at Elim Lutheran church of which Lowell Erickson is the pastor. Ronnie was baptized there Nov. 29th and we were sponsors. We drove to Evanston, Wyo., one Sunday. One place on the mountains which will be outstanding in our memories was the Devil's Slide which extended from the top of the mountain to the bottom formed from the rock, exactly like a slide. We went to Salt Lake City and went through Mormon Temple Square. A guide took us thru with various stops, where he explained the Mormon beliefs. Words cannot express the structure of the Tabernacle. The original pews, organ, etc., still remain as they were originally built with the exception of more pipes in the organ. We also went thru the Utah State Capitol which was even more wonderful than the Mormon Tabernacle, with its spacious rooms with marble floors and walls. The guide took us into the "Gold Room" where furniture, lights, drapes and wall panels were engraved in 23-karat gold. This is the only gold room in the world. On the second floor was a museum with almost everything one could think of. On the way to Salt Lake City, there are three oil refineries and we passed a filling station that had 43 gas pumps. We enjoyed doing our Christmas shopping in some of Ogden's spacious stores, and most of all we enjoyed being with Rodney and his family. We arrived home Dec. 17.

Several pieces and one piano solo were given by visiting children. Ione Gustafson superintendent, announced the names of all those who had perfect attendance during the year. Forty one had perfect attendance. [illegible] given out by Hilma Drotts. [illegible] had 14 years perfect attendance. Hilma Drotts and Dale [illegible] Ione expressed her thanks to all who assisted in any way in the program, and to those who came out. Closing remarks were made by Pastor W. Blackwood and Rev. Norman Erickson of Stephen gave the closing prayer. Gifts and treats were passed out.

Prowler Sextet Wins Holiday Tournament

Coach Gene Sack's Prowlers won the third annual International Falls invitational hockey tournament by defeating the International Falls Broncos, 7 to 3, in the tourney finals played on the ice sheet of the Memorial rink in Fort Frances on Tuesday night. In the consolation finals, Duluth East, by a 4 to 2, score, defeated the Warroad Warriors, gaining third place in the tournament standings.

The Prowlers will begin Region Eight conference play tonight, Wednesday, when they meet the Baudette Bears at Baudette, with the face off slated for 8:00 P.M.

In first round games in the invitational tourney at International Falls on Monday night, the Prowlers, on goals by Dale Wennberg, Larry Poole, and Jim Wegge, defeated coach Glenn Rolle's Duluth East team, 3 to 1. In the second game on Monday's bill, the Broncos defeated the Warroad Warriors, 5 to 2.

In the championship tilt on Tuesday night, the Prowlers moved into a 1 to 0 lead at the 5:10 mark when Larry Poole and Wes Halvorson combined for a neat tally, with Poole pulling the trigger on the score. At the 10:00 mark, Arlan Hjelle, on an assist from the ever-hustling Eddie Holmes, banged in a shot from close range.

The teams put a high-scoring second period into the scorebook, drilling seven goals into the nets, with the Prowlers racking up four goals, and the Broncos chalking up three goals. Holmes, Pole, and Dale Wennberg accounted for the Prowlers tally, with Wennberg getting a pair. The Falls' tallies found Joe Bolsan scoring twice, Bob O'Leary getting the third goal.

In the final stanza, Hjelle completed a two-goal evening by beating goalie Bob Roeder at the 7:00 mark, with Wennberg assisting, giving the Prowlers a well-earned 7 to 3 win and possession of the Lions trophy.

Medics Point out Danger of Drinking

Drinking and Driving Don't Mix, Doctors Say

Social drinkers beware. That festive highball in the spirit of good fellowship may make you a menace behind the wheel of a motor vehicle, warns the Minnesota State Medical association.

There is no medical basis for the philosophy that a person can hold his liquor like a man and least of all when driving an automobile. Use of liquor in any amount reduces the ability of any driver. This is particularly hazardous when the holiday or social drinker is involved because often those individuals are not aware that self-control and judgment have been reduced.

Contrary to popular belief, alcohol is not a stimulant and is medically classified as a depressant or sedative.

At least three hours are required to eliminate one ounce of pure alcohol or the equivalent of two cocktails. The same amount of alcohol in the blood may reduce the drinker's visual ability to the equivalent of wearing dark glasses at night.

According to National Safety Council statistics, a drinking driver was involved in at least 30 per cent of all fatal accidents during 1957. Twenty-three per cent of the adult pedestrians killed in that same year had been drinking.

The Year's Top Event

Recalling the year's athletic events that we were privileged to witness, the game that is etched most vividly in our memory is that 31st district first round baseball tournament contest between the Crookston Pirates and the Prowlers.

The game, played here the night of June 3rd, found coach Linton Lehrer's defending champion Pirates bouncing into a 5 to 0 lead, scoring two runs in the first inning and adding three runs in the third inning, and driving the Prowlers' starting hurler, righthander Harley Drees off the mound.

And in the 6th inning, Gene Weckwerth opened the Prowler rally with a double to left field. Jerry Jorgenson and Gary Klungness were kept "alive" on errors by shortstop Jack Boyum, with Weckwerth scoring on Boyum's boot on Klungness's ground ball. Wegge fouled out to the catcher, but Lietzow's infield out, short to first, scored Jorgenson, and Klungness sped in with the tying run on Hjelle's single to left. Crookston's speed-balling righthander, Jim Turner, the starter, was replaced in the inning by the Pirates' all-round athlete, southpaw Bill Taylor.

The tension of the game increased as the two teams entered the 8th inning, an extra inning in high school play, deadlocked at 5-all. Taylor, who drew three walks during the game, led off by getting a free ticket to first base; Turner hit a ground single past shortstop, for the first hit off Hjelle since the righthander entered the game in the 3rd frame. Taylor pilfered third, and with Crookston runners on first and third and no one out, Hjelle set down Art Oliver, Bruce Gronbeck, and Bob Irwin on strikes.

It was anti-climatic for coach Ralph Skay's club to go on to win the district and regional titles.

As if the tempo of this Crookston Pirates vs. Prowlers game wasn't exciting enough for the fans, the elements entered into the spirit of the contest by providing a spectacular display of lightning, and showering the field with rain. Twice the game was halted because of rain.

The game's star, unquestionably, was Arlan Hjelle. Arlan, a slender and smooth-throwing righthander, pitched to one batter in the 3rd inning, getting a strikeout. He whiffed one batter in the 4th, two batters in each of the 5th, 6th, and 7th innings, and three batters in the 8th inning. It was his finest performance of the year.

A Word to the Wise

It's the time of the year for us to remind the area's sportsmen and the fishermen in particular, that the 1959 hunting and fishing licenses expire as of mid night on Dec. 31st.

Fishermen, especially, are forgetful about the expiration date of their angling licenses, and this forgetfulness can be costly. Game wardens are very active in scouting the ice fishing areas, and they make numerous pinches of anglers with out dated licenses with the judges usually levying a fifteen dollars and costs on the guilty fisherman.

Another Test

In their last outing, against the burly Roseau Rams at Roseau, coach Hartley Story's basketball Prowlers managed to eke out a 40 to 38 win. It was the fifth straight win for the local cagers this season, and they remain undefeated.

It was a rough and rugged contest at Roseau, and there is question whether or not the Prowlers, who are not too robust physically, being lean and lanky, can handle rought tactics around the boards. If that proves to be a weakness, you can be sure that district and regional opponents will encourage such play.

On Saturday night, on the local floor, the Prowler will meet the Ada Vikings, and the locals will be given an opportunity to test their play against a club that can match the Prowlers on height. The Vikings are an all-senior team, and they are rated as one of the favorites in district 30.

WILDLIFE in Minnesota

by JIM KIMBALL

With two teenage boys at home, no school or homework and throngs of teenage compatriots swarming over the place the Christmas season is to say the least, jolly and merry. At times it might even be called hectic but for all that, very good. The Christmas season is also a time for reminiscing and during the quiet spells when our kids are invading someone else's home, I enjoy putting myself in the place of Ebenezer Scrooge and permitting the ghosts of Jacob Marley to fly me back to Christmases passed, when little kids were gullible and Santa was so real.

At our house the old candle board comes out of storage ten days before Christmas just as it has for the past two generations at least. Ten small holes in the board hold ten small candles while in the center stands the big Christmas Eve candle. On each of the ten nights before Christmas the lights are turned out and someone tells or reads Christmas stories while a candle is burned. Mostly now we read the Christmas Carol which everyone should read at least once a year.

One of the most exciting Christmases passed was the time that I decided to outsmart old Santa by cutting the toe off my stocking and placing a large box underneath. I assured the kids that while Santa was all heart he wasn't really too smart and he would just keep pouring presents into my stocking until the big box was filled. This nefarious act was protested vigorously by the small-fry but they were assured that their dad was quite capable of outwitting that fat old rascal from the North Pole.

On Christmas morn' the house truly shook with screams of delight and "I told you so's", as Emmy and I were dragged from our beds to go and see what had happened to the stockings. Sure enough, three stockings were filled to the brim but mine hung limp. Reposed in the box below the open toe was one lonely lump of coal.

The next year I solemnly vowed get even with old man Claus for treating me so badly. With great diligence a mouse trap was placed and set in the bottom of my stocking. I was certain that when the old boy reached in with the first present the mouse trap would get him. He would drop his pack and holler "Ouch". At this point I was prepared to spring from my bed, rush out and grab the whole pack and make off with it.

Two little kids tried their best to convince me that I was again making a mistake. But their Christmas Eve concern was mere than overshadowed by their delight Christmas morning as they unloaded full Christmas stocking while I sat pondering over one red mitten held tightly in the jaws of a mouse trap.

Any child psychologist reading this article must certainly be convinced that the younger generation of Kimballs are fit for the psychiatrists couch, but possibly they are just a little better fit for the true drama of real life. Anyhow, how can even Santa be a true hero if there isn't a villain in the plot somewhere.

This story appears to have no relationship to the ordinary variety of wildlife in Minnesota so I will just wish you all good fishing and good hunting thru-out 1960.

Highway Bypass Does Not Result in Decline to Nearby Community

A highway bypassing a city does not spell economic decline to the downtown business district or seriously upset the rest of the community.

At least, there was no economic disaster when new T.H. 65 bypassed western Faribault in 1955. Instead, this four lane route primarily redirected some changes already under way in that city of 18,000.

These are conclusions given in a report on the Faribault bypass made by researchers of the department of agricultural economics and geography of the University of Minnesota who worked in cooperation with the Minnesota highway department and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

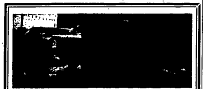
The most noticeable change resulting from the bypass was the virtual elimination of traffic congestion in the downtown area. The old highway had carried all traffic through the central business district, but the new route skirts the city's western edge and has redirected through traffic away from the business district.

The 1950 traffic survey showed that almost 6,000 vehicles flowed thru downtown Faribault each day on the old highway. By 1958, the total daily volume of traffic moving to and past Faribault was up to 7,650 vehicles per day, but only 2,700 went thru downtown Faribault because of the bypass.

Although the bypass took traffic away from the central business district it did not adversely affect business as most businessmen had feared. In fact, the report states, the start of new businesses increased somewhat after construction of the bypass.

According to the report, during the period 1950-54, 155 firms started and 136 stopped; from 1955 to 1957, when Faribault businessmen went through a period of 'wait and see' as to the economic effects of the bypass, 45 firms started and 50 stopped, which is attributable to that "wait and see" period. But the slow up of business activity was short lived, for between 1957 and 1959, 76 firms started while only 48 stopped.

From 1953 to 1955, business starts exceeded stops within the old highway band in town by 63 to 46. This trend of starts outnumbering stops was temporarily reversed from 1955 to 1957 with 36 stops and 25 starts, again primarily because of the "wait and see" attitude of businessmen when the bypass opened. Then from 1957 to this year, the earlier trend returned, with 41 business starts and 36 stops.



Along the area of the new highway band, of 10 businesses which started operations from 1950 to 1959 only three of them halted operations and they did so prior to the opening of the bypass.

The report also shows that although a notable number of firms have moved near the new highway location they have not clustered along the route, mainly because of the partially controlled access feature of the bypass. If there had been no control of access, the report says, a great many firms would certainly have shifted from downtown to locations fronting the highway, which would have caused a major change in the business patterns of Faribault rather than a redirection of changes that had been in progress prior to the bypass.

The report concluded there is no evidence that Faribault's development has been in any way impaired by the new highway. Rather, according to the report, "The new highway probably shares credit or blame for the shifts in land use patterns brought out in this study. Whether those shifts are or are not in accord with the goals of the community is for the community to answer."

The economic effects of the bypass on Faribault will be measured more thoroughly in a second report to come out soon.

Moorhead College Field House named Alex Nemzek Hall

Moorhead State college's new athletic plant will be named after a former MSC coach and athletic director—the late Alex Nemzek.

Pointing out Mr. Nemzek's generosity during his years at the college, the board said he "assisted hundreds of men students financially, was a friend and counselor to all students and faculty members, and had the respect of everyone in the community with whom he came in contact."

Besides serving on the MSC faculty for almost 18 years, Mr. Nemzek was a civic leader. He served as comander of the local American Legion post in 1926, president of the Moorhead Chamber of Commerce in 1939, mayor of the city in 1948-49, and prior to his death was a leader in raising funds for the construction of St. Ansgars hospital. Nemzek served in both World Wars I and II and ended military service as a Lieutenant Colonel.

Dedication of the new fieldhouse is expected to take place in the near future.

1960 Traffic Safety Program Is Outlined

Governor Orville L. Freeman announced a 12-month traffic safety program for Minnesota for 1960 for special emphasis activities in communities and industry.

Called "Blueprint for Safety," the official full-year program for traffic accident prevention in Minnesota provides the basic features of safety promotion for local safety councils, civic organizations and industrial safety directors.

"There are four sections in the program based on the seasons of Marvelous Minnesota," Freeman said. "In preparing the Blueprint for Safety, the safety division of the highway department has developed a kit of materials for each quarter. Each contains various promotional materials such as outlines, fact sheets, news releases, editorials, film ideas and pamphlets.

"Every person who is interested in saving his own life will find this program of great value in local traffic safety activities. I hope that everyone will make good use of the materials in Minnesota's Blueprint for Safety during the coming year."

The Governor explained that the monthly action programs are based upon principal hazards and accident causes. The four quarterly subjects and their monthly emphasis themes are:

Winter: "Winter Hazards;" December, Holiday Hazards; January, Bad Weather Driving; February, The Signs of Life.

Spring: "Signs of Spring;" March, Defensive Driving; April, Child and Bicycle Safety; May, Vehicle Safety Check.

Summer: "Slow Down and Live;" June, Speed Control; July, Vacation Driving; August, Share the Road.

Fall: "Autumn Alerts;" September, Back-to-School; October, Night Traffic Hazards; November, Pedestrian Safety.

The Minnesota Safety Council and the eight safety education officers of the Minnesota highway patrol will present the Blueprint for Safety to local organizations, police agencies and schools during the year. Further information can be secured from the Minnesota Highway Department, St. Paul 1.

State Hardware Dealers to Meet

Annual Convention in Minneapolis Jan. 11-13

Some 2,000 hardware merchants and employees from throughout the state will gather at the Leamington Hotel in Minneapolis January 11-13 for the 63rd annual convention of the Minnesota Retail Hardware association, announces Lars Mohagen of Elbow Lake, association president.

During the three-day session, they will preview new merchandise lines and take a close look at what lies ahead in the hardware business in the 1960s.

"Business volume will reach new all-time highs during the soaring sixties," predicts the head of the 1,000 member-firm retail hardware organization. "But the years ahead also present new challenges for the merchant. More than ever before, he will have to plan carefully to meet the ever-changing needs of his customers."

More than 100 manufacturers and wholesalers will display new hardware and houseware lines throughout the convention. Business sessions will start Monday morning and continue through Wednesday noon.

Happy New Year

At this season of the year we all spread good cheer by wishing each other a Happy New Year. We like the idea. It isn't expensive and it certainly does no harm. A friendly greeting and a sincere good wish may accomplish some good.

In the spirit of the season we will pass along a few observations on happiness by some of the world's great men. Maybe they will be helpful to you in securing the happiness we would so much like you to have. Here they are:

"There is no other way by which the individual can attain to his own happiness than that which leads to the common happiness of all." —Richard Cumberland.

"If thou art sound in stomach, side and feet, the riches of a king will add nothing to thy happiness." —Horace.

"I have now reigned about 50 years in victory and peace, beloved of my subjects, dreaded by my enemies, and respected by my allies. Riches and honors, power and pleasure have waited on my call, nor does any earthly blessing appear to have been wanting to my felicity. In this situation I have diligently numbered the days of pure and genuine happiness which have fallen to my lot: they amount to 14." —Abd-Er-Rahman III of Spain.

"He is happy that knoweth not himself to be otherwise." —Thomas Fuller.

"Human felicity is produced not so much by great pieces of good fortune that seldom happen, as by little advantages that occur every day." —Franklin.

They Do Guess Wrong

In a free market prices are governed by the laws of supply and demand we are told. We will accept this as being basically true. But while supply may be a known quantity, demand often is a fickle factor. That probably is why the forecasters so frequently guess wrong.

Based on what probably were fairly accurate figures on turkey production this last year the opening market was weak. Cautious buyers were afraid of an oversupply, and the market for competitive meats, pork and beef, were not strong. But bolstered by unexpected demand, the market turned strong.

Butter became scarcer a few weeks ago. The surplus had vanished and in the auction for more limited supplies the market price went up six cents a pound, much above the government support price. Just as suddenly the market fell back to the old level, not because the supply increased but because the demand decreased. Had the advance been more gradual there probably would have been less consumer resistance. The dairy industry failed to take advantage of an opportunity to establish a healthier market for this important product. If the rise had been less abrupt a higher price level probably could have been sustained.

Overproduction is recognized as the cause for present low pork prices but the consumer is responding normally. So is the producer. Department of Agriculture officials predict a smaller pig crop next spring and a stronger market next fall. Maybe this prediction will come true. But we are not sure. It is surprising how often the fellows who know all the answers guess wrong.

Automatic Pay Boosts

The cost of living inched upwards again in November, reaching a record high. Compared to the 1947-49 average, consumer prices are now 125.6 per cent. Food was the only item that did not advance.

The increase in the cost of living will bring automatic wage boosts to hundreds of thousands of workers, and these wage boosts will in turn help to push the cost of living still higher. It is a vicious circle.

We do not know what can be done about it. The escalator clause is written into many wage contracts including the pay schedule for public employees. If they cannot be outlawed they should at least be discouraged.

If inflation is bad these automatic cost-of-living pay boosts are bad too. They certainly are inflationary.

No Tax Cuts?

The statement made by Chairman Mills of the House Ways and Means committee to the effect that there will be no cut in federal taxes next year comes as no surprise. It is discouraging to learn however that once again the federal government will wind up the year with a substantial deficit.

With the federal debt well over the $290 billion mark and still growing, in a year of record prosperity, our government is in serious trouble. There is a growing lack of confidence in the American dollar and from responsible sources we get predictions that further devaluation is inevitable.

In the meantime the Senator Humphreys are continually advocating new spending programs and increased grants of aid here at home and abroad. Of course we expect that sort of thing from them but it is high time for the responsible leaders of both parties to get this government of ours back on the track and moving in the right direction.

Keep It Solvent

Social security taxes will go up to six per cent starting in January. Half of this will be paid by the employee and half will be advanced by the employer. Under the present law the rate will be increased in three-year stages and by 1969 the tax will be nine per cent.

For the employee this contribution can properly be looked upon as an insurance policy that will provide a measure of protection after retirement. For the employer this tax is like any other tax and will be treated as any other item of expense and added to the cost of whatever goods or services he sells. It is not strictly true therefore to say that the employer pays one-half. The employer merely acts as the collection agent for the government.

This social security program has much merit and will serve a good purpose providing the politicians will quit playing with it and permit it to function properly. Since 1950, however, they have increased the benefits three times, and further increases are in the mill. This program was to be administered on an actuarially sound basis and only on that basis can its operation be justified. Let's keep it solvent.

Lucky us—that more than two inches of Christmas rain would have been from 20 to 25 inches of snow.

Compromise Essential

(Neil Mattson in Warren Sheaf)

Compromise has been one of the most important ingredients in the process of self government since our country was founded.

Historically the United States would not have become the strong federal government which it did had not a great compromise been invoked. The large populated states wanted all persons elected to the congress on a population basis, to which the small states would not agree. As a method of keeping both happy and providing fair representation for all types of problems, each state, regardless of size, was permitted two senators and the states were apportioned membership to the house in proportion to their population.

A system which works so well in our federal government should certainly provide as an effective government for our state.

Certainly some of the problems which arise in Minnesota should not be decided by a majority group from the Twin Cities when the problems are of geographic nature. Outstate problems, such as roads, higher education, secondary education, recreational areas, water resources, agricultural problems, could well receive a minimum amount of support if the legislative balance of strength were held by the metropolitan areas of our state in both houses.

Hence, it seems to me, there's need for support of Amendment 2 on the ballot next year. This amendment will not freeze senatorial districts as they are, but will provide the best plan we can achieve at present to have the senate elected mostly on an area basis. It would give some assurance to having problems which by their nature affect sparsely settled parts of the state to have their "day in court."

Governor Freeman at first indicated his support for this amendment but did a flip-flop when metropolitan labor elements whispered in his ear it was unacceptable to them. And why? Well, because it would make it more difficult for them to take over control of this body of our government. They are not satisfied to have control of two bodies—the house and the governorship. They don't like the checks put on them by the senate.

Compromise and our age-old system of checks and balances will make our government ever more stable if we support Amendment 2. It will assure the vast rural areas of fair voice in our government as the rural population shrinks and the metropolitan centers enlarge. But more than anything else support of the amendment will be support of good government — not dominated by any one group — which will continue to compromise for the good of all.

Training For Diplomats

(John Weber in Murray County Herald)

Senator Stuart Symington, Missouri Democrat, has suggested that a Foreign Service Academy be formed by the United States.

This is one field in which the government could really do future generations a favor by spending some money. America is noted for winning wars and losing the peace — primarily because of our lack of numbers in the field of skilled diplomacy.

We have schools for winning wars all over the country — but nothing to make the peaceful periods between wars a little longer.

Don't Be Too Critical

(W. E. Barnes in Sleepy Eye Herald Dispatch)

Don't be too critical if son or daughter doesn't come home with a report card filled with A's. "We can't expect tests to measure all of a child's characteristics — some qualities, such as creativity, persistence, honesty and idealism, are almost impossible to isolate and measure," says Wayne Wrightstone, director of education research for New York state.

History backs up the director's statement. Thomas Edison was not an A student. Many others who have contributed much to the world didn't rank at the head of their class. Intellectual brilliance should be highly regarded, but without persistence, honesty and a measure of idealism, its possessor may go through life selfishly, contributing little or nothing to others, failing even to achieve happiness.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

"What has 24 feet, green eyes and a pink body with purple stripes?"

"I don't know. What?"

"I don't know either, but you had better pick it off your neck." —The Railway Clerk.

An American tourist was proudly telling of the achievements of his country.

"Why," he said, "out in the States I can board a train in Texas, travel 12 hours, and still be in Texas."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	90	1-2
Monday	Psalms	77	13-14
Tuesday	Philippians	2	12-13
Wednesday	John	15	10-13
Thursday	Psalms	1	1-3
Friday	Ephesians	6	1-3
Saturday	Romans	8	24-39

Come January first, you're going to get a present . . . a glorious present of 365 bright, uncluttered days.

What you do with them is largely up to you. Each day of the year is now a blank page in the notebook of your life — and only you can fill it.

Don't clutter up the first page by making a lot of useless resolutions. Instead — spend that time by going to church.

Turn to God the first day of the year, and stay with Him. Put your faith in Him, and in His church. With His help, you can make this year the finest one you've ever lived.

1959 Weather Is Given in Summary

Minn Historical Society Historical Building Zone 1

The year 1959 is now histor[y] and residents of the northwe[st] Minnesota area will probably re[member] it as 365¼ days o[f] extremes.

Many people remember events and periods not from the general overall picture but from their high and low points. The past year will thus probably be easily recalled in the future.

Using temperatures as the basis of recall, 1959's high and low points were in January and June. The last two days in January and the first day of February the mercury took a nosedive with daytime temperatures ranging from —7 to —15 degrees and night time temperatures plummeting to lows of —28 to —39. The latter reading, the low for the year, was recorded the night of Jan. 31.

On the warmer side of the picture, the contest by the First Federal Savings and Loan association to guess the first time the temperature would reach 95 came to a sudden conclusion June 6 when the firm's new time-temperature sign reached that mark. KTRF registered a 92 that day and a 93 the next day.

From the standpoint of precipitation, 1959 was a wet year. During an average year, 22 inches of rain and snow fall in this area. The past year, 19.38 inches of snow was recorded and 20.02 inches of rain—approximately 22 inches of water compared to 23.11 inches in 1958.

Looking over 1959, here is a month-by-month summary of the weather taken from the pages of the Times:

January—The period from the 6th to the 14th was a lifesaver for without it the average temperatures, cold as they were, would have been much colder. Temperatures the first part of the month were as high as 30 and a comparatively balmy 18 was recorded the night of the 11th. This was about as much good as can be said for the month which had an average high of 3.1 and an average low of —11.5. During the month, there were four nights and 17 days when the mercury never got above zero. Adding insult to injury, the month bowed out on the last two days with two of the year's coldest nights. Total precipitation for the month was 3 inches of snow.

February—Temperatures during the period ranged from 39 below the first night of the month to 35 above during the daylight hours of the 27th. No one was very happy with February although it was warmer than the preceding month. The average high was 13.25 and the average low was —8.98. Six inches of snow fell in the 28 days. The "warmup" started Feb. 20 and no below-zero readings were

This is the first in a series of four articles covering the Pennington county extension service annual reports.

The annual report filed by the Pennington county extension service reveals many farmer families and agriculture programs dere-aided during the year. The extension year ends October 1.

The agents made a total of 783 farm visits, handled 3508 office calls, answered 1294 telephone calls, wrote 283 "news" articles, and prepared 65 radio programs. 3488 bulletins on agricultural and homemaking topics were picked up at the office. Five demonstration plots were carried out by the agricultural agent in the field. They covered fertilizer studies, soybean plots and rodent control.

A high level of participation was also registered at programs, meetings, and 4-H club work. Owners of Mobile Homes Required to Register by Jan. 11

Law Calls for Payment of Property Taxes in Addition to License Fee

Residents of mobile homes (house trailers) were reminded today by Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy license registrar, of the requirements of a new law Chapter 562, passed by the 1959 legislature, which took effect January 1.

All mobile homes must be registered on or before January 11, 1960 with the secretary of state. The registration fee is $3.25 plus a personal property tax based on a percentage of the factory retail-list-price and the average mill rate of taxes of all counties throughout the state levied for all purposes and paid during the preceding year. A registration plate and certificate will be issued for each registration.

This law applies to all mobile homes even though not moved during the year. An important feature of the new law provides for the apportionment of the property tax to divisions of local government. 50 per cent will be returned to the school district in which the home is parked, 30 per cent to the municipality and 10 per cent to the county and 10 per cent is retained by the state. The apportionment will be made twice each year.

Deputy registrars of motor vehicles are equipped to handle the registrations and have plates on hand. Application may also be made at the central office in the new Highway Building in St Paul.

If application is delayed beyond January 11, a penalty of 3 per cent of the property tax must be paid.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Says Some Farmers Are Losing Their Credits

A representative from the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security Administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, January 5, at 10 a.m. He will answer questions about social security and accept claims for benefits.

Some farmers are losing social security credit by not reporting their earnings, according to Walter D. Kistler, district manager of the Grand Forks office. This may mean loss of benefits to a farmer's survivors if he dies or loss of his own retirement benefits.

Any farmer who has a profit of $400 or more in a year is required to file a tax return and pay social security taxes. This return must be filed even though the farmer has no income tax to pay. Even if a farmer does not have a $400 profit but has a gross farm income of $600 or more, he can elect to report his farm income for social security purposes.

Farmers who have neglected to report earnings for social security credit may still do so for 1956 or any later years. Mr. Kistler stated that any farmer who wants to report earnings from self-employment should contact the local social security office or internal revenue office for advice.

Goodridge Youth Fails in Effort to Save Moose's Life

Larry Christianson, 18, of Goodridge Thursday lost a 28-day struggle to save a wounded cow moose. Herbert H. Dill, manager of the Mud Lake national wildlife refuge, reported that refuge personnel were notified. After examining the animal, it was destroyed. Arrangements have been made with the Minnesota Museum of Natural History to receive the moose.

Christianson found the moose December 2nd. For the next 28 days he carried food and water to the animal. He noted that it ate only brush and snow; alfalfa hay and other feed was refused. For a time, it seemed that it would recover, but it failed rapidly the last week.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Christianson.

At the refuge the moose was skinned. The skeleton was carefully removed. It will be sent to the Museum where it will be mounted for exhibition.

Dill stated that the examination revealed a wound in the back, and a 12-gauge rifle slug was removed from the carcass. He commented, "Christianson is certainly to be commended for his tremendous effort to save the stricken animal. Such promiscuous shooting as indicated by the nature of the wound is deplorable."

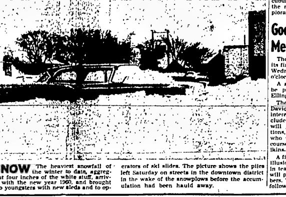
Farm-stored Grain under CCC Loan to Be Inspected Soon

P. W. Culkins Reports Inspection to Be Made During Current Month



Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington County ASC office, announced today all 1957, 1958 and 1959 farm-stored grain under loan to CCC would be inspected during the month of January, starting on the 11th. Culkins said that this inspection was requested by CCC officials to determine the condition of all commodities under loan to the government and to determine if conversion of loan grain has been made by any borrowers.

He stated further that under the terms and conditions stipulated in the note and mortgage documents that the removal of any grain under loan for any purpose whatsoever without permission from the county ASC office would be considered an act by the producer to defraud the United States government and would necessitate calling of the balance of the grain under loan immediately.

Settlement for all grain falling into this category will be made in accordance with the market price of the commodity and any storage payment earned by the producer will be denied.

Culkins pointed out that as of today the storage payment on reseal could be redeemed for approximately 47 cents per bushel and 1958 oats under reseal could be redeemed for approximately 46 cents per bushel.

All producers who intend to dispose of any of their 1959 loan grain or 1957 and 1958 resealed commodities are requested to call at the County ASC office to secure the proper removal documents prior to the time any of the commodities are removed from their bins.

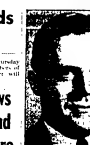
Winter Shows Building Fund Drive Set Here

Preliminary Plans Made at Meeting in City Last Thursday

Preliminary plans were drawn up for the Pennington county section of the Red River Valley Winter Shows building fund drive at a meeting Thursday, Dec. 31, in the courthouse meeting room.

Twenty workers from Pennington county, two guests from Marshall county and two representatives from Thief River Falls, Robert Lund and Stuart McLeod, attended the meeting as well as William Strickler of Euclid, general chairman of the building fund drive for the 11 northwest Minnesota counties.

Andrew Skaar and James Engelstad have been in charge of setting plans for the drive which will get underway soon after the kickoff meeting which has been scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 19, at 1:30 p.m. The location of the meeting will be announced later.



The drive is to raise $100,000 to provide a building to replace the present inadequate facilities now being used. Lack of parking space, crowded conditions for those attending the show, fire hazards, inconvenient and improper housing for livestock, lack of space for 4-H club and FFA activities, no place for women's programs and no space for adequate machinery displays have been listed as the reasons for replacing the Winter Shows buildings with a new structure.

The site selected for the new building is on the Northwest school property near the junction of Highways 2 and 75.

The drive will be to obtain pledges from farmers and men in business and industry who depend on the welfare of agriculture in the area.

Humphrey, Kennedy Formally Announce Their Candidacies

After having campaigned energetically for the past six months or more, U. S. Senators Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and John Kennedy of Massachusetts surprised no one when they announced during the past week their candidacies for the Democratic nomination for president.

Humphrey announced last Wednesday at a news conference in Washington that his name will be entered in presidential primaries in Wisconsin and other states. He indicated that he will campaign primarily on foreign policy and national security issues.

Kennedy, in making known his candidacy Saturday stated that he would not accept the vice presidential nomination under any circumstances. He is the leader in public opinion polls.

A trio of other major potential contenders for the nomination—Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri — are expected to continue for sometime to play it cozy.

THE ROLLING YEARS LEAVE LIGHT TRACKS

They like their local newspaper (incidentally, who doesn't): Mrs. Wm. Kettelhodt recently renewed her annual subscription to the Princeton Union for the 50th time; Mrs. Esther Soder, Dassel Dispatch reader 54 years; T. O. Rye, Blooming Prairie Times, 60 years; J. G. Johnson and William Ehlers, Marshall Daily Messenger and its weekly predecessors, each 75 years. . . . The Paulson general store, Sacred Heart, has been in the same family nearly 81 years; any Minnesota firms under the same name any longer? Garret Wubbels and Mrs. Senia Sikkink, Greenleafton, are twins nearing their 85th birthday; Mrs. Nels Bergquist, Stillwater, and Mrs. Andrew Carlson, St. Paul, 90 years old Nov. 8, are followed closely in their claim to the title of Minnesota's oldest twins, by Mrs. Carrie Mulholland and Mrs. Clarrie Smith, near Rochester, 90 December 18. . . . And champion of 'em all is "Wide Awake Sophie," Sleepy Eye's 80-year-old stern-visaged and soft-hearted deputy police matron, Mrs. Hans Syverson, a great-grandmother.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—My Korean GI term insurance lapsed two months ago and I understand I can reinstate it now as long as I make two monthly premium payments and am in good health. What kind of evidence of my good health does VA require?

A—You must submit a signed statement which contains enough information to show you are in as good health as you were on the date of lapse of your insurance. VA provides a special form for this purpose if you wish to use it.

Q—Is a veteran with a service-connected disability rated 30% entitled to extra money from the VA because of dependents?

A—No. The law does not authorize payments for dependents of veterans whose service-connected disabilities are found to be less than 50% in degree.

Q—If a child eligible for training under the War Orphans Education program needs special restorative training I understand he can get it. Does this include medical care?

A—No. It includes special courses — such as Braille reading, language retraining and the like — designed to help a person overcome his handicap so he can eventually take regular training at school, but does not include medical care as such.

Q—How much longer does a World War II veteran have in which to get a GI home loan?

A—World War II veterans have until July 25, 1960, to apply for a GI loan. The law allows up to a year after that to complete the deal.

$32,000,000 Was Paid Idle Workers in 1959

Benefits paid unemployed workers in Minnesota during 1959 under the Minnesota Employment Security law were down 33 per cent from 1958, according to estimates released today by Frank T. Starkey, commissioner, Minnesota department of employment security. The total paid during 1959 was estimated at $32,000,000, Starkey indicated, compared to the record $18,095,933 received by the unemployed during the recession year of 1958.

"The 33 per cent decrease in benefits paid the past year, was due, of course, to Minnesota's recovery from the economic slump which hit the durable goods manufacturing, transportation, and metal mining industries so severely," Starkey said.

During 1959, Starkey pointed out, the job situation improved considerably over the year previous, with unemployment, at an estimated 75,000, cut 24 per cent, or 14,000 from the '58 total of 99,000; and employment rising from 896,200 in 1958 to an estimated 909,600 in 1959, a gain of roughly 13,400, or 1.5 per cent.

A gain was noted also in the job finding activities of the Minnesota state employment service, Starkey reported. "During 1959, we found people for an estimated 173,000 jobs, a gain of some 10,000 jobs over 1958. This was encouraging in view of the fact that many Minnesota industries cut back on hiring during the steel dispute."

Economic recovery was reflected for 1959, Starkey's report indicated. The number of claimants who exhausted their benefits during 1959 was estimated at 22,200, more than 11,000 below the year previous. Weeks of compensated unemployment totaled 1,125,240 in 1959, compared to 1,662,689 in 1958. The average weekly payment, estimated at $27.60, was down $1.33 over the year; and the number of unemployed workers drawing benefits for one or more weeks of unemployment was expected to total 95,000, compared to 125,643 in 1958.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare University of Minnesota

Toys and Make-believe

Have you noticed recently that some children's toys seem to be very plain-looking. Animals carved out of hardwood, very smooth, but with no color or painted details like mouth and eyes and ears, and no moving parts! Or have you seen the train set which consists of wooden snap-together track, and plain wooden cars which hook together in a very simple way, but which is poorly proportioned and out of scale, with hardly any detail and must be pushed around the track by hand. Why do these toys have such remarkable appeal? Mainly because they permit and encourage imaginative use by children.

Young children do not require very detailed toys. To a certain extent they are frustrated by them. Or they are likely to use them in a way which frustrates the parents who purchased them. We all know what happens when father brings home the first electric train for his three-year-old son. Father has a great time, but gradually he learns that junior is most interested in taking the track apart and putting it together again, or pushing the train around by hand. He just isn't satisfied to sit around and watch the train "do things;" he wants to be doing things instead. Since what he wants to do and can do will wear out a good, detailed train set in a hurry, the thing is usually put away "till he gets older."

Children's vivid imagination fills in the details of their play readily. Plain blocks of various sizes can become all sorts of things including people and animals. A large cardboard box becomes a beautiful play house, as does a card table with a blanket over it. Realism is not important to youngsters who are, after all, from the adult point of view quite unrealistic. Hobbies and recreations which emphasize modeling skill and exact duplication of the adult world are a part of the older child's life, but we would not expect this of youngsters much under 10. This is the reason why some toys are looking much more plain, and why sometimes the boxes and wrappings are played with more than the toy.

Send to the Institute of Child Development and Welfare, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 14, for leaflet No. 3, "Play Equipment for Young Children" for more ideas.

December Was Month of Pleasant Weather

December will probably be remembered as one of the better winter months in the northwestern Minnesota.

Its sharp contrast to December 1958 when below zero readings were recorded many days and nights, temperatures ranging from the 30's to the 50's during the past month only one was recorded, and the coldest temperature for the month was 3 degrees above zero.

Another contrast to December 1958 was the small amount of snowfall, only 3.5 inches during the past month as compared to 41.7 inches of snow that fell during the month a year ago.

Precipitation during the month was only .67 inch as compared to 1.83 inches for December 1958.

The month began with cloudy skies and balmy temperatures that interrupted only by the month's daytime low of 15 which was recorded the 5th. The month's high of 38 was set the 13th.

From the night of December 17 to the 27th, winter reared a brief visit to the area with a vengeance ushering in the 10th and a the following evening. 40 et 8 Here Acts on Legion's Order

To Surrender Charter If Conditions Aren't Met

The Thief River Falls unit, No. 727, of the 40 et 8, at its meeting last Tuesday evening discussed the recent edict of the national commander of the American Legion, ordering the 40 et 8 to meet the requirements of the Legion's name and emblem because of certain declarations contained in the 40 et 8 national charter.

Following the discussion, the local voting took a resolution affirming that its members are Legionnaires first and members of the 40 et 8 second.

It was further resolved to urge the national 40 et 8 organization to comply with the Legion's order within Legion requirements. If this is not done at the next national convention and if the Legion national commander's order is still in effect, the resolution states, Unit 727 shall surrender its charter.

Summary Given of 1959 Weather in Community

March—This month was similar to January in many ways. The warmest temperature was 53 and the coldest a —11. Only .07 inch of rain fell during the entire month and that was registered on the 31st. Quoting from the March summary, "The area was in the grip of a severe drought and snowcutting after snowcutting in the country had during this period." Below zero readings were reported six nights during the month but the mercury got above the freezing mark only 15 nights.

April—Only .39 inch of moisture was recorded during the month but this was "normal." The temperatures ranged from a high of 72 during the daylight hours of the 14th to a low of 20 the nights of the 10th and 11th. The average was in the 40's for the month and made streets slippery during daylight hours. Snow flurries were reported three days during the first half of the month.

May—The average was a wet month, 3.83 inches of rain and a trace of snow. A month of extremes it was, too, with quite a few days of 90 degrees or above and quite a few days at or below the freezing mark. Two dusty periods during the month, one with gusts of up to 55 miles an hour. Quoting from the summary, "North Dakota topped the warmest day with the 25th when 97 was recorded and the coldest nights were on those of the 13th and 14th when 34 was reported. The monthly average high was 82.3 and the average low 53.2.

June—The warmest and wettest June of the year was recorded during this period with over 20 inches reported by KTRF and 16 was recorded by the Thief River Falls time-temperature clock on the Northern States Power building. Only 2.06 inches fell at the airport. Twelve days of 90 degrees or more during the month as the lows, June-ness warmer than in 1958 but the rainfall was less. Only 2.00 inches fell although the average was 3.83 inches. Of the 30 days the month's average high was 75.2 and the average low 53.2.

July—Although the month's average high was only 79.2, residents will remember July as a hot, dry month. Records show that during eight days the mercury hit the 80s 10 of the 31 days. Evening readings were more comfortable and, coupled with cool breezes, made sleeping comfortable. The dry period hit the last of June and the first of July. Crops suffered and the lumby barley crop was cut of the ridges late in the month and was destroyed by the end of the period. Total rainfall for July was 4.5 inches. Average high for the month was 79.7 and average low 53.2.

August—This was a month of heat and humidity, hail, high winds and much rain in certain areas to some sections of the state which were declared drouth stricken areas. Five times as much rain fell in the Thief River Falls area the same period in 1958 as the total of 5.02 inches of rain was recorded. Heavy dew kept farmers out of their fields until late in the mornings. Heavy hail storms and wind crops in some northwest Minnesota areas. Quoting from the summary, "The Hallock area where 86 to 100% of some of the best crops in the Hallock area was hit and grain was flattened. Many days sizzled harvesting. The month's average high was 84.4 and the average low was 54.6.

September — The "defrosting" period for northwest Minnesota farmers came to an end for another year and the first below freezing temperature of the season was recorded the 15th. The month's warmest day, when 85 was recorded, was on the 8th and the coldest temperature for the month was 28 that night of the 15th. The average high for the month was 68.7 and the average low 44.7. Total rainfall for the month was .774.

October — The warmest month of the past year was much cooler than September with a 79 as the warmest day recorded. Starting with sunny days and temperatures in the high 60's and low 70's, the weather changed abruptly on the 10th and 11th when cold, gray days were recorded. The warmest reading during the period was 48 and the coldest night had a temperature of 12. Total precipitation for October included 1.83 inches of rain and .3 inches of snow. The month's high was 62.26 and the average was 39.9.

November — Northwest Minnesota missed the blizzards which hit the area during the early part of the month but the mercury got down to 10 degrees above zero the night of Nov. 13. A total of 3.5 inches of snow was recorded during the month during six days of the month. Precipitation totaled .67 inch and .7 inches the following day.

December — Cold and heavy snow asked for a nicer December than the area had last year. Subzero temperatures and sunny skies were the rule for the first half of the days and there were many who thought that the "defrosting" period would be a repeat of last year which is normally the case. The only below zero reading during the entire month was the —3 reported the night of the 18th and the coldest temperatures were generally in the 20's during the first half of the month ending the 20 on the 13th. The coldest day was the 5th when 15 was reported. Precipitation was confined to the 22nd and the four days from the 24th to the 27th when 23 inches of rain fell melting the snow and flooding streets and filling the ditches. The area remained fairly hunky, however, for a storm system which moved from the Texas Mexico and Oklahoma swung through the area the night of the 27th and the last day of 1959 dawned with bright skies and a cold wind which continued to blow. Snow measured .3 inches.

Coach Bill Brady's rangy and veteran Ada Vikings of district 30 snapped the Prowlers' five-game winning streak on Saturday night as they recorded a 43 to 35 win over the locals in a basketball game played here. The Prowlers will continue their district 30 competition this week as they travel to Bagley for a game against the Flyers on Friday night, Jan. 8; and on Saturday night the Fosston Greyhounds will invade the local court for a game against the Prowlers.

Saturday night's low-scoring game was played on even terms during the first half, with the score knotted at 7-all at the end of the first period, and at 20 to 20 at the half-time intermission.

The Prowlers, on a field goal and a free throw by Ron Hanson, gained a 23 to 20 lead as the third period opened, but the Vikings, on a pair of free throws by John Blasey and a field goal by Craig Bowyer moved ahead, 24 to 23, with 5:20 of the period to play, and from then on the Vikings had control of the game, leading by a 32 to 27 when the period ended.

Forward DuWayne Stadum showing uncanny accuracy from the corners, dropped in four field goals in the fourth period as the Vikings rolled up a 43 to 30 lead with less than two minutes of play remaining. In the final minutes, the Prowlers, on a field goal by Don Ulferts and a pair of field goals by Hanson, pared the Ada lead to 43 to 35.

In addition to their sharpshooting from the corners, the Ada squad revealed sturdiness in covering rebounds, being particularly effective in clearing their defensive board. The Prowlers played creditably off their defensive backboard, with Ron Hanson picking off the rebounds, but the offensive backboard play found the Prowlers out of position as the burly Ada backcourt trio — Craig Bowyer, John Blasey, and DuWayne Stadum — proving very strong.

Emerson Sextet Edges Thieves in Game Sunday 10-9

Locals Lose in Overtime Period at 8:52 Mark; to Play Crookston Sunday

Tom Forrest's "sudden death" goal at the 8:52 mark of the overtime period, on a face off play to the left of the net in the Thieves' zone, gave the Emerson Canadians a 10 to 9 win over the locals in a senior hockey game played at the Arena on Sunday afternoon.

The Thieves will meet the Crookston Pirates in a league encounter here next Sunday afternoon, with the face-off slated for 2:30 P.M.

The two teams engaged in high scoring hockey during the first two periods of Sunday's tilt, with the Thieves holding a 6 to 3 edge after the opening twenty minutes of play, and Emerson, on a five-goal effort, gaining an 8 to 7 lead at the end of the second period.

Ken Wellen, the former Roseau and University of Minnesota player, and now the coach of the Hallock high school team, scored four goals for the visitors, as did left wing Don Gray. Wellen turned in the game's most spectacular play when, at the 11:31 mark of the first period, he came out around his net and stick-handled through the Thieves' defense and skated in on goalie Rod Collins and scored from close in.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Slop Shots

Joey Poole, a member of coach Bob May's Minneapolis Millers of the International Hockey league spent several days here during Christmas week, visiting with his parents, the Elmer Pooles.

Joey, who was an all state tournament performer with the Prowlers of 1954 and 1955, and later a star with the North Dakota Sioux, is in his first year as a hockey professional. While he agrees that the experience that he gains with the pro's is of value, he states that he is not enchanted with professional hockey as a career. Joe has a semester of study remaining before he gets his college degree, and he is resolved to get his degree. It's a wise decision.

Marv Jorde, a team-mate of Joey's on the 1954 Prowler state champions, and also an all state selection, was a Christmas visitor, too. Marv, who graduated from the University of Minnesota, and he was a three-year letterman in hockey for the Gophers, in playing hockey with the Minneapolis club of the Central league. Marv is doing substitute teaching in the St. Paul schools.

Derwood Lund, a Prowler hockey co-captain, with Ralph Engelstad, during the 1947-48 season, and later wingman for the North Dakota Sioux, is teaching physical education in the Brandon, Manitoba, high school. Derwood, or Swede as he is more familiarly known to the sports fans here, is also coaching varsity basketball. He admits that it is difficult to develop a strong cage team up there as the youngsters are too hockey-minded. And the boys that do like basketball haven't had enough training in the lower grades to master the fundamentals.

Swede has been in attendance at a number of the junior hockey games up there, being a partisan of the Brandon Wheat Kings club, a real strong squad. He had occasion, too, to renew acquaintances with big Bill Juzda when the St. Boniface Canadiens came to Brandon for a junior game. Juzda is coaching the St. Boniface juniors.

Jim Stordahl, center on the Roseau state champions of 1958 and 1959, is attending the University of Minnesota and playing freshman hockey. Jim is playing with Len Lilyholm of Robbinsdale and Jay Beazley of Coleraine as line-mates. Dale Olson, a stellar defenseman with the Rams the past three years, is also attending the University and playing Gopher frosh hockey.

That winning road-trip that the Prowler hockey team engaged in last week proved costly to center Dale Wennberg, for the all-star center had his hockey jacket stolen while in International Falls.

The Warroad Lakers of the OMHL league will play the Denver U team a two-game hockey series at Denver on Jan. 8 and 9. The Lakers have chartered a DC-3 from Purdue University, and the plane will pick up the Warroad club here.

Continued Interest

Over the years, the 40 & 8 have been a vital factor in the development and promotion of hockey here, particularly in junior hockey. We can recall that in 1945 the 40 & 8's junior hockey team, the Hornets, was transferred to the high school, coach Connie Stanbridge and all, in order that the Prowlers would have a representative in the first state high school league hockey tournament. The team turned in a first-rate performance, losing by a 4 to 3 score to Eveleth in the finals and placing Bob Baker, Jim Doyle, and Wes Hovie on the all-state tournament squad. Baker and Doyle were at defense, and Hovie at a wing.

In those days the all state tournament squad was limited to eight men, and in addition to Baker, Doyle, and Hovie the other selections were center Pat Finnegan, wing Neil Celley, wing Wally Grant, and defenseman Clem Cossalter all of Eveleth, and goalie Jack Okoneski of St. Paul Washington.

That the 40 & 8 continues to have an interest in local hockey promotion is evidenced by the pair of hockey goals they have installed at the rink at the power house. The group commissioned Carl Wennberg to manufacture the frames and obtain bag nets for the goals. The goals were installed at the rink last week, and they are strictly big league.

And we must mention that the V.F.W., too, is a factor in the promotion of hockey. The Vets have put their efforts to good effect in the development of midget hockey, providing the boys with uniforms, capable coaches, and transportation.

Prowler Sextet Trims Baudette

Coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers concluded a strenuous three game road trip on Wednesday night when, on the Baudette ice, they defeated coach John Tingstad's Baudette Bears, 7 to 3. The win opened Region Eight conference play for the Prowlers. On Tuesday, Jan. 5, the Prowler 'A' and 'B' squads will travel to Hallock for a pair of games. The Prowler varsity will meet coach Ken Wellen's Hallock Bears in a Region Eight conference tilt.

Playing at Baudette on Wednesday night, the Prowlers, on first period goals by Eddie Holmes and Larry Poole moved into a 2 to 0 lead. Just before the period's end, Baudette's Van Stanley, on a blue-line shot, scored for the Bears to peel the locals' lead to one goal.

Two quick goals by Dale Wennberg, with Arlan Hjelle and Holmes on the assists, boosted the Prowlers into a 4 to 1 lead in the second period. And in the third period, Holmes, Wennberg, and Poole added Prowler tallies to build up the lead to 7 to 1. Stanley and Jeff Hanson marked up Baudette goals to close out the game's scoring, with the Prowlers winning by a 7 to 3 margin.

The Prowlers were without the services of defenseman Archie Schneider in the game. Schneider, in the Prowlers winning effort against International Falls on the previous night, was hit in the head by the puck as he smothered a shot. The effects of that blow caused Archie to suffer a severe headache and blurred vision, and an International Falls doctor who examined Schneider advised coach Sack to keep the defenseman out of action for several days.

Prowlers Only Two Points Ahead as 4th Period Began

Harvey Ebbighausen, Wayne Bjerken, and Elton Hornseth led the Prowlers in a 22-point fourth period scoring rally to give coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team a 58 to 45 win over the Ada 'B' team in a preliminary game played here Saturday night.

Entering the final period the Prowlers held a two-point lead, 36 to 34. The Ada 'B' team, playing aggressive ball, and with freshman forward Herb Haaz scoring effectively, kept within reach of the locals until the fourth quarter.

Red Lake Co. Pair Charged in Theft of Valuable Skis

To Face Larceny Charge in Crookston Municipal Court Today, Monday

Two grateful Grand Forks men continued on a ski trip to Michigan following fast return of their stolen skis Wednesday evening, reports the Crookston Times.

Neil C. McDonald and Patrick J. Sullivan of Grand Forks stopped at Moran's Cafe, Erskine, for lunch early Wednesday evening. Their skis, one pair valued at $300, were on top of their car.

When they emerged from the cafe to find the skis missing, Polk county Sheriff Carl Knutson was notified and law enforcement officers went into action. Road blocks were set up and radio broadcasts of a partial description of a car, seen leaving Erskine with skis sticking from the trunk, were made.

In the meantime, cafe employes remembered that two men were seen leaving the cafe shortly before the theft was discovered. One of them had cashed a check on a Red Lake county bank.

Sheriff Gerald Hinze, Red Lake county sheriff, was called and asked to contact the man. He picked up John Fladeland at his farm home but the skis were not found and Fladeland denied any part in the theft.

However, when they heard the radio broadcasts, Fladeland, frightened, admitted the theft and implicated Robert Malwitz, also of rural Red Lake county. They showed Sheriff Hinze where the skis were hidden in a culvert.

Fladeland and Malwitz were brought to the Polk county jail. They appeared before Judge John R. Kelly and were released on their own recognizance to appear today in Crookston municipal court on a larceny charge.

Feb. 7 to 13 Children's Dental Health Week

(February 7 through 13 is the 12th annual National Children's Dental Health Week. As part of the observance, the Times, in cooperation with the Minnesota Dental assn., today begins a series of articles on dental health.)

There is enough information today about tooth decay to justify the statement that no child should ever lose a tooth from decay.

This assertion by a prominent dental educator indicates the degree of progress that has been made in conquering the most prevalent dental disease.

Although man's basic interest in his teeth and their care dates back centuries, scientific knowledge on the subject of teeth has been sparse until fairly modern times.

Today, the great body of dental knowledge has brought us to a point where it appears that tooth decay may lose its reputation as the most widespread malady.

This is encouraging information for parents and their children, for tooth decay has long been a major problem of youth. Furthermore, as many as 97 per cent of Americans are believed to be affected at some time during their lives by tooth decay.

It is highly unlikely that the problem ever will be completely eliminated. However, continuing scientific research into the causes as well as application of the principles of proper dental care undoubtedly will bring about a sharp reduction in dental decay.

One of the principal achievements of dental research—discovery of the benefits derived from adding fluorine to community water supplies—is helping to prevent decay in the teeth of thousands of American children.

If a child's teeth receive proper care up to the age of 15, a strong foundation is laid for minimizing dental troubles in later years.

Parents can best lay such a foundation by imparting the principles of proper dental care to their children as soon as possible. Such a program of education should include:

—Emphasis on the importance of nutritious foods and restriction of sweets.

—Necessity for regular, periodic visits to the dentist.

A person's teeth today should last a lifetime. The best approach to assuring a child of healthy teeth throughout life is to start an early program of education.

Proper Feeding of 4-H Beef Calves Is Outlined by Agent

Extension Workers Say Calves Should Reach Full Feed of Grain Gradually

4-H beef project animals should be started on grain feed now to insure a good finish by county fair time, says County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

But calves should be brought to a full feed of grain gradually, according to Robert Jacobs, extension animal husbandryman at the University of Minnesota.

Within two weeks after putting the calf on grain feed, the daily ration should include 1½ to 2 pounds of protein supplement, 2 pounds of oats, 3 pounds legume or legume-grass hay plus a start on the chief fattening feed such as ground or rolled barley or cracked, shelled corn.

As the calf comes up to full feed, increase his grain by adding one-half pound every day. The daily allowance should keep him eating grain about an hour twice each day. Under this plan the protein supplement, whole oats and hay allowance remains the same throughout the entire feeding period and only the fattening feed — corn or barley — increases.

Use about 1½ pounds of 40-45 per cent protein supplement per calf daily. Up to 2 pounds of 32-36 per cent protein supplement can be fed daily.

Feed beef steer calves stilbestrol only if there is some doubt that the calf will not be large enough by show time, Jacobs suggests. Stilbestrol increases growth by about 15 per cent. There will be no adverse effects or carcass grade depression if no more than 5-10 milligrams are fed with the protein supplement to heifers to be added to the cow herd.

Heifers for the 4-H beef heifer project need to carry a good amount of condition for strong show ring records. However, they should not be finished to the same degree as prime 4-H steers, according to Jacobs.

Hog Picture May Brighten in 1960

Reports Indicate Fewer Sows to Farrow in Spring

If hog farmers stick to what they've been saying recently, they may get higher prices in 1960 than the did in 1959.

Kenneth Egertson, extension livestock marketing specialist at the University of Minnesota, points out that according to a survey of U. S. farmers' intentions, about 7.3 million sows will farrow next spring.

That's a decrease of 12 per cent from the 1959 spring pig crop. It would mean 52 million little pigs, about the same as 1958.

Apparently, Egertson says, hog men to some extent have heeded economists' warnings. Outlook experts working intensively among farmers in the past several months have said prices would drop unless there is a reduction in spring farrowing.

Egertson emphasizes, however, that these estimate are based on intentions—not actual supplies. It is still possible that a change that great will not occur next spring.

For the first half of the new year, Egertson says hog slaughter will continue above a year earlier. In fact, the largest slaughter increase of 1960 will be in January and February.

"This is a good world. We need not approve of all the items in it, nor of all the individuals in it; but the world itself, which is more than its parts or individuals, which has a soul, a spirit, a fundamental relation to each of us deeper than all other relations—is a friendly world."

Planning Can Proceed

Members of the Kittson County Conservation Club have removed the stumps from a large area of Lake Bronson, and so a job that should have been done before the area was flooded now has been completed—and by volunteer labor. This community effort is a testimonial to the popularity of the lake in that area. More than 70,000 visitors were registered at the Lake Bronson state park last year, according to C. J. McKinley, superintendent.

Which reminds us that we have a somewhat similar chore ahead of us here in our community. There has been considerable talk about the need for silt removal in the river above the dam. There is general agreement that the silt removal should be made a part of a river development program that has great possibilities.

A committee named by Mayor Beich to study the problem and make recommendations has held several meetings but progress has been held up pending the reports on channel improvement of the Thief River for flood control purposes by the U.S. Corps of Engineers. These reports should be completed and available next summer.

But regardless of what the findings of the engineers may be on the need for channel improvement for flood control purposes we still are going to have a problem of our own in the development and beautification of our lake above the dam, extending up both the Red Lake and the Thief rivers. There are many preliminaries that must be disposed of before such a program can be started and the committee should be encouraged to proceed with its assignment.

Such a development will not make fast progress after it is started. In order that the start may not be delayed unnecessarily the planning should be speeded up.

Money Becomes A Major Issue

Donald Waage, the writer of the following article on money, is a native son of Thief River Falls, and his wife, Lorraine, is the daughter of Mrs. George Brossoit of this city. Old timers who recall local hockey at the time of the Hornets, the 40 & 8 team that won the first Minnesota high school state championship, will remember Donald as one of the players along with Tony Dorn, Bob Baker, Doug Snelling and others. That was in 1945, according to Huck Olson.

Donald Waage now speaks as one who has authority and is recognized nationally as a young man with a future. We are glad to use this article which was published in the Commercial West, November 21, 1959.

"Tight money has returned to bedevil the government, the businessman, and millions of individual borrowers.

"These rising interest rates continue to increase the cost of borrowed dollars to the highest levels in many years.

"Why is money tight?

"There are several good economic reasons—but a simple one goes like this: people want to borrow more money than there is to lend.

"Although the economic explanation for tight money and higher interest rates may be simple, it becomes extremely complicated when politicians enter the field. Monetary policy remains as one of the few issues which basically distinguishes Democrats from Republicans. The money market, interest rates, debt management, monetary policy, and tight money could hardly be steered clear of politics.

"Over the past three years, politicians have angled toward a 'showdown' on monetary policy, but on each attempt to get the issue underway other more predominant political issues gained the public's attention. With the "battle of the budget" fairly well under control, Republican party leaders have decided to meet the Democrats head-on, in what promises to be the major national issue during the 1960 election campaign—tight money vs. soft money.

"Early in 1957, President Eisenhower proposed an independent monetary and financial commission to dig into this field. But for various political reasons, this proposal failed to earn Congressional blessing.

"When the attempt to establish a non-partisan citizens commission failed, Congress was asked to approve a somewhat different commission—one that would have members of the House and Senate as the experts—proposed by Congressman Wright Patman of Texas. Again, this proposal was defeated. There were other attempts. All failed.

"From out of this political rough-and-tumble came the inquiry of Senator Harry Byrd — An Examination of the Financial Condition of the United States — concerned with a then-current problem (inflation) and then-current policies (sound money)—rather than the monetary structure and practices which engaged the old Aldrich Commission of 1908.

"The underlying subject of the month-long Byrd inquiry—the money market—is a complex phenomenon. The money market is the mechanism which rations credit among competing uses.

"In a full-employment economy there is almost limitless potential demand for putting money to work—constructing roads and public works, expanding plant capacity, erecting office buildings, building private homes or specialized housing (for colleges, for example).

"The total of these demands far exceeds what the economy can do. If the economy tried to do too much in this situation, the result would be higher prices, not more goods and services.

"Every economic system must have some means of deciding what uses for money will take priority. In a centrally-planned economy, government decision dictates what is done and what must be put off. In a free enterprise economy, the money market performs this rationing function avoiding the arbitrary decision by one or a group of government officials on which a centrally-planned economy must rely.

"How well does the money market function in the interest of all groups in the economy?

"To answer this question, many organizations and individuals have been proposing a thorough objective study of the nation's financial structure, institutions, and practices.

"There has been no comprehensive study of the effectiveness of the money market since the Aldrich investigations. Now our basic money law is 45 years old (the Federal Reserve Act); many other monetary and financial laws (SEC, FDIC, etc.) were products of the depression; yet the money market which they 'govern' is greatly changed.

"Commercial banks are no longer the one institution which lends money and receive deposits of money. Savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, credit unions, life insurance companies acting as lending organizations—all these have grown rapidly and are vigorously competing for the savings dollar.

"The Federal Reserve System is supposed to influence the volume of money and banking operations—yet the portion of the money market over which it exerts immediate control is shrinking, as Federal Reserve member banks face competition from these other non-member organizations.

"Impatience with the workings of the money market—plus the emergency needs of a depression which has been over for more than 20 years—produced dozens of federal lending and guarantee programs which have drastically affected the money market.

"Financing of business expansion needs has changed radically. To an increasing extent, corporations retain some earnings, putting money directly into expansion.

"Unincorporated business, on the other hand, faces increasing difficulty in trying to retain earnings for their own expansion. Money which might have purchased new equipment and machinery for small businessmen is largely swallowed up by the U.S. Treasury.

"In addition, large shifts in the distribution of income have broken up centers of individual wealth, once a prime source of venture capital. The progressive income tax has played a significant role, not only in hastening this redistribution of income but also impairing the attractiveness of risk-ventures.

"These and other changes in our economy and society have repercussions on the way in which the money market rations credit among competing uses. This is the subject that was recommended for study by the President, by leaders in the world of finance and economics.

"Short of this over-all monetary and financial study, there is a growing conviction among many of Washington's top money experts that something must be done to bring to a halt the inflationary spiral that has been skyrocketing upward during the past decade.

"These individuals, like Under-Secretary of the Treasury Julian B Baird, Minnesota banker and monetary expert for the Administration, feel that we are living in a period of great peril and that we must, as a nation, conduct our financial affairs in a manner that will help maintain confidence, for our own citizens and the rest of the world.

"Under-Secretary Baird calls for three necessary and fundamental achievements to obtain monetary stability: (1) fiscal responsibility, (2) an independent Federal Reserve System pursuing effective monetary policy, and (3) a sound management of the public debt, which allows the Treasury enough latitude to carry out debt management policy.

"There are a number of Congressmen and economists and a few financial leaders who vigorously disagree with this theory, and who demand a return to 'pegged' interest rates, more governmental control over business, more federal spending. It is in this area that most pressure for a return to 'soft' money and easy credit will come.

"We are now entering what is being forecast as the most prosperous period in our entire history. It has been predicted that during the next 25 years the productive capacity of some 35 to 40 million new jobs will be felt, and that we will have to develop an energy base to a demand which may possibly treble.

"Can we meet this challenge?

"Is the knowledge of our money and banking, monetary and credit, fiscal and financial system adequate?

"The answers to these questions will be written during the next decade, but the year 1960 may well become the first chapter of that new economic textbook."

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

New Year's Resolution

At the start of a new year it is customary to make a list of resolutions. These become goals which we try to achieve during the following twelve months. This year I want to urge every Minnesotan to place highway safety near the top of the list.

Traffic Tabulation

Each the final tabulation of automobile accidents and fatalities sounds a somber note immediately following the joy and gladness of the holiday season. During 1959 more than 650 persons fell victim to fatal accidents involving automobiles and many more were seriously injured. Actually this represents a reduction of eight per cent compared to the terrible toll of 1958 but we must resolve to exert every effort to reduce highway deaths even more in 1960.

Safety Education

During the past year, the Minnesota Highway Patrol initiated a new program of traffic safety education by assigning one officer in each of its eight districts to this primary duty. They work with schools, organizations, local agencies as well as newspapers and radio stations in the promotion of traffic accident prevention based upon a knowledge of the situation.

In addition to this new program, highway patrolmen on regular assignment continue to make themselves available during their off-duty hours to speak to groups about safety on Minnesota highways.

Safety Films

The Safety division of the Minnesota Highway department, which is charged with the promotion of safety on our highways, maintains a free film library of 123 different titles of safety motion pictures. These films are available for showing by any organization or school in the state.

Encouraging Signs

I am happy to report that 1959 was their greatest year for use. During the year 604,151 Minnesotans, nearly one out of every five persons in Minnesota, viewed a traffic safety film as part of our total safety program. The librarian reports that requests have been received for bookings far into 1960. This is encouraging because many of these showings were made and will be made in our schools where our teenagers are learning of highway safety as part of their total education program. It is also encouraging to know that people in every community are becoming increasingly safety conscious.

Drivers' Manuals

Another indication of the growing interest in driver education is the fact that nearly 750,000 Minnesota drivers' manuals were issued during the year. This little booklet covers the minimum rules and safety hints required for safe driving and is the basic manual for driver license examinations. This handbook should be read by everyone of our one and a half million drivers, read and understood before they drive on our roads.

Safety Service

The services of the safety promotion section of the highway department—whether for speakers, booklets, films or full scale local safety safety programs—are available to all Minnesotans by writing directly to the Minnesota Highway Department in St. Paul. Please take advantage of these services.

Everyone's Responsibility

As our people learn how traffic accidents come about, how their driving habits contribute to the toll of property damage and personal loss, as our people learn how to avoid getting into situations which result in collision, then we shall greatly reduce this loss. Highway safety is everyone's responsibility. All of us must resolve to do our part to make our roads and highways safer during 1960 and the years to come.

1830 KITCHEN

The 1830 kitchen shown above, portrays in detail many of the changes that have come about in our manner of life in America.

At the right is the spinning wheel from which the yarn was spun and later made into cloth on the handloom in the right corner of the picture. At the extreme left is an old wooden churn for buttermaking and, leaning against the fireplace, is a "bed warmer" consisting of a pan on a long handle. This pan was filled with coals which were inserted between the blankets on the bed to take off the chill in an otherwise unheated bedroom.

The furniture is handmade and without benefit of nails or screws. On the table is a "greaselamp" which was used before the kerosene or "coal oil" lamp came into usage. Over the mantle hangs an old flintlock musket and on the mantle reposes a bellows used in fanning sparks into flame to start the fire in the fireplace before the advent of matches.

Meat Institu on Friday, Jan 15

"Why and How to Produce Quality Livestock in Northwest Minnesota" and "Quality Meat Production Pays More" will be two key topics discussed at the meat producers institute to be held for all farmers in Northwest Minnesota Friday afternoon, Jan. 15, according to Morris Howick, vice president in charge of the area development department of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

These topics will be discussed by Robert Jacobs, extension livestock specialist, and Woodrow Aunan, professor of animal husbandry, at the University of Minnesota. In addition, they will stress the economic advantages of expanding livestock production. Techniques which farmers can apply to achieve greater profits will be vividly portrayed.

Mr. Aunan will point out on actual carcasses the differences in lambs and hogs. More importantly, he will show why it is necessary to produce quality meat to reap greater profits. Live animals will also be on exhibit to highlight the quality type animals characteristics.

The meat producers institute will follow the Seed and Feed show scheduled in the morning, and a noon bean feed which is offered for the proce of "all you can eat for 25 cents." During the bean feed, an able speaker will help generate the interest and participation of everyone to help this area to continue to excel in quality agricultural production.

9th Grade Survey Reveals Need for More Dental Care

Mrs. Margaret Race, School Nurse, Cites Poor Status of Teeth

The ninth grade dental survey indicates a need for more frequent and regular dental care, Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, stated today. Forty-nine students, or 25 per cent of this class, had more than six carious teeth. Children from the age of three to 18, said Mrs. Race, should be encouraged to have dental checkups once or twice a year; some even more often.

The eight local dentists each contributed a morning in December to check the ninth grade class at Lincoln and also of Goodridge.

The findings at Lincoln were: Dental work previously completed, 22; work presently being done, 20.

Among those who went to the dentist, 23 had o.k. teeth; 38 had 1 to 3 carious teeth; 20 had 4 or 5; 41 had 6 to 10; five had 11 to 15; and three over 15.

All farmers are eligible and all they have to do to enter is to prepare their samples in the following manner:

In the seed show, farmers are invited to bring 2 quarts of oats, barley, flax, wheat, rye and soybeans. (These seeds need not be certified, and all seeds may be cleaned with the exception of a new division which is for bin-run samples of barley.

Aune reminded the farmers that all samples will remain their property and will be returned after the show unless a farmer wishes his exhibit to be entered at the county fair or Winter Shows.

In the bin-run, barley division, one bushel of uncleaned barley is to be shown.

Aune called attention to the fact that the event is being sponsored by many groups working together to assure the farmers of an eventful day. These sponsors include the Pennington County Crop Improvement association, the dealers who supply seed, feed and fertilizers, the financial institutions of Thief River Falls and Pennington county, and members of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Appointments Made to Principal City Offices on Tuesday

Members of the outgoing city council met Tuesday evening, Jan. 5, and handled a few items of business before adjourning.

Bids for a used crawler-type tractor received at the Dec. 15 meeting were again considered following the report of Aldermen S. A. Honebrink and Olaf Dahlen who had examined the equipment. All bids were rejected by the council as being too high.

The resignation of Arthur B. Christianson, incoming second ward alderman, as a member of the park board was accepted by the council. No appointment was made to fill the vacancy.

Following the mayor's report, the meeting was adjourned and the new council was seated.

Four familiar faces were at the council table when the 1960-61 council began its work. Alderman E. B. Benson of the first ward, alderman Olaf Dahlen of the third ward and aldermen-at-large Roy Lee and A. J. Rau were joined by new council members Art Christianson of the second ward, Harry Ranum of the fourth ward and Milton Relerson of the newly-created fifth ward.

A unanimous ballot by the seven-member council elected Roy Lee, former second ward alderman who was successful in his bid for an at-large post, to the council presidency, succeeding Bob Carlson. A. J. Rau was elected vice-president by a vote of 6 to 0 with one "pass" recorded. Aldermen E. B. Benson and Olaf Dahlen, who were nominated for the post of vice-president, declined the nominations.

Six appointive positions were filled by the council as its first official act. P. G. Pederson was appointed city clerk, Robert Wurst was renamed city attorney, Richard Mabey was again named city assessor, Harold M. Johnson was reappointed superintendent of water utility, Morris Owen was renamed superintendent of electric generation and Harry Hendrickson was again appointed superintendent of power transmission and distribution. Other appointive posts will be filled at a later date.

The council called for bids for the official newspaper and for depositories of public funds.

Following a discussion of deepening the well at the airport, the council decided to call for bids on the job to be opened at the Jan. 27 meeting. The present well is dry and water is being hauled to the airport from the city.

Before the council has any further discussions on the 1960 budget, it will meet Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m. with the department heads and Jan. 20 with representatives of the Teamsters Union local to discuss requests for revisions of wages, it was decided.

Ward Store to Close on Feb. 3

The main topic of conversation in the Thief River Falls area this week has been the announcement that one of the largest retail stores is leaving the city.

The Montgomery Ward store at Main av. and Second st. will close its doors February 3 after more than 30 years in the community, it was announced by Paul Burch, district general manager from Aberdeen, S. D., and Don Kuglin, local store manager. The lease for the building will expire at that time and will not be renewed, it was explained.

Since the first of the week, four Ward men from Aberdeen have been in the city to carry out the details of closing the store. They are the district general manager, Paul Burch; Frank Jensen and Walt Friedman, merchandisers, and Harry Johnson, district service supervisor. Jensen and Johnson have remained to aid in the closing sales and with other work.

All employes of the store will have the opportunity to be transferred to other Ward stores, Kuglin said, and three or four may be retained to operate a catalog store which is being planned although a location has not yet been arranged. The facility will give 48-hour service to customers. Monthly payment plans and repair service will continue to be available to all customers.

The building, owned by Carl B. Larson, contains 14,112 square feet of space of which 11,504 square feet were used by Wards for display and sales. Including the basement, three full floors and the balcony have been used for the sales of every type of merchandise from lawn mowers to clothing.

Mr. Larson had not been informed of the company's intention not to resume the lease and the information about the store closing was a surprise to him. He was under the impression that negotiations for the renewal had been progressing satisfactorily, he stated.

City Power Plant Supplies Current Here for Full Day

Took over Load Monday Noon Following Break in Line West of Fargo

A break Monday noon in the high tension line transporting power from the Garrison dam north of Bismarck, N. D., interrupted the flow of electric current in a large portion of eastern North Dakota and to communities in western Minnesota, including Thief River Falls.

The break, which was reported to have occurred between Jamestown and Fargo, interrupted the current in Thief River Falls at 12:45 p.m. Monday, and within a short period, varying from four to 20 minutes, the standby Diesels in the municipal power plant, were put into operation and took over the load.

The supply of power from Garrison dam was not resumed until 1:25 p.m. Tuesday, 24½ hours later, by which time the break had been found and repaired. In the meantime, the local plant supplied current.

Moorhead was without power for about three hours in the prevailing subzero weather until boilers at the municipal power plant were fired up.

Fargo fared better. Power there was off only 40 minutes until stand-by generators were put to use.

Retiring Mayor O.D. Beich Reports Much Activity During Term

During his term of office from Jan. 1, 1958, to Dec. 31, 1959, Mayor O. D. Beich traveled 7,905 miles, attended 157 meetings and 87 banquets, represented the city on 98 occasions and had expenses of $2,805.29 for which he was reimbursed $498.48 in addition to $300 from the contingent fund.

These facts and figures were released at the Jan. 5 meeting of the city council as one of the final acts of Mayor Beich. Seated in the spectators' section of the chambers, Orin Green, incoming mayor, felt the mantle of his new post settle firmly and heavily on his shoulders.

In addition to traveling and the personal appearances that is a part of the mayor's duties, he will also oversee the affairs of the police department which he heads.

In addition, Dr. Beich listed as his committee activities membership in the League of Municipalities, vice-presidency of the State Mayors' association, membership in the Armory commission, membership in the Safety council, chairmanship of the joint civil defense committee, membership on the mayor's street planning committee and membership in the river development committee.

Following his report, Mayor Beich was voted the thanks of the city council for his work during his term of office and, in turn, thanked the council and the appointive officials for their cooperation.

As his final official duty, Mayor Beich recommended to the council the re-appointment of Mrs. H. O. Chommie to the library board for a three-year term which will end Dec. 31, 1962. The appointment was approved.

businessmen representing Mr. Larson and the community had met with Mr. Burch and asked for a delay in the store closing notice so as to provide time for further negotiations, assuring local cooperation in any program of building improvement and modernization that might be necessary to meet the company's requirements.

They requested an opportunity to meet with company officials in St. Paul or Chicago to explore all possibilities for a continuation of the store. Mr. Burch, who is in charge of the store operations in an area covering all or parts of five states, stated that he would convey the wishes of the committee to his superiors in Chicago, but the closing announcement has not been delayed.

No plans have been announced for the use of the building after its vacation by Montgomery Ward.

Crookston Shop Victim of Blast; Damage Is $5,000

An explosion and fire in a radiator shop at Crookston caused damage estimated at more than $5,000 shortly before noon Monday.

The blast occurred when acetylene gas from a ruptured line was ignited, setting four tanks of the gas afire. The quickly spreading flames gutted the frame building and destroyed its contents.

Emil Mutchler, owner of the establishment, suffered burns on the forearm but was otherwise uninjured, Crookston firemen said.

American Cancer Group Cites Views on Fund Campaigns

President of Minnesota Unit Says Group Insists on Independent Drive

"The American Cancer Society is dedicated to the task of doing the job and then closing shop," stated Stanley Hawks, president of the American Cancer Society, Minnesota division.

This statement, according to Hawks, is designed to clarify the society's fund-raising position first adopted by the Minnesota division board of directors in September, 1949, and unanimously reaffirmed at a recent meeting of the board.

This action, he said, was taken after reviewing many years of experience of the society's divisions and affiliated units in and out of joint appeals throughout the nation, and after careful consideration of the extent of the society's public education program, the needs for service to the cancer patient and the needs for continuing acceleration of its research program.

The remarkable growth of the American Cancer Society has been due, said Hawks, to a large measure, to its independent Crusade. Minnesotans, through their support of this annual crusade, have demonstrated their determination to find an answer to cancer.

The objectives of the annual independent April Crusade, he said, are three-fold: (1) to provide an essential concentrated public education program in reaching the citizens of Minnesota with life-saving messages about cancer; (2) to provide markedly increased voluntary support for research, already the greatest and costliest single undertaking in medical history; and (3) to provide each and every individual complete freedom to participate in and support the work of the society.

Also accomplished on the piano and piccolo, Miss Anderson, 17, plays with the Twin City Philharmonic orchestra as well.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Anderson, and a granddaughter of Anton Anderson, formerly of St. Hilaire, and a niece of Mrs. Richard Swanson of St. Hilaire. Her father, employed by Minneapolis Honeywell, lived in Hickory township when he first came from Sweden several years ago.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Jan. 7

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Pursuant to adjournment the Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, convened in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on December 29, 1959 at eight o'clock P.M. Aldermen Benson, Lee, Dahlen, Honebrink, Carlson were present. Alderman Rau was absent.

Alderman Lee moved a second reading of an Ordinance providing for the payment into the City Treasury of fines, forfeitures and penalties recovered for the violations of City Ordinances. Alderman Benson seconded such motion. All members voted in favor thereof and the Ordinance was read and filed.

Alderman Honebrink moved a third and final reading of an Ordinance amending Ordinance No. 218 by increasing from ten to twelve the number of Volunteer Firemen, being seconded by Benson, and motion was carried. The Ordinance was then read. Alderman Dahlen moved adoption. Alderman Honebrink seconded such motion. The roll was called on the question of adoption and all members voted in favor thereof, whereupon the Ordinance was declared by the President passed and adopted.

Ordinance amending subdivision 4 of Section 11 of Ordinance No. 232 and increasing the rates for furnishing of water service by the City was brought up for consideration. Mr. Al Bacon representing the Chamber of Commerce was present as was also Mr. Kammerer, Chamber Secretary. Mr. Bacon presented and explained graphs which had been prepared showing comparison of the rates in effect in Crookston and Bemidji with those of Thief River Falls and urged that water and sewer rates be combined as one rate. He also urged that for the benefit of industries that rates be kept on a level with rates prevailing in other communities of like size. Mr. Kammerer suggested that the rates be adjusted for the benefit of large consumers and increased for smaller consumers. After discussion Alderman Benson then moved an amendment to the Ordinance with changes and additions as follows: "for the next 100,000 gallons, monthly, per 1,000 gallons $0.25 and for the excess over 300,000 gallons, monthly, per 1,000 gallons $0.20." "The minimum charge per month shall be $1.70." Alderman Lee seconded adoption of such amendment. All members voted in favor thereof and the motion was declared carried. Alderman Honebrink then moved that the Ordinance, as amended, be given its second reading, being seconded by Benson and the same was carried. The Ordinance was then read and filed.

A letter of Juran & Moody, Inc. St. Paul, Minnesota, addressed to R. A. Wurst, City Attorney, was read, the same advising that the Storm Sewer District No. 3 Improvement Bonds of 1959, maturing in 1978 and 1979, $25,000, which the City had previously prepaid would be held by them until December 23rd for reconsideration as to prepayment by the Council and that if the Council should reconsider its previous decision, the prepayment amount of $25,000 would be returned to the City. The City Attorney was authorized and directed to advise said Juran & Moody, Inc. that the Council does not wish to reconsider the matter.

Stockyards in So. St. Paul Nation's Second Largest

The South St. Paul stockyards earned nation-wide recognition as the nation's second largest livestock marketing terminal during 1959, handling a 12 per cent increase in salable livestock supplies, according to A. C. Olson, president of the Stockyards Company.

Livestock producers from 14 states and Canada shipped 4,972,426 head of livestock to be sold at the South St. Paul market during the year, 518,752 head more than during 1958.

The Chicago stockyards, traditional holder of the number one spot among livestock centers, slipped to third place in 1959. The Omaha market drew the greatest volume of supplies to earn the top position.

Prowler Hockey Team Scores 7th Win in Row

Coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers scored their seventh straight win, and their second Region Eight conference victory, when on Tuesday night in a game played on the Hallock ice, they defeated coach Ken Welgan's Polar Bears, 7 to 0.

The Prowlers will continue in conference play this week when they meet the Williams Wolves on the Arena ice here on Friday night, Jan. 8. On Wednesday, Jan. 13, the locals will make the trip to Warroad for a conference tilt with coach Gordon Genz' Warriors.

With left wing Eddie Holmes racking up four goals, getting three of the tallies in the third period, the Prowlers handled the Hallock Polar Bears with considerable ease on Tuesday night. Holmes opened the scoring with a tally, on Dale Wennberg's assist, at the 4:29 mark of the first period, banging a shot into the south goal from close in.

The Prowlers lost the services of Wennberg in the first period when, after a rush into the Hallock zone, the nifty Prowler center-ice man collided with a Hallock defenseman and injured his left knee. Wennberg attempted to take a turn or two on the ice in the second period, but the knee proved painful and he retired from the game.

In the second period, the Prowlers punched in three goals to take a 4 to 0 lead. Jim Wegge tipped in Jerry Larson's long shot to score at the 4:16 mark. Archie Schneider set up the next two goals, sliding out a pair of long passes to Arlan Hjelle and Wes Halvorson, and the two boys scored on breakaway plays, deking the goalie and nudging the disc into the net.

In the third period, Holmes, covering rebounds ably, notched three goals to put a "cap" on a fine all-round performance.

The Red Lake Falls Eagles and the Plummer Cardinals, deadlocked for the Polar conference lead, will break their first place tie on Friday when the two teams meet on the Plummer floor. Andy McCarthy's Eagles and Casey Stengel's Cardinals have been winners in the three games they have played to date on the conference schedule.

A problem for Plummer to solve on Friday will be to halt the scoring efforts of Red Lake Falls' Jason Huseby. Huseby, a six-foot five-inch center, has compiled a total of 67 points in three conference tilts, scoring at a 22.3 points per game clip.

Warroad Quint at Newfolden Friday

The Newfolden Nordics open their home basketball season on Friday, Jan. 8, when they entertain the Warroad Warriors in a conference game. This will be the first meeting between these two teams this year. Last year the two teams split two games, each winning on their home floor.

At this writing, the Nordics have a 3-3 season record, having defeated Goodridge, Greenbush and Lake Bronson, while losing to Roseau, Middle River and Karlstad. The Nordics will be attempting to put together a string of victories as they launch a home series of eight games.

2 Men Tell Lions of Rescue Squad

Half-dozen Club Members Sign up Wednesday Noon

Quentin Jones, first aid director with the local civil defense rescue squad, addressed the Lions club at its luncheon meeting Wednesday noon, along with Fred Mittelstad of the county civil defense organization.

Jones explained that the purpose of the rescue squad is to remove injured persons from the scene of a disaster, and to give first aid. He stated that 26 men are required for the squad, which will man the $5,000 truck delivered to this city without charge by the federal government about two years ago, and which is in danger of being taken away because it is inadequately manned. Jones also showed slides depicting the work done by rescue squads.

In response to an appeal by Mittelstadt, a half-dozen Lions club members signed up for the rescue squad, and will take a 16 hour course of training.

Prowler 'B' Hockey Six Trims RLF 4-2

Local Team Also Blanks Hallock 'B's 6 to 0

Third period goals by Jack Houfek and Tony Poole broke a 2-all tie and gave coach George Schlieff's Prowler 'B' team a 4 to 2 win over coach Pete Carney Red Lake Falls Eagles in a hockey game played on the Arena ice Wednesday night.

The Prowler 'B' team, winners over the Hallock 'B' team, 6 to 0, in a game played at Hallock on Tuesday night, will travel to East Grand Forks on Saturday afternoon for a game against coach Rudy Sluski's Little Green Wave varsity squad.

In Wednesday night's game, Red Lake Falls, on a blue-line shot by defenseman Denny Roy, tied the game at 2-all early in the third period. A two-man combination play, with John Solsten setting up the score on a pass to Jack Houfek, and Houfek's fine shot to the short side, gave the Prowlers a 3 to 2 lead at the 3:40 mark. Tony Poole shoved a loose puck past the out-sprawled Steve Demarais at the 7:28 mark to provide an insurance goal.

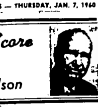
Only Five Persons In Court Monday

Two Fined for Carrying Uncased Guns in Auto

Monday's session of municipal court was a light one with only five persons appearing before Judge H. O. Chommie. Firearms safety violations and traffic infractions were the causes of the arrests.

Three persons appeared as a result of arrests by Sheriff Charles Richards. Paul John Bakke and Dennis E. Quam, both of this city, pleaded guilty of transporting uncased guns in a car and were each fined $21.33, while Lyle D. Groslie, city, pleaded guilty to transporting a loaded gun in a car and was fined $21.33.



The other two cases were brought by city police. Donald D. Joppru, rt. 1, pleaded guilty to driving without license plates and was fined $10, while Myron A. Gutterud, rt. 2, pleaded guilty to having an illegal muffler and was fined $15.

Red Lake County Ski Thieves Fined

Robert C. Malwitz and John Fladeland, both of Red Lake Falls, held in connection with the ski theft at Erskine Wednesday evening appeared in Crookston municipal court Monday and pleaded guilty to petty larceny. They were fined $25 plus $6.05 sheriff's fees each.

The men had taken skis from a car in which two Grand Forks men were on a ski trip to Michigan. They were apprehended thru identification of a check cashed in an Erskine cafe.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

News of the World

Entitled to mention in the "News of the World," or at least in the "News of the Curling World," is the results of last Sunday's third event semi-finals match between the Wally Tunberg and the Cliff Jorde rinks. The result was a 14 to 3 win for the Tunbergs.

What made this win the cause of such jubilation for Wally's rink — Wally Tunberg, Curtis Swanson, Jerry Latta, and Rudy Rude — was that two of the members of the Jorde rink, Cliff Jorde and Len Furuseth, were formerly members of the Tunberg squad.

Wally explains that he realized that Cliff and Len were losing their reflexes, and consequently he was forced to "farm" the two players to another rink. Cliff and Len, along with Lloyd Hogenson and Cliff's young son, Richard, have formed a rink, and they were, and are revenge-minded. The score of Sunday's match, in case you have forgotten, was 14 to 3 for Tunberg. It's probable that Wally will embroider that score on his curling jacket!

The Fishing Derby

The boys of Boy Scout troop 57 will hold their third annual fishing derby on the Red Lake river here on Sunday, Jan. 10, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The fishing "grounds" will be staked out, and the range will be from the Third street bridge to the Eighth street bridge. In case the elements prove un-cooperative on Sunday, the derby will be postponed to Sunday, Jan. 17.

Fishermen, paying an entry fee of one dollar, will be eligible for a number of prizes, including the grand prize, a 5½ horsepower Evinrude outboard motor.

Coffee and doughnuts will be available to the anglers.

As a reminder to the contestants it must be noted that 1960 fishing licenses must be carried by the fishermen. To accommodate the forgetful anglers, those who have not obtained their 1960 licenses, county auditor Charles Rodekuhr and Game Warden Carl Sundstrom will be on hand, and licenses may be obtained from them.

We imagine that Dennis (Cotton) Langevin and Laurel (Sauger) Schuster, two of the city's contingent of commercial fishermen, will enter the derby. We hear that the two "boys" have been winter-feeding a pair of bullheads, and will try to enter these "fish" in the lake-trout division!

Miscellany

Dennis Bakke, the Newfolden Nordics' fine all-round athlete of last season, and who has been attending Luther college in Decorah, Iowa, has been transferred to North Dakota University. Dennis, who played baseball with the Thieves here last summer, is a talented basketball player, being particularly adept at bringing the ball up the court. . . . Playing a stellar role for the Washburn sextet in their 2 to 0 loss to the state champion Roseau Rams at Roseau last Wednesday night was goalie Jim Salmon. The bespectacled net-minder kicked out 25 on-goal shots, being beaten only on Dave Backlund's backhanded shot from ten feet out, and on Don Ross's solo effort. Salmon was an all-state baseball tournament selection last spring, being the catcher for the Washburn Millers. . . . And speaking of Roseau's Don Ross, we can readily understand why the burly athlete has'nt time to get into mischief, even if he were so inclined. Here's a recital of Don's athletic activities: an all-state performer on the Roseau state champion hockey team; a center on the Northwest conference football champions; a 32nd district champion on the Roseau golf squad; a point-winner in the weight events for the Roseau track team; and a first baseman and pitcher for the Roseau district champion baseball squad. And to top all this, Don is a straight "A" student. . . . A couple of battle scarred veterans of innumerable hockey wars, Wilf Beaulieu of Emerson and Ben Commeault of Letellier, officiated the Prowlers vs. Hallock game at Hallock on Tuesday night. Wilf and Ben continue to be active in hockey, playing with the Emerson Canadians. They expressed regret that they weren't able to play with Emerson in the Canadians' 10 to 9 win over the Thieves here last Sunday. . . . The St. Paul Pioneer Press, giving valuable publicity to state high school hockey, releases a weekly rating of the state's top-ranking high school hockey teams. Last week's release placed the Roseau Rams in first place, and the Thief River Falls Prowlers second. Minneapolis Washburn was third.

Feb. 1 Deadline to Report Cash Wages Paid Farm Workers

Social Security Office at Grand Forks Points out Requirements of Law

February 1, 1960, is the deadline for filing the employer's tax return which reports the cash wages paid in 1959 to farm employees, Walter D. Kistler of the Grand Forks social security office, stated today.

Farm owners or farm operators who had paid as much as $150 in cash wages to any farm worker in their employ during 1959 must file an employer's tax and information return for such farm employees. They must also report each farm employee who worked for them on 20 or more days during the year regardless of the amount of those wages if they were figured on a time rather than a piece rate basis.

For 1959, the social security tax rate is 5% (2½% each for employer and employee.) This tax applies to cash wages paid to a farm worker up to a total of $4,800 in the year. The tax amount must be entered on Form 943 (Employer's annual tax return for agricultural employees) together with the total amount of cash wages paid to the farm worker. It is required that the farm employer do this and file the return with the district director of internal revenue at Fargo, North Dakota, or St. Paul, on or before the due date mentioned above.

Kistler points out that in applying the 20-day test, the farm employer should count only days for which the employee works for cash wages figured on a time basis. However, if the worker meets this test, the farm employer must pay social security taxes on all cash wages paid the employee during the year (whether on a time, piecework or other basis.)

Farm employees include household workers if they are employed on a farm operated for profit. Farm employers include crew leaders who supply workers to do farm work and who paid them, unless the crew leader and the farmer had a written agreement showing that the crew leader was an employee of the farmer.

Three Area Men Enlist in Navy

Three men from this area enlisted in the Navy during December, according to Doug Richardson, Navy recruiter in Thief River Falls. They are Willard Marcotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marcotte of Red Lake Falls; Donavin Berg of Fosston; and Lincoln Sorenson of Backus.

All men were assigned to a station of their choice. Berg, a prior Navy man, chose the receiving station, San Francisco, Calif., Marcotte, the training center at Great Lakes, Ill.; and Lincoln Sorenson, the training center at San Diego, Calif.

Extension Service Helps in Sponsoring Many County Events

This is the second in series of four articles covering the Pennington County Extension Service annual report

The Pennington extension office assisted with numerous events and programs during the last fiscal year as shown in the annual report completed recently. Among accomplishments listed were studies on fertilizer which included two plots, one soybean culture plot, and several pocket gopher control trials.

A successful ram sale was staged at Thief River Falls; two dairy tours were conducted, one to Canada, and one in the county. A D.H.I.A. dairy testing association continued services to dairy farmers. Northwest Dairy Day was also aided in cattle registration, and supported through the 4-H member participation and 4-H leaders council serving the lunches.

The first meat-type certified litter was produced by H. E. Loggans in Rocksbury township after several years of breeding and selection.

Thirty farm plans have been completed, in which farmers receive help in analyzing their farm projects, eliminate those which make little or no profit and add those which are better suited from the labor, capital and land standpoints.

The County Crop Improvement association continued sponsorship of a Seed and Feed show. Members of the association increased three new varieties of seed for the university. They were Minland oats, Gold Top sweet clover and Pennscott red clover.

Fertilizer and seed dealers initiated a school to receive latest research in these fields. Dealers from northwestern Minnesota participated in the program with the extension service providing the resource personnel.

Feed dealers and turkey hatchery personnel in the county attended a school held four evenings at the court house, with Dr Robert Berg presenting the latest feeding and management information in the turkey industry.

Two highly successful soil testing promotions were aided. Many agencies and fertilizer dealers cooperated to promote the event which resulted in Pennington county standing first over all counties in the number of samples taken per farm. The county was fifth in the state on a scoring system used by the university in evaluating soil testing.

All important phases of agriculture received emphasis thru special meetings held by agents. Subjects covered were crops, livestock, soils, buildings, machinery, rodent control, horticulture and agricultural economics.

A dairy sale was conducted with the sale average topping the Manitoba Dairy Sale at Winnipeg and the South Dakota State Sale.

Homemakers received special training at many meetings. The organization has 15 groups, 218 members. An achievement day sponsored by the homemakers annually highlights the program. Subjects covered during the year were family life, crafts, clothing, home management, horticulture, and various other topics. Homemakers are frequent users of bulletins and information sheets published by the university extension personnel.

PATROL CHIEF NAMED TO NATIONAL OFFICE

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

I'm a railroad trainman with approximately 16 years of seniority in the service. I can hold a regular job now and I have for the last 6 or 7 years, for which I am grateful. I belong to a union and am also a member of a couple other clubs in town. I own the home I live in, though not paid for I have the sincere intention of doing so. I pay taxes and my debts as promptly as I can.

I'm thinking about the work I do and the union I belong to and how belonging to a union has raised my sights to a better living for myself and family, as it does for everyone who takes an interest to belong and also takes an active interest in maintaining a brotherly interest helping toward a common cause of the welfare and well being of all united.

I am thinking about what would happen if during the next wage negotiations between our unions and the Association of American Railroads, if just one of the rules which we are protected by would be abolished—that of eliminating terminals which the railroads might deem they could get along without and run through, bypassing our town. Suppose the railroad that I work for should decide to abolish the terminal in my town, what would happen?

It could be that I could go to some distant town and work, providing that men from other eliminated terminals did not go there also; and if after arriving at said terminal with others of the same intention not to mention local employees already there, would I still be able to obtain employment?

After I've gone I look back to what I left at the home of our abolished terminal. There are men with more seniority than I have and also men with less. What are they going to do? Trainmen, baggagemen, engineers, firemen, clerks, operators, roundhouse men of different crafts, section men, and a lot of others who have established and made themselves a home here? What of them?

If they all moved away what of the town they lived in? I'm sure that the financial loss would be heavy both to the people leaving and to the town through loss of the payroll so large every month—the banker, the grocer, the clothier, and dealers of everything that handle the necessities of the everyday life.

This very thing I have mentioned is not beyond the realm of an impossibility. Let's fact it. It could happen. And if it does, it will be a sad day not only for me but anyone affected—needless to say, there will be many all over the United States.

Hearings Planned on Minnesota Egg Law Regulations

One of Series of Region Meetings Scheduled at Detroit Lakes Jan. 20

A public hearing for discussing proposed changes in the Minnesota egg law was announced today by Byron G. Allen, commissioner department of agriculture, dairy and food. The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. February 4, in the State Office Building auditorium in St. Paul.

At the same time Allen also announced a series of regional meetings to discuss proposed changes. The primary purpose is to give everyone interested an opportunity to be heard since it will be difficult for all those interested to attend the hearing in St. Paul. These meetings will be conducted by personnel of the division of poultry industries and the one for this area will be held Wednesday, Jan 20 at 7:30 p.m. at Detroit Lakes in the Becker county court house.

The rules and regulations which are now a part of the law have been in effect for approximately two years. According to Commissioner Allen, technological advances during the past two years in the field of egg production processing and marketing have resulted in some changes which make it essential to review these regulations.

Commissioner Allen emphasized that all egg producers, dealers, processors, hatcherymen, consumers and other interested people are invited and urged to attend the scheduled meeting.

New French Franc

President deGaulle of France has taken drastic action to bring respectability and confidence back to the currency of his country. Shortly after taking office he devalued the franc as a part of his austerity program. Since that time the economy of the country has greatly strengthened and the black market in francs has ended. The new franc will be worth two grams of gold and will have approximately the same value as the franc of pre-World War I days.

Before the first World War five francs would buy one of our dollars. Since then it had been devalued 18 times and it finally took [illegible] francs to buy a dollar. Our dollar will now buy only 4.93 of the new francs.

The new value was obtained by the simple procedure of ordering it to be done. The French worker who received 100,000 francs will now receive only 1,000, but the fewer heavy francs will have the buying power, and the bill-paying power of the old francs. The new franc will take its place again with other respected continental currencies. It will be worth about the same as one German mark or one Swiss franc, two of Europe's most stable currencies.

Whether or not the new heavy franc will continue to have that value will depend on how well the French people manage their economy and their monetary system. If they again resort to printing press money and do not live within their means as a nation, their franc will lose value again.

DeGaulle thinks the French people have learned their lesson. In fairness to the French we can agree that much of their difficulty has been due to conditions over which they had no control. The record of the past year indicates that they are willing to make the sacrifices that are essential to their recovery. Under good leadership France probably will emerge again as one of the strong nations of the world.

Area and Population

The St. Paul Pioneer Press complains that, "Legislatures set up on the basis of population patterns which prevailed decades ago have simply refused to obey their state constitutions. This gives sparsely populated rural areas continued legislative domination and denies fair representation to the residents of cities and metropolitan areas."

Representatives of the rural areas will agree that legislatures have failed to act and that this failure to act has been unfair to the residents of the cities and metropolitan areas. But the reason for their failure to act has not been to perpetuate for the rural areas an unfair advantage. The failure to act has been due to an awareness of the obvious fact that the reapportionment of the legislature on the basis of population alone would not be a proper solution for the present problem because it would merely replace one injustice by establishing another. Under such reapportionment the disadvantage would be shifted from the metropolitan to the outstate areas.

What outstate representatives have asked for is assurance of equality with the metropolitan area by using both area and population as a basis for representation, following the pattern established by our federal government. The amendment that will be submitted to the voters in the next election will provide for such reapportionment. Under the provisions of that amendment the members of the senate will be elected on the basis of area, the representation in this body from the five counties of the metropolitan area never exceeding 35% of the total. The membership to the house would be elected on the basis of population.

This arrangement would set up a balance of power between the metropolitan and outstate areas that should be fair to both. Compromise is essential to the legislative processes. A minority that has no power to restrain will have little power in the give-and-take of compromises.

If the legislature must be controlled by either one group or the other, then the control should be with the outstate representatives rather than by those of the metropolitan area, for in the outstate area there are other large cities. Those who represent the outstate area speak for both rural and urban interests. Minnesota should never give its heavily populated metropolitan area control over both houses of the legislature and the metropolitan area should not ask for such power.

Fortunately this is not a country-versus-city argument nor is the issue partisan. There are fair minded leaders in the metropolitan area, members of both parties, who recognize the underlying justice in a system of representation that is based on both area and population.

We Must Be Competitive

A New York City local of the American Federation of Musicians is telling television audiences that they are the victims of a "species of fraud." The fraud they complain about is the foreign made music being used in some TV shows, saying, "the music which you hear on these shows is made abroad at cut rates, at the expense of American musicians."

While there probably would be little question as to the truth of this statement, we can see no justification for the charge that a fraud has been perpetrated. The important question here, it seems, is why did this condition develop, and that answer is easy to find. Any person who has had any experience in the hiring of musicians in this country for public entertainment knows that the highly organized musicians have invited the competition they now complain about.

The Petrillo-controlled musicians' union has a monopoly on this form of public entertainment and has abused its powers. We all would prefer American-made products, including our music, providing they measure up to reasonable requirements of price and quality, but we will not go along with the idea that we must support an American racket rather than buy a foreign product.

But getting away from the racket aspects of this particular situation, we are going to be confronted more and more from now on with the problem of foreign competition, and the pressure is going to increase for more and bigger protective tariffs. We will face the choice of remaining competitive and enjoying an exchange of goods and services with other countries, or, by isolating ourselves behind a Chinese Wall of protection, go into a period of decline. To just hold our own in the parade of progress we must remain competitive.

Too Many Messiahs

Whatever our personal opinions may be about the soil bank program, it seems to be gaining in popularity as a means of controlling the production of farm commodities, in spite of the fact that up to now the record of production control is not so good. Governor Rockefeller of New York, for instance, recently told a Minneapolis audience that the number of acres taken out of production should be increased from 28 million to 60 million.

The American Farm Bureau Federation recently went on record for an expanded soil bank program. The National Association of Wheat Growers and other organizations have supported the idea.

The weakness of the program has been that up to now too much of the retired acreage has been marginal. Some economists believe that from now on more productive lands will and should be retired. There are many conflicting ideas as to how the program should be extended and controlled so as not to increase community hardship.

Our corner of the state has been cited nationally as a horrible example of the evil that the program has wrought and the good that it has failed to accomplish. It is not our present purpose to renew the old and unpleasant arguments.

But if the program is to be expanded then more consideration probably should be given to community interests. We are inclined to agree that if the government is going to maintain price supports then there must be production controls. Taking land out of production is more sensible than permitting surplus production and putting unneeded surpluses into expensive storage.

The curtailment of production however should not be concentrated but should be spread out as uniformly as possible over all producing areas. On a voluntary basis it would, of course, be difficult to achieve the desired uniformity, and the program should be voluntary. But as long as the government is approaching its objectives with the idea of encouraging cooperation by incentive payments, the incentives probably should be more in line with achievement values.

We would like this farm program better if the cost were spread as uniformly and equitably as possible over all producers of farm products. Some segments of agriculture are already taking care of themselves. Other segments should be encouraged to. But the farmers could well afford to pay the total cost of any farm program that actually would give them a fair return for their products sold, and the cost of such a program, if properly administered, would not be burdensome if properly distributed.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the heads of our various farm organizations, each one speaking for a group of leaders who hope to build a kingdom of their own, could be induced to forget all of their selfish interests in the farm problem and agree to work together for the best interests of the farmers themselves.

Big trouble with the farmers is that they have too many self-appointed messiahs to lead them.

A Good Record

Now that Mayor Orion D. Reich is retiring, for the time being at least, from public life, he deserves a pat on the back for his four years of service to the community. During his two terms in office he has given freely of his time not only in attending meetings of the Council but also as the official greeter, speaking for the city on many occasions.

One of his good deeds was the naming of a citizens' committee to study the city's street improvement problem under the expanded state aid program. The work of this committee was an important factor in getting the program off to a good start. The committee established a pattern for street construction that was based on sound engineering principles which, if followed, will eventually make Thief River Falls a city of good streets.

We mention the appointment of this committee and its good work mainly because we believe such committees could be of much value in our approach to other problems. They serve a twofold purpose, providing the Council with a useful investigation service, and also, by their closer contacts with citizens interested in a special problem, find solutions that will have public acceptance.

We commend Mayor Reich for giving the citizens committee idea a fair trial.

State Markers Set on Memorial Highways

Four of Minnesota's famous past citizens, who perhaps are not well known to many of the present generation, will soon be in the thoughts of the many thousands who daily travel the state's four memorial routes.

The Minnesota highway department announced that markers have completed marking the routes with the exception of metal signs which are 16 inches square with white letters on a green background. No signs had been erected in the past with the result that the memorial identities of these routes became lost to the public.

The routes are, in chronological order of their designation by the State Legislature: the Charles Lindbergh Memorial Highway (USSH), which runs on T.H. 10 from Little Falls through Lonsdale, Northfield and Faribault to T.H. 52 at Cannon Falls; the Floyd B. Olson Memorial Highway (USH), which completes all of T.H. 52, starting from southeast to northwest across the entire state; the Theodore Christianson Memorial drive (USH), which runs from Fergus Falls to Detroit and Lac qui Parle counties on T.H.s. 113 and 40, with an east-west leg going from Montevideo on T.H. 40 along county roads to T.H. 212 near Watson, forming a "U" shape; and the Ole E. Rolvaag Memorial drive (USH), made up of the entire U.S. T.H. 371 in Cass county, extending from Walker to the north junction of T.H. 34.

William Cahill is best known as one of the great Union heroes of the Civil War. He was born in his home at the family of Cottageburg. On July 2, 1863, as commanding colonel of the First Minnesota, he led an epic and almost suicidal charge that halted the advance of the Confederate army and contributed greatly to the Union's victory.

Floyd B. Olson needs little description. One of Minnesota's great statesmen, he was the state's first Farmer-Laborite governor, serving from 1931 until his death in 1936.

Theodore Christianson was a leading newspaper publisher who served as Republican governor during the hectic years from 1925 to 1931.

P. H. McCarty was a Walker businessman who built hotels and business blocks in northern Minnesota. He was the first developer of the Leech Lake Land Co. at Walker. He contributed greatly to the development of the north country. He was also a member of the 1909 state legislature.

Skunk, Badger and Fox Prices Are up

Red Fox Now Netting $20-$30 Is Decade High

Trappers attention—the state game and fish division reports Minnesota fur buyers are now paying top prices for red fox, badger, fisher, skunk and mink.

Ray Dahl, specialist, Donald Baker, today indicated that with the return of long-haired furs to new popularity, pelts of these animals are now in demand and trappers are urged to take extra precautions to secure prime pelts. Paid for Minnesota red fox is $20-$30.00. This is the highest price paid for red fox in a decade.

According to Baker the fur industry needs a continuing supply of Minnesota furs to meet the demand is expected by autumn to other furs that are available.

Baker indicates it is up to trappers to do their part by handling and selling their furs to re-establish a steady market.

Warns Motorists of Skidding on Ice

Traffic Safety Chief Advises Special Care

"Anyone can step on the brake on a somewhat slippery road and stop the wheels," Harry A. Sieben, state highway safety director, observed today. "But it takes a little more skill to stop on ice.

"The broken thermoforce does stop a car, they stop the wheels from rolling and the resulting friction stops the car. This applies particularly at the time of the year when driving on the pavement is wet and then freezes over. Under such conditions you will see the wheels and send the car into a skid."

Sieben coupled his observation with a warning that the worst time for driving conditions on highways, and streets exist well before that it is only the traction of the wheels that can stop an automobile, no matter how good the brakes are.

This is borne out, he said, by statistics which show that most accidents occur on left turns or as directed by the National Safety Council's committee on Winter Driving Hazards.

Virtually all automobile tires nowadays are better in all ways, it report points out. They wear better, perform better on normal roads, and in emergencies they have some advantages on snow and ice. "But on ice or snow the best of them will still skid," Sieben warned.

WHY DO WE SING IN CHURCH?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	100	1-5
Monday	Joshua	24	16-[illegible]
Tuesday	Psalms	34	1-8
Wednesday	Psalms	86	9-11
Thursday	Ephesians	5	19-20
Friday	Colossians	3	16-18
Saturday	Revelation	7	9-10

Most of us take hymns for granted—until the eager mind of a child asks, "Why do we sing in Church?" And then we have to grope for the right answer . . .

It isn't that God prefers singing to other kinds of worship. We know He is concerned with sincerity, not melody.

And we don't sing simply because we are happy. In trouble and sorrow we have turned to a favorite hymn for strength.

Nor do we sing in Church merely because we like to sing. That would seem a self-centered sort of worship.

We sing because sacred music has beauty, feeling, reverence. It is a fitting expression of our faith in God. And we sing because the message of a hymn reaches the soul of the singer and the heart of his neighbor—as well as the throne of God.

County ACP Practices Al Are Approve

Calkins Receives OK from Federal and State Agencies

Patrick W. Calkins, manager of the Pennington county ASC office, announced today that all 1960 practices in the agricultural program previously approved by the Pennington county action committee have been approved by the ACP branch in Washington and the Minnesota state ASC office.

Calkins said the practices for Pennington county comprise 15 fire new seeding practices; two planting, shifting, maintaining crops, and the stubble mulching practice.

Calkins said that under this program, the federal government would contribute approximately 50% of the actual cost of carrying out the various practices under the ACP in 1960.

Calkins said that the opening date for applications to request federal cost-shares will be about January 25 and that the Pennington county office has been allocated $72,000 for 1960 which is $8,685 more than the 1959 allocation. He said that Pennington county producers participated in the program, and it is anticipated that a larger participation will cooperate in 1960 due to the increased allocation.

Calkins said that the deadline for the 1960 program will be announced soon as the necessary documents pertaining to the program can be arranged by the county ASC office.

Probate Court Given Greater Jurisdiction

Probate Judge Gets Added Scope under Law Passed in 1959

Probate Judge Bernard A. Klyve assumed new judicial duties on January 1 under an act passed by the last session of the legislature. He is among the probate judges in so many counties in the state authorized to conduct business under 20,000.

Except as otherwise provided by the municipal court act, each of the probate courts shall possess the powers and jurisdiction of the district court.

The act creates a program, part of which is that probate courts have power of penal offenses committed by persons under the age of 18.

Changes effected by the new law include the following:

Probate courts are given the power to hear and settle the issues pertaining to jury trials in district court.

Probate courts shall have the authority to issue an order requiring a person to appear in the Minnesota traffic laws, violations of game and fish laws, and violations of all ordinances.

Probate courts have the jurisdiction of actions of disorderly conduct and unlawful detainer involving real property or partly within the county or counties in which it has jurisdiction.

Third Annual Event to Be Held in City Auditorium Friday

Plans are now complete for the Seed and Feed show to be staged in the Thief River Falls Auditorium on Friday, Jan. 15, in connection with the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Seed and Feed Institute, it was announced by Secretary Emil Kvenvold. Administrators of Schools Report to Board of Education

Following are excerpts from the reports made by the administrators to the Thief River Falls school board at its regular meeting on Tuesday, January 5.

Ray Henderson, elementary director, did not report in January because there was not enough time in one evening. His report will be presented to the Board in February.

Following is a summary of the report made by Arnt Aune and Viola Jaranson for the area vocational technical school. It indicated an increase in enrollment in the school as of November 1st for the past three years. November 1, 1957 showed a post high school enrollment of 73 students; November 1, 1958, 188 students; November 1, 1959, 202 post high school students. Of this group, ten are veterans attending under the GI Bill. We are cooperating with the vocational rehabilitation division of the Minnesota department of education in the education of nine students. The enrollment in the school has students from 76 different communities.

The report on the fall session of the evening school classes indicated an enrollment of 186 adults who attended the evening schools and studied such things as the Aviation Ground School, Shorthand, Carpentry, Furniture Upholstery, Electronics Test Instruments, Plumbing, Knitting, Sewing (Beginning and Advanced), Typing, Interior Decorating, Welding, Drivers Training, Ladies Physical Education, and Office Machines.

The winter session of the evening school classes will be started in February. The advisory committee for the evening school classes will be meeting again on January 7, 1960. The committee is composed of Rev. Henry Friedman, S. A. Honebrink, Mrs. Stanton Dahlen, Donald L. Olson, John McGinley, M[illegible] Womack, Mrs. Larry Rulien, Mrs. Herbert Achenbach, Mrs. Alton Carlson, Willard Stromberg, Andrew Skaar, Wm. LaFave, and J. M. Roche.

Mr. Aune and Mrs. Jaranson stated that a related training program for plumbing apprentices was started on November 3. The class was organized by a joint committee composed of representatives from the contractors, the apprentice division, and the union. Attending this class are twelve students from Crookston, Brooks and Thief River Falls. Phillip Sanders, master plumber from Crookston, is the instructor.

Aune stated that the school had experimented with a report to parents of students who are attending at the end of the fall quarter. This is the first time that such a report has been made and the purpose of the report was to familiarize the parents with the progress of their son or daughter who are attending the Area Vocational School. It was stated that a permanent type of report card would be developed and mailed at regular periods to the parents.

Considerable discussion was held regarding the availability of adequate housing for vocational students. More rooms are needed and perhaps some means of supervision of students in the homes. A very minor discussion was held regarding the advisability of constructing a dormitory for housing area vocational school students.

The report by the high school principals, Mr. Larson and Mr. Hamerlinck stated that the percentage of attendance in the junior and senior high school was very good. In the junior high school, the first six weeks there was an average attendance of 97.1% and the second six weeks the average attendance was 96.7%. In the senior high school the average attendance the first six weeks was 96.0% and the second six weeks it was 95.2%.

Enrollment figures were presented showing enrollments in the junior high school in 1958-59 of 522 pupils, in 1959-60 of 527 pupils and in 1959-60 of 517 pupils. In the senior high school the enrollment in 1958-59 was 540 pupils and in 1959-60 of 560 pupils and of 1959-60, 546 pupils. This enrollment for 1959-60 in both the junior and senior high school is the current enrollment and the first day enrollment.

Mr. Larson and Mr. Hamerlinck reported that the parent-teacher conferences had been held on November 17, 18 and 19 and that school had been dismissed at 2 o'clock on those days for the parent-teacher conferences. Not all conferences were held in those three days but by the end of the second six weeks period 520 conferences with parents of students in grades seven through twelve had been completed. An attempt was made to get an appraisal of the parent-teacher conferences and a questionnaire was sent to the parents with the report card. 58% of the questionnaire were returned by December 11, when the summary was compiled. The summary shows that 94% of the parents said the conferences were worthy, 5% were undecided and only 1% said the conferences were not of any value. To the second question which asked, "Do you feel a conference is necessary and valuable every year?" 90% of the parents said they felt a conference was valuable every year, 4% said no and 6% were undecided. To the question, "Would you like to have a conference, A. Every year or B. Every other year?" 93% said every year and 7% said every other year.

To the question, "Do you feel that the material discussed helped you to understand your child's progress in school better?" 94% of the parents said yes and 6% said no.

In the report of Joseph Iverson, secondary school director, he stated that a revision of the high school mathematics program is now in its first year. It will take three years to complete the revision of the mathematics program. Teachers in the mathematics department, state department personnel, and college people have worked on the problem. Mr. Iverson said that the mathematics programs in more than twenty outstanding high schools in the United States have been studied and analyzed.

Mr. Iverson said that this is the first year of the revised program and the offerings through grade 10 have been adjusted. In 1960-61 it is planned to change the program through the 11th grade and in 1961-62 the revised program should be in full operation.

The report shows that 100% of the students in grade 7, 8 and 9 study mathematics in Lincoln high school, 51% of the students in grade 10, 58% of the students in grade 11, and 25 per cent of the students in grade 12 are currently studying mathematics in the high school. Mr. Iverson said that the new state requirements are that every Minnesota high school graduate, beginning in 1963 must have at least one year of senior high school credit in mathematics.

In the field of English, Lincoln high school students are finding they are required to do more work in composition and research. The themes are corrected and returned to the students with the suggestions for improvement. The English department will soon become involved in two projects. The first project is to formulate a style manual for the use in all composition projects in Lincoln high school. This manual would set for the mechanical details of compositions beginning in grade seven and extending through grade twelve.

The second project is one in which the teachers of the English department will try to establish a minimum English program for all students.

In reporting about the library, an indication was made that the library situation is greatly improved. Some materials for the library have been purchased under the National Defense Education Act and more will be purchased the second semester. Under the National Defense Educational Act, the School District of Thief River Falls pays for 40% of the materials and federal funds are available for payment of the other 60%. The librarian is working out a guide for library instruction for grades 7-12.

Physical education and health programs have been revised in the junior and senior high school. Previously the physical education classes met three days a week and the health classes two days a week. The state department of education granted permission to teach physical education for the entire first six week period and for the last six week period. Two of the remaining six week periods will be devoted to health instruction on a five day a week basis. Some of the duplication of material between science, home economics and physical education has been eliminated.

U. S. Budget to Show Surplus In '61, Says Ike

President Delivers State of the Union Message Thursday

President Eisenhower told Congress Thursday his new budget will call for a $4,200,000,000 surplus.

Eisenhower announced in his State of the Union address that the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 will propose expenditures of $79,800,000,000.

Eisenhower said he wants the predicted $4,200,000,000 excess of revenues applied as a reduction of the national debt.

The President said that he prefers not to call it just a debt reduction but "a reduction in our children's inherited mortgage."

He said tax cuts might follow, once debt reduction becomes a matter of yearly practice.

Republicans whooped it up at Eisenhower's announcement, some conservative Democrats joined in the applause but many of the members of the majority party did not.

The President also rejected criticism that the Soviet Union's development of superthrust rocket engines threatens America in the military missile field. The U.S. program in that field "does not suffer from our present lack of very large rocket engines, which are so necessary in distant space exploration," Eisenhower said.

He added this country is pressing forward with development of engines with tremendous thrust, and said spending for space projects will be practically doubled—to about a billion dollars a year.

In his lengthy address, carried nationwide on television and radio, the President spoke of record prosperity in 1960 and also called for vigorous new efforts to check inflation.

He expressed gratification over settlement earlier last week of the marathon steel dispute, and said both management and labor must make every effort to increase productivity and thus avoid price increases.

To the newly convened Congress sprinkled with presidential hopefuls, Eisenhower—noting he is beginning his last year in office—appealed for harmony in relations between the White House and the Democratic controlled Congress.

"Every minute spent in irrelevant interbranch wrangling is precious time taken from the intelligent initiation and adoption of coherent policies for our national survival and progress," he said.

Prowler Quint Wins over Bagley 50 to 40

A strong third period, during which the Prowlers tallied 19 points while holding Bagley to but 9 points, provided coach Hartley Story's basketball Prowlers with the point-cushion that enabled the locals to hold off a fourth period rally by the Flyers and give the blue- and-gold a 50 to 40 win in inter-district cage game played at Bagley on Friday night.

The Prowlers will meet the defending regional champions, the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Bemidji on Friday night, playing the Jacks on the new gymnasium on the B.S.T.C. campus.

In Friday night's game at Bagley, the Prowlers, on a pair of field goals and a free throw by Bob Pearson, a field goal and two free throws by Ron Hanson, and a free throw by Ron Solheim, moved into a 10 to 4 lead at the end of the first period of play.

Coach Al Jensen's Flyers, with a ten-point production in the second period, and getting five of these points in the final minute of the quarter, pared the Prowler lead to 17 to 14 at the intermission.

Two scoring bursts, one accounting for eight points on a pair of field goals by Hanson and Solders by Pearson and Dave Hauswirth, and the other a nine-point effort, boosted the Prowlers into a 36 to 23 lead at the third period. Hanson, proving effective off both boards, racked up four field goals and a free throw during the period.

Curt Josephson, Bagley's fine guard and who had scored but four points during the first three periods, turned in ten points, on four field goals and a pair of free throws, to spark the Flyers in the fourth period. Bagley moved up into contention with five minutes of the game remaining, slicing the Prowler lead to 37 to 31. A free throw by Eddie Lietzow, and a field goal by Solheim, plus a pair of free throws by Hauswirth, gave the Prowlers a 42 to 33 lead with 3:10 to play. Ken Theis looped in a long shot for the Flyers, but Solheim's one-handed toss and Hanson's lay-up shoved the locals into a 46 to 35 advantage with 2:10 to play. Josephson and Theis connected for Bagley fielders in the final minutes, but the Prowlers were able to maintain their ten-point margin.

Local VFW Midgets Whip Crookston Midgets 3-1 in Preliminary Contest

Coach Bud Salem's Crookston Pirates, jumping off to a 3 to 0 lead in the first ten minutes of play, and with Tony Schmitz, the ice product of the Red Lake Falls Eagles, turning a goal a period performance, defeated the Thieves, 6 to 4, in a senior hockey game played here Sunday afternoon.

Aiding the Crookston cause was the play of Stan Paschke, the former North Dakota Sioux letterman, who scored a pair of goals and had one assist.

The two teams will engage in a return game at Crookston next Sunday afternoon, and with the flurry of fisticuffs that occurred late in the third period between the Thieves' Delfay Offerdahl and the Pirates' Dave Bang, a line crowd is anticipated.

In a well-played preliminary game, the local V.F.W. Midgets, with their line of Elroy Frolland, Don Mathieu-Wayne Loeffler accounting for the three tallies, defeated the Crookston V.F.W. Midgets, 3 to 1. James George scored the lone Crookston tally.

Eggs, Beans, Fruit in Liberal Supply

'U' M. Marketing Agent Cites Good January Buys

Eggs deserve top place on the January food shopping list, Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota, said today.

Egg supplies are due to increase this month. They are of unusually high quality this season. The larger supply means that prices will be reasonable. Best buys will be in large eggs. Mrs. Loomis suggests that homemakers feature egg dishes often this month—creamed eggs, eggs baked in cheese sauce, hot devilled eggs or omelet.

Sweet potatoes and onions are the vegetables on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for January. The sweet potato crop is 4 per cent larger this year than last. Supplies of onions are about 10 per cent larger than a year ago. Onion prices are below those of a year ago.

January is a good month for hot and hearty bean soup or baked beans, Mrs. Loomis suggests. Plenty of pea beans from a large Michigan crop will be available for these dishes.

At the fruit counter shoppers will have a choice of good supplies of apples to Midwest markets. Large quantities of both fresh and processed cranberries, cleared as pure, wholesome berries, will give color and flavor to midwinter meals.

A record crop of 93 million boxes of oranges is in prospect for Florida. The California Navel crop is larger than average—15 million boxes. Because stocks of frozen concentrated orange juice are so large, more fresh oranges are likely to come to market in January.

Tax Rates Rise in Red Lake County

Tax rates for 1959 taxes payable this year were announced last week for Red Lake Falls, the villages of Oklee, Plummer and Brooks and various towns by Red Lake County Treasurer Hofius.

The total mill rates almost without exception are up for the whole county. The total rate is made up of four separate levies made by the state, county, municipality and school district.

A comparison between 1958 and 1959 for the county and state show that the state rate went from 12.12 mills in 1958 to 11.32 mills for 1959. The county rate rose from 81.86 to 87.30 mills. School district rates were generally up throughout the county and so were mill rates for Red Lake Falls and villages. Township rates generally showed a slight decline.

Red Lake Falls	210.10	237.92
Oklee	232.02	258.32
Plummer	255.10	279.92
Brooks	215.95	224.22

In a Friday Night hockey contest before a game crowd of fans last night, coach Gene Sieke's Prowlers with a great display for the greater portion of the game, defeated the highly touted Williams high school hockey players, 17 to 0.

On Wednesday night, Jan. 13, the Prowlers will journey to Warroad for a regional conference game against coach Gordon Dahl's Warroad Lumberjacks. The Prowlers all-star team's present center, he expected to see action against Wart and, Wednesday injured his left knee during the first period of the Bulldog vs. Prowlers game at Hallock last night. He is expected to be ready to take his place in the lineup.

In Friday night's high-scoring affair, the Prowlers had a 5 to 0 lead at the end of the first period of play, a 9 to 0 lead at the end of the second period, and turned in a 17 to 0 victory over the Williams by a 3 to 2 score.

Goalie Jim Rubberstad of Williams had an extremely busy evening, making up 23 saves in the Prowler goal. 15 stops in the second period, and 14 stops in the third period. Prowler goalie Gordy Sieke, Wayne Halverson, in the second period, wasn't put to a severe test; while Tom Teal, who donned the pads for the second and third periods, had ten stops in the second period, and two stops in the third period.

What Do You Know!

We are in receipt of a communication from the Secretary of Treasury and Publicity for the premier of Manitoba province, stating that a Thief River Falls sportsman caught the largest northern pike in the annual Manitoba-Lake of the Woods fishing contest.

And who is this Master Angler that has brought fame and renown to this fair city? He's Lawrence Wyssell of 225 So. Knight ave., that's who. And for catching the largest fish in the Angler fish derby, a trophy valued 18-lb., 9-oz. northern pike was awarded Mr. Wyssell.

Two other Minnesota fishermen caught the largest lake trout and the largest walleyed pike in the contest. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee landed a 36-lb., 4-oz. lake trout while fishing Gods Lake and Dr. H. L. Sterner of Alexandria caught an 11-lb., 2-oz. walleyed pike in Lake Alexander, Ontario province.

Well, that's quite an honor for Lawrence, and we hope that his fishing buddies catch just as many fish as he did. Lawrence Erickson, Herbert Hinerth, and Gordy Thorsen, will respect Art's title of Master Angler and pay him the reverence that this title warrants. On fishing trips from now on, Art is entitled to use the choicest minnows, occupy the best seat in the boat, and receive from all others, only nothing but the most courteous treatment. Yes, the honors, or making hooks fast.

Once Upon a Time

Once upon a time, and they may again, such a thing could happen, Williams was a power in high school and they played on the ice one year per week. Imagine how inexperienced Williams high school must be to be defeated 17-to-0 defeat from the Thief River Falls Prowlers. Don't worry about the Williams boys, they'll keep their chins up, however.

We can recall back in the year of 1940, 1950, and 1951 when the Williams Wolves were puttin' things in the state high school tournaments. And they were the "Huskies" of the state those years.

In 1949, Williams, as runners-up to the regional champion Warroad Warriors, gained a berth in the state tourney. The team reached the state finals, losing to Crosby, 3 to 2, in the championship game. Warroad that year gained third place in the tournament. Williams placed two players—Johnny McKinnon and Chet Lundeen—on the All-state basketball team.

Medical Group Tells How to Avoid Ulcers

Want to avoid an ulcer? Moderation is the key word to ulcer prevention, according to the American State Medical association. This includes moderation in all phases of daily living—eating, drinking, smoking, employment, home matters, and recreational habits.

Theories regarding the cause of peptic ulcers are numerous. It is generally agreed that hydrochloric acid is a necessary factor, aided by the stomach to aid digestive processes and can cause profuse ulcer condition

It is believed that an ulcer may have its beginning when a person is under a great deal of mental stress, but only when certain drugs causes a formation of a mucous coating over the lining of the stomach lining. Normally, when this occurs, the healing processes of the body become involved, and the ulcer is healed. But the hydrochloric acid again penetrate the protective stomach lining, then prevent healing.

Worry, frustration and anxiety are among the common emotional factors which may produce ulcers. Ulcers are said to be estimated ten per cent of the United States population—during—the course of their lifetime.

Men are more likely to get ulcers than women. This appears to be by occurs because persons subject to emotional stress and tension, physiological and additional amounts of hydrochloric acid, and normally men are more frequently exposed to such tensions.

Ulcers have been described as the "second stripe of civilization," and a "disease of civilization," ulcers is the heaviest and aggressive businessman under pressure for the demands of his job.

Treatment for ulcers will vary with each patient. A variety of methods practiced by doctors in developing countries will eventually relieve the hyperchloric acid in the stomach. These act upon the nerves which stimulate the secretions.

Surgical surgery is necessary in some cases. Surgery is also necessary on drug which will effectively cut down the excess amounts of acid. Because the emotional factor is so important in the life of the ulcer-prone individual, it is often necessary to adopt a philosophy of "live easy."

Meat Plentiful, Cheaper in 1960

Pork, However, May Rise in Price Later in Year

Meat will be cheaper in 1960 — but pork may be higher later in the year, reports Mrs. Lucile Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota. Meat is amount to 2 pounds more than the 1959 average per person in 1960.

The large supply of grain-fed beef, in U.S. Choice and U.S. Good grades will make plenty of beef available for the new year, in the fall and spring supply will be grass-fed beef.

Pork prices may be lower during the first half of 1960 than they were a year ago. During the fall of 1960, pork supplies may become probably will be low priced. Fall and prices higher, according to the extension specialist.

Auto Group Tells How to Drive on Freeways

Driving the new freeways requires more knowledge and skill than ever before, according to Lt. Col. Frank T. Hurley, commissioner, Minnesota department of public safety. The record of accidents on freeways in 1959 was 20 per cent more than in 1958, and 50 per cent more than in 1957.

Hurley says extra alert for directional and signing is vital.

2. Eye flight on freeway helps, which is why the state patrol promotes its "Keep Right" campaign.

3. Wear loose, comfortable clothing.

4. Converse with others; keep your mind on driving and traffic.

5. Don't drive over 100 miles without stopping for coffee and a brief rest. If you become tired, pull off the road and take a nap.

6. Keep alert for signs telling you when traffic is heavy, but slow down in bad weather.

7. Maintain proper speed for freeway driving rules; they will help you avoid accidents. Driving at excessive speed is one of the most common errors in driving to be." Cost $2,500,000.

Hurley said that the estimated increase in revenue of $12 per mile for 1960 is a return to the trend which took in the three years prior to 1958, pointing out that the increase in 1958 was limited to 1.8 per cent.

All of the states highway groups except mining showed increases in 1959, he said. Mining dipped. He said the steel dispute, which began in the last part of the month, for more than three months, decreased the mining industry payroll by about $15 million from 1958.

Non-agricultural Income Rises 7.1 Per. over 1958

Employers in northern Indiana will yield an estimated $4,000,000,000 in wages and salaries in 1959, it was announced today by Frank T. Hurley, commissioner, Minnesota department of public employment security. The record would be an increase of $265,000,000 or 7.1 per cent over income received in 1958, Hurley said.

$9.5 Billion Farm Crops Held by U.S.

Government Has Worst Investment of $3.4 Billion

Uncle Sam's investment in farm surpluses totaled a record of $3,554,314,000, on Dec. 31, 1959, according to the Agriculture Department. This is 6 per cent more than $3,200,000,000 last February. It may reach ten billion dollars before spring, officials predict.

The department said the Commodity Credit Corporation holds 9.5 billion dollars worth of farm crops as security for loans made to farmers. The government has the worst investment of $3.4 billion.

Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is carrying out farm price support plans during the July-November period compared with $303,205,000 in the 1958 period when farmers are involved when crop prices are sold for the first time.

To Spend Or To Save

President Eisenhower invited a lot of trouble for the months ahead by predicting a surplus in the treasury in the coming year. The spenders are already swinging hopefully into action and there is more foolish talk of possible tax cuts. Mr. Eisenhower would apply any surplus that develops to the public debt, and that makes sense. But that day we probably will not see.

By the time this surplus he speaks of would be available for debt service Mr. Eisenhower will no longer be president. It is possible that he can hold the line on spending through the present session, and, with more inflation on the way, tax revenues should be up. But we will not start celebrating a development that would deserve a great celebration until it actually takes place.

Incidentally, one way to get more favorable interest rates is to get a reputation for being a good credit risk. In this respect governments are not unlike individuals.

Nixon The Politician

The first reaction to the announcement that the steel strike had been settled was a feeling of relief. This great industry would remain in production and 1960 would be a year of great prosperity. Vice President Nixon had done a great job.

On sober second thought however that settlement does not look nearly so good. It now appears that it was a complete surrender on the part of industry, and for all practical purposes, was actually ordered by the government. The highest paid workers in the country get another wage boost. The price of steel will go up. We are off for at least one more flight up the inflation spiral. The buying power of the dollar will go into another decline.

For the long pull such a settlement is not good for either labor or industry and certainly it is not in the public interest. And, unfortunately, the steel settlement will serve as a pattern for many other labor contracts that will be up for action this year. According to a report by Business Week, about half of all the labor contracts expire in 1960, including many of the key industries. There will be no holding of the line during this election year.

Our guess is that as the year progresses Nixon is going to find himself increasingly unpopular in the conservative ranks. As a young politician, so the legend has it, he was known as "Tricky Dick," and his conduct in forcing the steel settlement on terms that would delay the bad effects until after the election, suggests that he still is more of a politician than he is a statesman.

Minneapolis Wants Our Help

The Minneapolis Tribune serves notice on rural Minnesota that the large cities will "put increasing pressure on Washington for preferential treatment as long as they are neglected in the state capitols. And the cities will be treated with consideration in Washington, too, because they are growing in population and votes." It continues its threat with:

"If the states don't help the urban areas meet their needs—and especially the new problems resulting from the tremendous increase in population — these areas are going to demand increased representation in Washington thru an office of urban affairs or in other ways. Those who believe in states' rights must recognize the rights of the urban areas, too, or the cities will take steps that will result in a greater centralization of government in Washington."

That is the most brutally frank statement of what the large cities intend to do as their political power increases that we have heard. We wish the Tribune would be a little more explicit on just what Minneapolis expects from the state of Minnesota. We cannot recall any big-city demands in recent years that have not been given consideration, and sometimes, we are sure, the consideration has been too favorable.

Minneapolis wanted a share of the highway users tax dollars for city streets. That wish was granted. Minneapolis wanted the state to build expressways thru and around the city. They are being built. Minneapolis wanted the University to expand across the river and help the city in its slum clearance program. That is being done.

We know the Tribune thinks Minneapolis should have the right to levy special taxes on us when we visit the city. A city sales tax on hotel services would be helpful to them. And the Tribune would like a state sales tax with a portion of the receipts turned back to the municipalities in which the taxes are collected. That would be very good for Minneapolis and for Thief River Falls too, but it would not be fair and we wouldn't like it.

But this constant yammering by the metropolitan press does remind us of how important it is to the outstate area that the metropolitan area never be given control of both houses of the legislature. The threatening language of the Minneapolis Tribune indicates that then we really would have an abuse of power.

The metropolitan area will soon control our representation in both houses of the national Congress. The federal government is responding liberally to the Minneapolis pressure groups with aid for slum clearance that involves the destruction of many good buildings. More millions are going down the rat hole to build locks that will enable river barges to move a short distance farther up stream.

Heaven help the outstate areas if the Minneapolis pressure groups ever get strong enough to control both houses of the legislature.

The Bad With The Good

The closing of the Montgomery Ward store is not good for Thief River Falls or the area it serves. We will gain nothing, however, by weeping over our loss. Sometimes what appears to be a loss proves to be a gain, and while the present picture is not as cheerful as we would like it to be, we are nevertheless satisfied that our progress will continue and that this setback will be taken in stride.

Wards came to Thief River Falls in 1929, following the announcement that Land O'Lakes was establishing a poultry plant here. Now, 30 years later, Land O'Lakes is still expanding. The new turkey dressing plant was crowded to capacity last fall and with a substantial crop increase in prospect the management is considering ways and means for handling a larger volume. Bridgeman's, a Land O'Lakes subsidiary, seems to be in a constant state of expansion.

A few years ago we lost the Thief River Grocery and that was bad news at the time. This year L. B. Hartz is expanding again and the city's wholesale grocery volume is greater than ever. Gamble's, a Ward competitor, has given us a vote of confidence by doubling the local retail facilities.

We could go on at length and point up many good reasons why we should not be discouraged. It probably would be better however to direct attention to some of the factors that discourage expansion and that we can do something about.

Taxes are always a problem and no doubt will continue to be. We are not alone in this respect. But in Thief River Falls the taxes have increased too much, and there is reason to believe that with better management of our city and school operations they could be reduced. It has been said by a schoolman that here in Thief River Falls we now have an ideal school operation. But maybe we can't afford the ideal. In order to live within our means maybe we should be satisfied with what is practical.

And our city operation is in need of a thorough study which we are sure could lead to a more economical operation. Both school district and city employees are asking for across the board pay increases again. There should be no pay or salary increases until a study of the overall operations has been made.

We are geared to a farm economy and if we fail to take that fact into consideration we will soon have more vacant buildings in Thief River Falls.

Our area has suffered because of adverse soil bank publicity. We have been pointed to as the horrible example of everything that is wrong about this program. We can understand why some executive, sitting in his Chicago office, might come to the conclusion that this area is on the skids. Maybe we should make more of an effort to get the true facts about the area to the right people.

To False Prosperity

(Financial Post, Canada)

The so-called "victory" of the U.S. steelworkers is in fact a serious setback for sanity and sound management of the North American economy.

By winning a wage boost of 40c an hour, the union has made inevitable an increase in the price of steel by an estimated $16 a ton over the next couple of years. This means higher prices for cars, household equipment, buildings and everything else in which steel is used.

This new addition to production costs is a defeat for all those who have been battling to hold the line against inflation. It will breed profound skepticism about our ability to halt the decline in money's value.

If the will to resist this insidious process flags, and it becomes an accepted belief that continuously rising prices are inevitable, creeping inflation could accelerate to a gallop.

Leap, Creep or Crawl?

(Wall Street Journal)

We can probably all share the comfort that Commissioner Clague of the Bureau of Labor Statistics draws from the cost of living figures that his office has assembled for the year just passed. In 1959 the rush of inflation has certainly slowed down.

Indeed, Mr. Clague says it cannot even be called "creeping inflation" right now. "I would say that this is barely crawling," he comments on the fact that in November the consumer price index rose only 0.1 and that the total rise from the year's low point, last March, is only 1.9 percentage points.

But before anyone's relief turns into glee it ought to be pointed out that Mr. Clague's index of prices has risen, however small it may be, for seven out of the past eight months. Furthermore, the "makings" of inflation are still all around us, in the form of a current budget deficit; so, too, is the threat that the money inflation will be converted into another wage-price spiral, that threat looming close in the steel contract negotiations.

We are not ones to dismiss small blessings, before or after Christmas, and so we will be comforted if next year the progress of inflation can be held again to a crawl. It's better than the leaping inflation we had when the Government authorities were treating our money in such cavalier fashion and the wage-price spiral swirled rapidly upwards.

But we would be more comforted if we didn't remember that the tortoise also crawled—but, by never stopping, went just as far as the bounding hare.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

A small child asked his father if he had any work he could do around the place to replenish his finances. The father assured him that he could think of nothing.

"Then," answered the modern child, "how about putting me on relief?" —Capper's Weekly

"Dad, I've got my first part in a play," said the young actor. "I play the part of a man who has been married for 20 years."

"Splendid," replied his father. "Maybe one of these days they'll give you a speaking part."

On Informed People

A famous American once said, "If a nation expects to be both ignorant and free, it expects what never was and never will be."

In a free society the ultimate decisions of government rest with the people. In order to make wise decisions the people must, of course, be well-informed.

Report to People

This week marks the start of my third Report to the People tour as governor of this state. Each biennium, during the non-legislative years, I have tried to bring personally to the people of Minnesota detailed information about the progress we have made and the goals we have set for the future.

To make absolutely certain that everyone will have access to the information he wants about his government, department heads of state agencies will join me on parts of this report tour of the state. We have arranged a schedule of meetings that will bring us within a relatively short distance of nearly everyone in Minnesota.

54 Meetings

This current trip is more extensive than either of the previous ones. Meetings have been arranged in 54 Minnesota communities. In order to cram so many sessions into a short five week period, we will conduct reports at breakfast, lunch, coffee and dinner gatherings. At every meeting the public is not only welcome but urged to attend to ask questions and discuss state government with me and the other state officials.

These meetings are completely non-partisan in nature. In every instance the reports are being arranged by service clubs, chambers of commerce, education associations and civic groups. The only object of the tour is to keep Minnesotans well informed about state progress.

Report Booklet

Besides the tour, a printed report booklet has been prepared and will be distributed to those who attend the meetings. This booklet covers in detail our achievements and the objectives for Minnesota. Those who would like a copy of this booklet, but who will be unable to attend a report meeting, can get one by writing me at the State Capitol in St. Paul.

Nearby Meeting

However, I hope everyone will try to attend a report meeting. The most convenient meeting for this area will be held in Thief River Falls on February 3, when a breakfast will be arranged.

PEEKIN' into the PAST

After the hour-glass, water-clock and sundial, came the first mechanical clock in 1379 and the first true pendulum clock in 1657. The coiled spring and balance wheel were substituted in 1658 to make possible the first watch.

For 300 years clocks had only hour hands. Then in 1687 came the minute hand and in 1790 the second hand was added by Lepine. Clocks like those photographed above were popular in the period from 1850 to 1900.

Conservation Progress Told by Dr. G. Selke

State Commr. Speak at Sportsmen's Club Banquet Wednesday

Approximately 160 persons attended the Pennington County Sportsmen's Club banquet, concert and heard an entertaining and educational program at the Legion clubroom Wednesday evening.

Highlighting the evening was an address by Dr. George A. Selke, Minnesota commissioner of conservation, discussing the accumulated many miles from points in Marshall county to hear Dr. Selke.

Following a ham and venison dinner, Ito Lee, Sportsmen's club president, introduced Harold Stinson, master of ceremonies. Mayor Orrin Green welcomed the visiting fellows on behalf of the city.

Fred Mittelstadt was toastmaster and introduced the guests. Junior Deer Assnty presented a highly entertaining comedy and Jerry Lienemann spoke to the guests.

Jerry Lienemann, head of the Minnesota youth firearms safety program, outlined the history of the program, which started in 1955, and cited progress made up to the present.

He emphasized the importance of safety in the use of guns, the program is decentralized and manned by volunteer help except for the director in St. Paul. He said that what was needed in the program to improve the program is coaches, instructors, training and funding.

Dr. Selke's address concerned conservation and Minnesota's deer resources and he cited progress being made in the state's pheasant conservation. He said Minnesota's deer herd is in good condition but that there is room for the future.

Among noteworthy items of progress, Dr. Selke stated, is the fact that there is a greater interest in the conservation of natural resources by the people of Minnesota and that energy is being directed and made to improving the water pollution situation, habitat improvement, and progress has been made in the game refuge system also, he said.

Selke emphasized the high importance of conservation of state water resources, saying that some areas which are not in production can be much used in the future. He said that the state's resources are finite, this does not apply to northern Minnesota.

Governor Orville Freeman in a letter to Selke praised the work of the conservation department.

Improvement Made In Dialing Service by TRF Phone Exchange

Starting Sunday, January 17, Thief River Falls telephone users will be able to dial most long distance calls direct to points in certain cities, Harold Stanton, C. A. Hale, Northwest.

Ben Stephens' company Agency, said today.

The Thief River Falls exchange has been converted from TWX at Thief River Falls to its direct Distance Dialing (DDD) network for calls originating in other DDD points, mainly because of the new dial system which now serves Thief River Falls and the fact that DDD equipment points must have facilities for alternate routing of calls in case one route is busy.

About the only requirements for incoming DDD are three additional digits, consisting of seven digit numbering plan which provides for outgoing or originating DDD service. There is a great deal of very costly and complicated equipment

Thief River Falls is one of the few telephone directories throughout the country where DDD service is available and still have a code number 218. In Minnesota the direct dialing will be possible to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth and St. Cloud and several other cities. About 100 Minnesota communities may now be reached by Direct Distance Dialing.

The code number has relation to the DDD network in which the country is divided into areas and the code number 218 will direct calls to the northern Minnesota area.

Additionally, telphone users in Thief River Falls will be possible to dial many of their own long distance calls.

KTRF Off Air for 3 Hours Wednesday

Transformer Failure Caused Interruption

Radio station KTRF was off the air Wednesday morning, Jan. 13, from 6 until 9 a.m. when a transformer in the transmitter failed, according to Don Olson, station manager.

Olson said the station began operating at 6 a.m. if it has been off the air only twice because of equipment trouble.

With the cooperation of the night shift engineer, a new transformer was put in service and the station within three hours and was on the air at 9 a.m. Olson said.

Service stations and most communities may now be reached by Direct Distance Dialing.

The code number has relation to the DDD network in which the country is divided into areas and the code number 218 will direct calls to the northern Minnesota area.

Additionally, telphone users in Thief River Falls will be possible to dial many of their own long distance calls.

An increase of nine per cent in membership was witnessed in 1959 over 1958. 4-H members participate in numerous events during the year. Some of these include the public speaking, Winter Shows, Judging Contests, Achievement Days, and 4-H Club Week. Other events are the fun and good grooming contest, Junior Leadership Week, 4-H club week, Northwest Baby Day, 4-H club week, Northwest Baby Day, demonstrations, state fair, county fair, and Junior Leadership Week.

4-H Council Members Get Institute Report

Adult 4-H leaders who were delegates to the 4-H institute presented the material at the county 4-H council meeting held Monday.

Mrs. Roman Radniecki discussed "Understanding Older Members." She pointed out the various stages of child development, going into the adolescent and teenage stage and changes in physical and social behavior of 4-H members. The various manifestations of this behavior were pointed out as well as the needs of the older 4-H members.

Mrs. Ray Maxson explained the programs in 4-H club work which are suited for older members. By assigning topics to four groups formed by council members, a vigorous discussion was engaged in.

Robert Hirst and Dale Svendsgaard outlined ways and means of strengthening parent cooperation in club work. Hirst pointed out that parents must be kept informed on projects and club work. Various ways of doing this were outlined. Svendsgaard reported that parents were willing to contribute considerably to club work and work with devotion when informed on what to do. "Asked to lead in various 4-H functions, parents will always help," he said.

Mrs. Norton Nelson explained the new 4-H objectives. With a changing way of life we need to educate the youth toward new objectives which have been adopted for club work, she pointed out. The ten new objectives are: (1) Enjoy family life. (2) Perform useful work. (3) Build leadership. (4) Learn scientific approach. (5) Appreciate farm and home. (6) Explore careers, education. (7) Conserve natural resources. (8) Live healthfully. (9) Upgrade personal standards. (10) Develop cooperation.

Mrs. Ray Oen, assisted by Mrs. Maxson, presented the sections dealing with recreation. They pointed out that a strong 4-H program requires good recreation and this in turn requires good planning. Various games suitable for club meetings were played and actual planning for an evening was done by groups of council members.

Selke also reported on various state projects in this area, notably the Elm Lake project. He said a decision in this matter has been deferred, pending the Corps of Engineers report on the Thief River Watershed. In the event the Elm Lake project is carried through, Selke emphasized there would be no damming of legal ditches.

He also reported on game surveys in our part of the state, saying that hunting pressure is not responsible for the decrease in sharptail grouse. He also said that while duck hunting in 1959 was as good, if not better, than in 1958 in Minnesota, the duck population is down over the nation as a whole and the situation is serious. He vigorously defended the midweek opening of hunting season, saying it gave state hunters several extra days of good hunting.

In conclusion Selke said it would be a tragedy if sportsmen today do not preserve for the future generations to come, the privileges of hunting and fishing as we know these sports today. It is toward this end that his department is working, he stated.

At a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the Rex Cafe Dr. Selke told a delegation representing the Thief River Watershed Development Association that the department would take no action on land acquisition for conservation purposes in the watershed until the report of the U. S. Engineers has been completed and the recommendations considered. He expressed confidence that this report would lead to a development program that would be reasonably satisfactory to the special interests of all groups in the area.

Erosion and drainage problems called for a 4-way approach on Albert Struck's farm near Ortonville. According to Big Stone county agent Howard Balk, Struck used contour strips, diversion and field terraces, sod waterways, and a crop rotation on his 210 acre farm. Drouth last summer didn't give the practices a chance prove themselves, but Struck did notice less erosion the few times it did rain. And he figures his yields will be better in the future.

A wildlife boom seems to be one result of the Marshall-Beltrami soil conservation district. At least, that's the view of John McMartin, SCS work unit conservationist. He says deer tracks are more common than cattle tracks in some parts of the district. Moose are relatively common, too. Every permanent water pond, he says, raises a brood of ducks. Ruffed grouse and sharp-tailed grouse are also abundant. McMartin attributes the relatively high wildlife populations to well-managed cropland interspersed with undrained brush land.

The fame of soil conservation work in Koochiching county has crossed the border into Canada. Last summer, the county was host to 101 Canadian farmers touring farm pits there. The group viewed the conservation work at the Gustav Hamre farm at Little Fork. Hamre told them he "wouldn't take a thousand dollars" for that pit. He had fenced three-fourths of an acre around it, and planted grasses, legumes, trees and shrubs for wildlife. The local ACP office helped with cost sharing, and he got technical help from Myron Johnson and Merle Rundell, SCS staff members.

Corn yielding 90 bushels per acre on a 10 per cent slope? It's happening this year on the Wilford Weis farm in the Dodge county soil conservation district. One big reason was Weis' contour strip cropping system, laid out on 90 acres in 1958. He also tested the soil and followed a good fertility plan, according to Al Fischer, soil conservationist. Weis also renovated, limed and fertilized 20 acres of permanent pasture this year.

Mack's CANDID COMMENT

BY V. M. DRAPER

As unpopular as some of my past comments concerning economics have been I have to get my two cents worth in about another matter that struck my eye as I as reading an editorial or wcolumn somewhere recently.

The point of this discourse was to the effect that, since a majority of Americans are not affiliated with Big Business or Big Labor, they are at the mercy of both. It went on to suggest that such people should form a consumers' union of their own as a means of mutual protection from the two Mr. Bigs.

Well, it might not be a bad idea at that—and it is something that all of us way up here at the end of the line could join, whether liberal or conservative.

There's no getting around it—you and I are not benefiting from today's so-called prosperity. The fellow who rides the tractor is getting less for his grain than he was 15 years ago and his cattle or hogs aren't making him rich very fast either. The prices he pays are up though—and how!

It stands to reason that there are few of us here in town, whether unionized or not, making $3.10 an hour—and darn few of us will be getting as much as a 40c an hour raise the next few years. It also stands to reason that, sooner or later, the facts of life (or laws of economics) are going to catch up with those high-paid workers and the steel moguls.

Goods made from American-produced steel will eventually be so expensive that hard-pressed consumers will either quit buying or will be forced to buy goods produced from foreign-made steel at a more reasonable cost.

This isn't good. It could cause a lot of unemployment and it is senseless. Big steel could forego some profit by cutting prices and big labor could forego a raise . . . and we'd all benefit, thru lower prices, and in the long pull, through continued high employment.

Apparently the consumer does not mean much to either the big business or labor barons. You and I aren't even considered and we'll be in more of a squeeze under the latest settlement.

If there ever was a logical time to form a third bargaining force, now is the time . . . to represent the party of the Third Part, the people who buy the goods manufactured in the factories of Big Business by the people who pay dues to Big Labor. We've had a sellers' market too long in the manufactured goods field. IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

PRINCESS KAY'S royal resolution "to do my best for our industry" is a timely pledge to Minnesota's 65,000 dairy farm families and all the people of Minnesota. Like those who have preceded her as Princess Kay of the Milky Way, charming Betty Jax of Adams has come to realize that she actually represents all of Minnesota at many of the functions she attends. She realizes, too, the vital role that dairying plays in the state's total economy. With its annual 400 million dollar volume, dairying is the largest single industry in the state. Because dairying affects every person living in the North Star State, Princess Kay has all of Minnesota in mind when she accepts "the challenging '60s" with a smile and welcomes the opening of the new decade with hopes for everyone's increased prosperity.

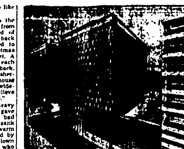
To the uninitiated, ice fishing is assumed to be an unexciting and very sedentary form of recreation—such is not always the case. Some very interesting things happen on our ice covered lakes.

Clink Ramus attributes his winter fishing success to ample equipment. He never takes more than one companion with him—can't after his equipment is loaded in the car there is room for only one passenger.

His partner, Dan Hale, is an ambitious and optimistic fellow who always chops an extra-large hole. This annoys Ramus and is the subject of numerous arguments. On one occasion Hale was backing away from the small hole cut by Ramus, demanding just one good reason why his large hole was not better. Alas, he backed one step too far and dropped into the icy water of his own large hole. Needless to say Ramus is still saying, "There is your reason, Dan."



Though naturally a very excitable individual, George Carlson sat patiently in his dark house with poised spear. As was his custom the spear rope was tied around his ankle. It was a cold day and suddenly, with a tremendous roar, an ice crack ran across the lake directly under George's house. He was seen bursting out of the door and starting for shore at top speed. But his spear had fallen down the hole and George's tethered ankle soon reached the end of its rope. There lay George frantically clawing ice and snow like a trapped animal.

Then, of course, there is the story of Floyd Colburn from Grand Rapids. Being tired of catching and throwing back small perch, Floyd decided to make use of the bright Christmas ribbon found in his pocket. A pretty red bow was tied on each perch before throwing him back. It wasn't long before a fisherman from a neighboring house burst into Floyd's house wide-eyed saying, "You won't believe what I'm going to tell you."

Warm weather, rain and heavy winds a few weeks ago gave Minnetonka fisherman a bad time. Some houses actually sank into holes enlarged by warm rain, some were demolished by the wind, and others were blown across the lake. A friend, who for reasons which will later become obvious we will call only Richard, had an interesting experience.

During the big wind he went out to check on his house and found it nowhere in sight. He asked a nearby fisherman if he had seen a house blow by. The wry response, "Not lately". So Richard hiked down wind and found his house sitting alone far from any village of fish houses.

But Richard wanted to fish, so he crawled in the house, chopped a hole, and started pulling out big crappies at an amazing rate. His success continues and his secret is still well kept—but the truth will eventually out and Richard's crappie bed will be the site of a new village. This should prove the old adage, "It is an ill wind that bloweth no man good".

FAMILY AFFAIRS CAN BE FASCINATING

Stewart, Minn., isn't an awfully big place in numbers, but two characteristics of its 800 more-or-less population are worthy of note. Two citizens, at least, have the unusual name Kermit: The newspaper publisher Kermit Hubin, and Kermit Hahn, who figures in the other local distinction as the father of one of Stewart's two sets of triplets, Jane, Jean and June, 11—who, incidentally, have younger brother-and-sister twins, Mary and Gary. Stewart's other triplets are not quite a year and a half old: Paul, Paulina and Paulette, children of Mr. and Mrs. LeMoyne Bleck. . . . Dan, John, Immanuel, Martin, Gary and Ernie Duesterhoeft, farmer brothers, comprise a five-man-and-substitute bowling team in a Hutchinson league. . . . A family dinner in Luverne wouldn't ordinarily be headline news, but this wasn't an ordinary family dinner at the Earl Sanford home December 3; Mr. Sanford was 82, his nephew and niece guests were 49 and 46, which still is hardly startling until one learns that this same group have enjoyed birthday dinners together in the same community for 42 years. . . . Seven Fluegge and Peterson cousins near New Ulm celebrate November birthdays.

Prowler Sextet Wins Over Warroad 5 to 3

An improved band of Warroad Warriors gave the Thief River Falls Prowlers a real hockey battle in a replay of conference games played at Warroad on Wednesday night, with the Prowlers scoring two goals late in the third period to edge out Coach Casey Gerrif club, 5 to 3.

Ralph Holmes, veteran of the Prowler 5* lineup, with the help of Pete Ken Machine-Gary Klungness accounting for five tallies, defeated coach Ed Krysiak's Warroad 5* crew, 5 to 3.

In the varsity game, Warroad, with Krysiak, Bob Hanson and Bud Jellum in the starting lineup, took the lead at the first period mark, from the right poke, defenseman Larry Holmberg banged a high shot that, being partly screened, bounced past goalie Wayne Halvorson and into the net for the first score of the game. The center at the 7:30 mark when, with the Warrior Center George Reinhardt in the penalty, Dale Wennberg scored from close in. Elmaine 'Ike ——— put the out-operated Jerry Hanson, Jr., Prowler defenseman, behind Gary Hanson when, during a long pass from Dick Elsen, the left unopposed by the Prowler defense, and the Warroad wing skated in on the Prowler goalie, fainted Halvorson with a low drive. Bud Jellum put the score at 3-0.

Opening the second period, and leading by a 3 to 1 score, the Prowlers knotted the game at the 9:30 mark when Ralph Holmes racked up the first of his two goals of the game. Assists on the play came from Gary Klungness and Ken Machine. Warroad were shorthanded at the time, with Larry Jirsa* serving a penalty he had been assessed late in the first period, and Holmes' goal was the period. Intercepted a Warroad pass at center ice, Holmes dug down a path of the Warroad goal and fired a shot from just inside the blue line, and when the drive eluded Lindsey the locale had a 3 to 2 lead.

Arlan Hatle, from 5:-ven feet out, rifled a drive 21 goalie Lindsay, and when the puck, after bouncing off the boards in the middle Warroad zone-back stickled over the goal-line, the Prowlers had their game-winning tally. The marker being placed on the score-board at the 9:30 mark. Holmes completed his hat trick at the 14:30 mark when he, with Machine and Klungness, clapped a shot into the net from just off of the Warroad goal cage. The Warriors made several dangerous rushes in the final minutes of play, but the Prowler defense, spearheaded by Larry Holmberg and coach Casey Gerrif, had marked up their sixth straight win.

On Saturday night, Jan. 16th, the Roseau Rams will invade the Arena rink for a "crucial" game with the Prowlers, and on the following Friday night the Prowler 5* team will play a long pass from Dick Elsen, who left unopposed by the Prowler defense, and the Warroad wing skated in on the Prowler goalie, fainted Halvorson with a low drive. State Unemployment Compensation Fund Is Down, Says Starkey

As 1950 drew to a close there was $78.1 million in the Minnesota unemployment compensation fund, according to estimates figures released last week by Commissioner Harold T. Starkey of the Department of Employment Security.

This figure represents a reduction of $6.4 million or 7.6 percent from the $84.5 million available at the beginning of the calendar year, and a 10.2 percent decrease in the balance paid out in benefits and $27.7 million was collected in the form of contributions levied on the state's employers covered by the state law. The fund also received $2.2 million in interest during the year.

The drop in the fund's balance over 1949 is the first full year's story of the fund's adequacy, said Starkey, because in 1949 the fund received a boost from increased gravity, thereby causing a number of claims to exceed the protection for each insured individual.

To illustrate the inadequacy of the present law, Starkey cited the case of a man employed in the state by Mr. Blarkey pointed out that at the end of 1949 the amount available for each of the 350,000 insured workers was $214 with the maximum obligation of the fund $ ¼ at Albert Lea 31mn., and $1,000 per worker. The $214 per person remaining in the fund was further reduced by the fund's liability to ATL-protected by a reserve of 34.2 per CIO union, has been on strike

National Group Decries Violence in Wilson Strike

Manufacturers Asn. Calls on AFL-CIO Chief Meany to Use Influence

The National Association of Manufacturers has appealed to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, to use the influence of his office to prevent further violence in the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. strike at Tacoma, Wash., which is affiliated with the AFL.

Meany was asked to intervene in order to stop the "open defiance of law and order" by the Aluminum Workers Union, AFL, which struck the plant Jan. 2.

The NAM, in a letter to Meany, charged that "mass picketing has been allowed to go on for days on end, with the result that violence on either side to labor disputes must be laid at the door of the weight of legal authority which has been thrown on the side of violence." Meany, as the responsible public figure" to repudiate the violence and the labor movement who instigated it, and to withdraw all threats against individuals

Campaign Year Congress

President Eisenhower's State of the Union message has been well received throughout the nation. He spoke in general terms of problems that face us. While solutions for these problems will be highly controversial, there is general agreement that the problems do exist. Few of his observations in this talk could be disputed. His budget message will arouse more controversy, and when that has been delivered the arguments will start.

It appears that Mr. Eisenhower is off to a good start on his last year in office and that his relations with a Congress that is controlled by the opposition party will nevertheless be friendly. Under these circumstances there is a possibility that this session may accomplish more than many observers have predicted. Fortunately the leadership in the Democratic party is fairly conservative and there is little danger that any extreme legislation will be enacted.

Considering the fact that this is a campaign year there will be more than the usual amount of oratory as prospective candidates seek to make the headlines. Under the circumstances we think it is fortunate that the president is not a candidate to succeed himself.

Public Education

Dr. John J. Neumaier, president of Moorhead State College, favors a strengthening of the powers of the state college board rather than placing the schools under the jurisdiction of the University of Minnesota Board of Regents. He would give to the state college board broader powers over the colleges, located at Moorhead, Bemidji, St. Cloud, Mankato and Winona, subject only to legislative purse-string control "through a lump sum appropriation."

There probably is some merit in the idea of a more centralized control over all of the five schools. The principal weakness in the board as it is presently organized is the residence requirement of its members, each city in which these schools are located being represented on the board.

There probably would be better management, from the state's standpoint, if the board members were selected on an area basis as are the university regents, with the requirement that no board member could be a resident of a city in which a school is located. Such an arrangement might give us a system of colleges that would be operated in the best interests of the area, rather than in the cash-registered interest of the city in which they are located.

And such a board should not be given a "lump sum appropriation" to do with as it might see fit. Under such an arrangement it would not be long before the five state colleges would become five more universities, and that we would not like to see.

The state colleges should be made high-standard preparatory schools and the professional schools should be centered at the university. The university was not established to become a junior college for Minneapolis and the teachers colleges, now state colleges, were not established to become universities.

As it has functioned in recent years the University of Minnesota is not serving the needs of the state at the professional level as it should. It has grown great in enrollment but the production obviously is limited by a "planned scarcity" control that serves the interests of organized professions rather than the public interest.

The more we see of public education, at all levels, the more convinced we become that the business of operating our schools will have to be taken out of the hands of the educators and turned over to competent administrators. There are educators who also are good administrators but they are the exception rather than the rule.

We elect capable men to serve as regents and state college board members and as school board members, but few of them, from our observation, take their responsibilities seriously to the extent that they make the decisions. They hire a president or a superintendent and hope that he will come up with the right answers.

The Wrong Ticket

More than half of the barbed wire used in this country is imported. Steel is being shipped from abroad and sold in Cleveland for $118 a ton — which is $55 a ton below the price that an American steel mill, right there in Cleveland, must get for the same product.

These are statements made by Roger M. Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corporation in a television talk following the government enforced settlement of the steel strike last week.

Under the provisions of this settlement American steel prices will go still higher. We will buy more of our steel at more favorable prices from foreign mills. The sales of American made steel products in world markets will decline.

Over a period of time the demand for American made steel products, here and abroad, will decline. Production will drop. Unemployment will increase.

If this is a sample of Nixon's idea of how our country should make progress then he is not the man who should be the next president of the United States. Nixon is running on the wrong ticket.

In the Public Interest

In his State of the Union message President Eisenhower expressed relief because the steel strike will not be resumed but his comment on the problems that still confront the industry indicates that he does not look upon the settlement as a happy solution. Expressing gratification that several steel companies had stated there would be no immediate increase in steel prices he said:

"The national interest demands that in the period of industrial peace which has been assured by the new contract, both management and labor make every possible effort to increase efficiency and productivity in the manufacture of steel so that price increases can be avoided."

That brings up the highly controversial question of work rules. The companies had taken the position that they could meet the wage and fringe benefit demands of the workers without price increases if work rules were changed so as to enable them to operate their plants efficiently. Under terms of the settlement no work rules changes were provided for and they were referred to merely as a problem that should be discussed by the representatives of management and labor. That is a concession that may prove to be important.

The fairness of work rules and their justification are matters of public interest when they become a determining factor in consumer costs, and Congress might well consider the creation of a tribunal that would have the power to determine whether such rules are reasonable and in the public interest.

The United Steel Workers leaders would gain stature if they would show a willingness to go along with what is reasonable and in the public interest in their approach to this problem of work rules. John L. Lewis was a tough fighter over a period of many years as the leader of the United Mine Workers but he did not oppose efficiency in mine operations. He encouraged the use of machines and automation, asking only that labor share in the benefits that come with labor-saving devices. He did not oppose progress.

Public opinion will support President Eisenhower in his position that "both management and labor make every possible effort to increase efficiency and productivity — so that price increases can be avoided."

Education Past 16

(Financial Post, Canada)

An educational program that's afoot in Britain is of interest to other countries.

It's proposed to raise the school-leaving age from 15 to 16; but this change would only bring the U. K. into line with present practice in North America and elsewhere.

A more original feature of the British scheme is compulsory part-time education for employed boys and girls aged 16 to 18. The idea is night-school for a start, but in the last phase of the program the part-time students would work gainfully for only three or four days a week and spend the other days in school.

The document containing these proposals is described by the U. K. Minister of Education as "likely to rank with the half-dozen reports that have had the most decisive influence on our educational thinking." This means it's pretty sure to be adopted as official policy.

In all countries there's a recognition that holding and doing a job, any kind of job, is going to call for more knowledge than used to be required.

How Wasteful Can We Be?

(Edw. Morrison in Morris Sun)

The Department of Agriculture earmarks $756 million to remove land from production.

The Commodity Credit Corporation budgets nearly $2.5 billion to remove surplus produce from the market.

The U.S. Department of Interior requests $216 million for dam building and irrigation programs to add more land to the productive capacity of the country.

And advocates of this philosophy seem to win votes by promising more of it.

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman ODIN LANGEN

The City of Washington and Capitol Hill greeted us in many ways as we returned for the second session of the 86th Congress. We were greeted, first of all, by a number of unresolved issues which have been carried over from the first session — issues such as civil rights, federal aid for school construction, minimum wage, farm legislation, and new social security regulations.

We were greeted also by a reminder that this is an election year Congress, and as such it will often be making statements and taking actions which will be a combination of lawmaking and electioneering. This will, in all probability, be especially true this year, since an unusually large number of Presidential possibilities presently reside in the United States Senate. As an election year Congress, the second session of the 86th is also expected to be a comparatively short one, with many predicting that it will complete the year's work by Independence Day so as to clear the stage for the national nominating conventions.

On the lighter side, we were greeted as we returned to Washington by a red Capitol dome. This unusual sight, caused temporarily by the color of a rust preventative with which the metal dome had been sprayed, caused one four-year-old, about a month ago, to observe that it "sure was nice that they painted the Capitol red for Christmas".

But this year as every year, perhaps the most significant greeting to the new session of Congress came from the President in his State of the Union message. This message is the annual report to the nation's stockholders and board of directors by the chairman of the board, and as such its purpose is to give the chief executive's opinions as to where we stand, where we are going, and how he feels we can best reach our national goals.

The keynote of this year's State of the Union Message was optimism — sometimes cautious and sometimes confident in the realm of our relations with the Soviet Union. President Eisenhower expressed guarded hope that the historic era of "personal diplomacy" upon which we and more especially he, have embarked will see progress toward the goal which he espoused in his recent 11 nation tour — namely, "peace and friendship in freedom."

On the domestic front, the chief executive received a substantial ovation when he announced that, despite the steel strike, it is expected that this year's budget will show a favorable balance of approximately $200 million and that next year's budget anticipates a surplus of $12 billion to be applied on the $290 billion national debt. The President's forthcoming budget message, therefore, will provide our country with a solid foundation upon which to enter the decade of the so-called "soaring Sixties", and no small part of the credit for this, together with the progress that is being made in the quest for peace, is due to the dedicated efforts of our Chief Executive.

And so, greeted by legislative assignments and election-year politics, a red Capitol dome, and an optimistic view of the State of the Union, the second session of the 86th Congress is on. In these weekly reports, I will attempt to keep you informed as to how it progresses from here.

FORD'S ECONOMY TWINS FOR 1960
The Economy Choice of a lifetime – Two new Fords . . . Two new low-price fields . . .
Two wonderful new ways to go "The Finest"

THE 1960 FORD FALCON
Now there's both a new economy-size Ford and a large economy-size Ford!
The new economy size is the Ford Falcon—America's lowest priced* 6-passenger car. It's up to $124 less than other 6-passenger cars in the compact field.* It goes up to 30 miles on a gallon of regular gas. Servicing is easy and repair costs are low. You can even save up to 15% on your insurance.
And the Falcon is the one American compact car that is thoroughly 'proved' for American driving. "There's room for 6 people—luggage and all."
THE 1960 FORD FAIRLANE 500
Now consider the large economy-size Ford, the Fairlane 500. Here is the most car per dollar ever built. The Fairlane 500 brings you fine-car styling, luxury and comfort, yet it offers Falcon economies like regular gas, 4,000 mile oil changes, double-life aluminized mufflers, and no more waxing. Take the Falcon, too, it brings you big price news: $142 less than last year's popular Fairlane 500!
Come see, come save, come pick the Ford economy twin that saves and serves you best. Visiting hours as usual at your Ford Dealer's.

Your Minnesota Blue Shield Plan Reports on Integrated Service

As you may already know, your Minnesota Blue Shield medical-care plan has entered a new phase of its 12-year history of growth. Loyal Blue Shield subscribers, and members of the general public as well, deserve to be told what this means.

A system of integrated service has been instituted through which all matters pertaining to your medical-care coverage will be handled directly by Blue Shield. (It should be said at once that this is solely an organizational development and, as explained fully below, in no way affects the status or coverage of your contract.)

This new method of operation has come about chiefly as the result of Minnesota Blue Shield's determination to bring welcome new benefits to subscribers and to be assured of the freedom to further expand benefits in the future, guided only by your needs and desires.

A Minnesota Blue Shield Division of Enrollment and Service has already been established. Representatives of this division will offer you specialized service, concentrating their full attention on your medical-care protection. One of these Minnesota Blue Shield representatives will be calling soon for a personal visit with your group leader, or, if desired, with your entire group.

Your family doctor will also be glad to talk with you about the new Blue Shield integrated service program.

In the meantime, we wish to allay any doubts or uncertainty you may feel concerning your medical-care coverage. The following will, we are confident, answer the questions which may be in your mind and provide definite assurance that you should retain your Blue Shield coverage.

Q Is my Blue Shield coverage still in effect? Do I still have the same protection for medical-surgical-obstetrical and other care provided by my doctor of medicine?

A Yes. Your Minnesota Blue Shield contract has continued in effect without change or interruption and will remain in force, provided, naturally, that subscription charges are duly paid.

Q Is the extent or nature of my coverage affected in any way?

A No. You now receive and will continue to receive the same broad and reliable medical-surgical-obstetrical coverage, plus the diagnostic X-ray and diagnostic laboratory services being added to your contract.

It should perhaps be emphasized that Minnesota Blue Shield is, as it has been throughout its 12 years of existence, a state-wide, medically-sponsored organization, responsible solely to its subscribers, and participating doctors of medicines, whose only aim is to bring you excellent service and a superior quality of coverage.

Q Will integrated service mean higher rates?

A No. Charges for maintaining your present coverage will remain the same. On the anniversary date of your contract, diagnostic X-ray and diagnostic laboratory services (as described in your contract) are being added at an additional cost varying from two to six cents per day. If anything, the new organizational plan encourages Minnesota Blue Shield to look forward to providing broader benefits at the lowest possible cost. Please bear in mind, that Minnesota Blue Shield has never in its history increased rates without at the same time increasing benefits. And only twice in 12 years has there been any rate increase whatsoever. In fact, on several occasions it has been possible to increase your benefits without a raise in rates.

Q What are the special advantages I receive from my Blue Shield contract?

A There are many. The superior quality of the coverage it provides is just one. Your Blue Shield contract provides reliable and realistic coverage, scaled to your individual needs. You choose your own doctor of medicine wherever you go, as long as he is a licensed and registered doctor of medicine. Moreover, Minnesota Blue Shield's record over the years amply justifies your loyalty. Never in its 12 years of existence has Minnesota Blue Shield canceled a contract because of the age, condition of health or the amount of medical care required by the subscriber. No subscriber has been penalized for reaching the age of 65. Nor has anyone been deprived of coverage because, after becoming a Blue Shield subscriber, he acquires diabetes, heart disease or some other chronic ailment. But undoubtedly you already have reasons of your own for remaining loyal to Blue Shield; perhaps you gratefully remember liberal allowances received in time of need, or perhaps you recall a time when some member of your family required constant medical attendance for a long period and Blue Shield's emergency protection came to your aid.

A The answer is emphatically "Yes". Minnesota Blue Shield is confident that it will maintain its present position and will continue to grow by extending broader and more liberal benefits to an even more widespread group of subscribers. Blue Shield's record of growth is unmistakable proof that its services fill a vital need. Established just 12 years ago, the plan today has more than 865,000 subscribers and 3100 participating physicians. As a non-profit organization dedicated to public health, Minnesota Blue Shield pledges itself to serve you and your family with coverage of a superior quality. This goal is perhaps the best assurance of continued progress and growth.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE
Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!
New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.
New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. Now rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.
Electronically Balanced Wheels
New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.
Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. Now key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

Diet Closely Related to Condition of Teeth

(This is another in a series of articles published by the Bureau in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, February 7 to 13.)

America often is called the "land of milk and honey" because of its high standard of living.

Yet, prosperity has brought problems, even in the dietary realm of milk and honey.

Undernourished persons often are found among the rich. Americans in abundance have been discovered between a low intake of calories and iron, and, any, tooth decay by scientists at National Institute of Dental Research, Bethesda, Md.

This discovery helps transform the need of Americans to pay careful attention to diet because of its relations and possibilities to see so great.

The young growing child whose teeth are developing needs a diet that will provide adequate amounts of the building materials found in good nutrition. The foods that contribute to good general health also are important for the development of healthy teeth. But of equal importance are the foods one should not eat.

After the teeth have erupted, children should not be allowed to have excessive and frequent helpings of sugar-rich foods, especially between meals.

Studies have shown that acids produced in the mouth during the fermentation of sugars, and especially sugars—are a major factor in causing dental decay.

For this reason, consumption of sweets, such as candy, pastry, chewing gum, and sugared soft drinks, should be kept at a minimum. Experts agree that essential daily foods for adequate nutrition should include milk, vegetables, fruits, eggs, meat and butter.

Milk should be selected for its chief physical character as itself as their nutritional qualities. Many illness or from fruits and vegetables act as natural foods. Examples of such foods are carrots, celery, apples and oranges.

Brushing after meals and snacks is an important adjunct to the principle of nutritious diet. Brushing helps remove food debris that might, if left, lead to decay. However, the best brushing to using a toothbrush after eating is to rinse one's mouth with water.

While living in the "land of milk and honey" we may have to work at it, but it will be balanced diet light or eager will help build and maintain healthy sound teeth.

Safety Chief Warns of Skids on Icy Roads

Death at an expensive skid mark may be close to you as it sets stench of glare ice on highways and streets in this area, Safety Chief Ralph Patton, warned today.

"A safe speed today before you get to the ice won't be a safe speed after you get on it," Patton pointed out, "because it takes about 12 to twenty times as far to stop on ice as it does on dry pavement."

The state director pointed out that even with the reliable and tried reminders type tire chains, even by the operation on such driving hazards of the National Safety Council, a car moving at speeds of 25 miles an hour on glare ice, and 35 miles an hour on hard packed snow, give good valiant stopping distance to 50 feet on glare ice and 100 feet on hard packed snow.

Regarding driving on hard packed snow-ice have to tackle down in the hard feet the same driving hazards call for extra caution. Tires must be tried, inadequate traction or existing skids. Be sure to maintain a safe distance. Don't crowd the driver in front of you.

Stephen "To obtain the best possible traction on ice and snow packed pavement, make sure you have your car with good quality tires, drivers feel safer with snow tires on the rear wheels," Patton added. Speed must be adjusted to fit existing conditions. Pull away from a stopped position gradually, and allow longer distances for stopping. Don't drive on a slip on slippery surfaces."

Thursday: Senior choir rehearsal 7:45 p.m. Mid week service, 7:00 p.m.

Saturday: Junior Confirmands meet at 9:15 a.m. Senior Confirmands meet at 10:15 a.m. Junior choir rehearsal 1:15 p.m. Children's Chapel over Station KTRF every Saturday 9:30 a.m.

Sunday: First Sunday after Epiphany. Two worship services 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Divided Sunday School. Primary department nursery thru 3rd grades meet at 9 a.m; 4th grades thru high school meets at 10:05 a.m. We have two nurseries. The 11 a.m. nursery takes babies thru 5 yrs of age; the 9 a.m. nursery receives children from 3 to 5 years.

Sunday there will be a change in opening exercises for the Primary department. The experiment of having the children come in for opening liturgy and be dismissed was to be tried until the second semester and then evaluate the results. It would appear that it did not accomplish adequately our expectations. Therefore Sunday morning at 9 a.m. the first grades, second and third will have their own short service before the basement altar. This will be called Children's Church and we will seek to impress upon them that this is Church. We think this will be better, at least we are seeking to do the best for your children's spiritual life.

Monday: Boy Scouts Troop 59 meets 7:30. Annual meeting 8:00 p.m.

Wednesday: Religious instruction, 11 a.m.

Every Sunday morning over Station KTRF Zion Lutheran Church broadcasts at 9:30 a.m. We are grateful for the large listening audience and your many letters that certainly encourage us. "Enter the church to worship; leave to serve."

America is a land of bells!

Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells . . . all speak of a country where Freedom from tyranny exists.

Radio chimes keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.

Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside the fetters of worry that shackle our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.

Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DIRECTOR Harry Oen, well-known farmer of Rocksbury township, was elected a member of the board of directors of the Union State bank at its annual meeting last Tuesday.

Providing telephone service for the ever increasing need for communication facilities for Thief River Falls in 1959 has kept Northwestern Bell busier than ever, G. A. Hale, local manager said today.

We installed 183 telephones here in 1959, bringing the year-end total to 3,606, an all time high," he said. "Long distance calls originating from Thief Falls amounted to 383,648 or an average of 1,176 each business day. This is an increase of 51,785 over 1958."

Among telephone projects that affected Thief River Falls during the year were the new micro wave system and additional switching equipment to handle long distance calls.

Northwestern Bell was busy throughout the rest of Minnesota as well. The company spent approximately $32 million in 1959 for construction of expanded and improved telephone service for its 700,000 Minnesota customers. Current planning now contemplates the expenditure of around $37 million in 1960 to take care of absolescense, meeting expanded customer demand and providing improved service facilities.

One of the telephone highlights in Minnesota during 1959 was the installation of the one-millionth telephone last May. Over 61,500 telephones were added during the year, bringing the total to 1,043,000 at the start of 1960. The company estimates that some 71,000 telephones will (Continued on Page 3)

Desperate Escapees from Federal Prison Are Nabbed in Warren

Three desperate escapees from the Sandstone federal penitentiary were recaptured in Warren late Saturday, after a highway patrolman saw them driving on highway with improper lights.

Patrolman Verland Roed, Hallock, attempted to arrest the three escapees but they ran and he radioed for aid, which came in the persons of Patrolman Harold R. Rosten and Warren Policeman Harold Steffen.

The men, John C. Jeffers, 28, New Jersey; James A. Aga, 24, South Dakota, and George Lundquist, 21, Minneapolis, were then captured and taken to Warren, where they were to be booked on traffic violations.

However, they were recognized as the much-hunted Sandstone escapees by Sheriff Oscar Erickson and jailed in separate cells, minus clothing, to prevent an escape atempt from the Warren jail.

Erickson said the three men remarked that they would not have submitted to arrest by Roed alone, even though they were not armed at the time. They also made remarks to the effect the jail in Warren would not be too difficult to break out of, which was the reason for their being stripped of clothing.

Authorities returned the convicts to Sandstone Sunday.

Offers Advice on Church Suppers

Home Economics Teacher Urges Careful Planning

How much profit can be made from church suppers and other community meals depends on good planning and on the amount of food and labor donated according to Mary Jo Hitchcock, assistant professor of home economics at the University of Minnesota.

Amount clientele can pay for a meal, total food costs and wise planning of both menu and help are all factors to be considered in determining the profit a group can make from a community meal.

Miss Hitchcock spoke Friday morning on the St. Paul campus at a Farm and Home Week program for homemakers.

The menu is the key both to the relative cost of the meal and to the best use of the worker's time. The simpler the menu is, the better, Miss Hitchcock said. She recommended avoiding menus costly in money and in time. As foods costly in time she listed those which must be individually handled such as tarts, biscuits, baked stuffed potatoes, veal birds and meat patties.

Since the meat around which the menu is built will determine cost of the meal, a moderate cost menu might feature chicken, ham, steaked fish, ground or cubed meat. Meat that is creamed or extended with eggs and bread crumbs might be used for low-cost meals.

Friday morning's session for homemakers also included talks on stain removal and on lamb cookery.

Mack's CANDID COMMENT

By V. M. DRAYER

I've been doing more reading the past few days and came across a couple more items of interest, which lead to a question.

Is there a basic difference in Canadian and U. S. co-operatives?

In a recent news story in a co-op house organ a Canadian co-operative leader says that with ever-increasing abundance of goods we now have there is hope the profit motive can be eliminated everywhere for the first time in history.

The second item of interest was an advertisement sponsored by several large and some local co-operatives in the Times a few years ago. This advertisement stressed the importance of competition in our world today.

Which of these should we believe? If there's no profit motive, what incentive exists to spur competition? Thus my question —do the goals of our own co-operatives and those across the border constitute a major difference?

Profit is the goal, the incentive, the farmer needs to plant his crops year after year. Profit is that surplus that lets all of us enjoy some of the niceties of life after we've paid expenses. There's nothing wrong with profit so long as it isn't too unevenly distributed.

If we eliminate the profit motive, as this Canadian thinks we should, are we to have just exactly enough—no more, no less —than it takes to clothe, feed and house us?

Sounds to me like an awful rut—the kind the Soviets are in now. I've always thought co-operatives were just another phase of private enterprise for the benefit of participants and I still do—but I certainly hope they don't go for the kind of baloney our Canadian friend is peddling!

This mild weather certainly has helped to take the sting out of an otherwise dreary season. Of course it's early and we could have an awful lot of —30 weather in February and March, but one is forced to admit that the winter, thus far, has come close to being pleasant.

More of nature's creatures apparently think so, too. There was a report some robins were seen by a local resident in Thursday's Times and just over a week ago I saw what looked very much like a flock of ducks in the distant sky north of town.

You can take the above statement for what it's worth—I've been on the wagon a long time, but to make sure my eyes weren't deceiving me I'd like to hear from someone who saw the same flock of birds. Remember, I said they LOOKED like ducks —not that they WERE ducks.

You'll have to go a long time to hear a more ironical story than that of County Auditor Charley Rodekuhr. As you know, he went all through the Normandy invasion June 6, 1944, escaping all the shot and shell flying around then and during the rest of the war—then comes home and is struck down by polio less than a year later.

George Grim, well known columnist for the Tribune, tells of a fellow who has had the experience of having someone attempt a left turn in front of him from the right traffic lane, to the tune of about $375 damages. This, of course, is no worse than making a right turn from the center lane—across someone who is in the right lane for such a turn.

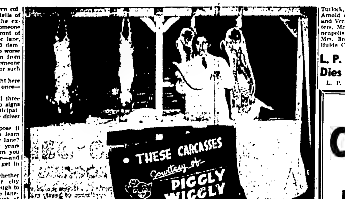
Luckily for yours truly all three instances occurred at stop signs and each instance was anticipated from the actions of the driver in the other car.

How long do you suppose it will take some people to learn to drive the correct traffic lane? It has been preached for years that to make a right turn you get as far right as possible—and to make a left turn you get in the center lane.



The lanes are there, whether painted or not—and our city streets are plenty wide enough to drive the proper lanes. The lane-straddler is almost as much of a nuisance as a slowpoke driver.

We haven't heard of an epidemic of broken left arms lately —but one would think there was such an epidemic, judging from the number of people who don't signal their turns, or if they do signal, do so the moment they start turning.

OVERFAT pigs result in carcasses with a high amount of waste, Dr. Woodrow Aunan, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Minnesota, showed the audience at the Meat Institute Friday afternoon, Jan. 15. Using sides of overfat lambs and hogs, Dr. Aunan demonstrated the percentage of waste in comparison to sides from meat-type animals. His talk was followed by a demonstration of the use of a fat probe on live animals by Dr. Robert Jacobs, extension livestock specialist.

with an exhibit of Dollard red clover.

Andrew Skaar, rt. 1, won the sweepstake prize in the grass seed competition for an exhibit of Climax timothy; Lon Szymanski of Goodridge won the potato sweepstake with an exhibit of the Kennebec variety; Drew Larson of Red Lake Falls won the corn sweepstake; a corn silage exhibit won the sweepstake prize for LaVerne Johnson, rt. 5, and Elmo Swenson of St. Hilaire won a sweepstake prize with an exhibit of alfalfa hay.

The noon bean feed, which had been prepared for 150 persons, was delayed for a short time when nearly twice as many persons attended as were expected.

Arthur Tweet, the principal noon speaker, was introduced by J. B. Bridston, former North Dakota state senator and a leading Grand Forks businessman. Bridston pointed out the relatively high standard of living in the Scandinavian countries did not compare with those in the United States, and suggested that a trip to that area would make many of the citizens of this country more satisfied with what they now have.

Arthur Tweet, a native of the Thief River Falls area, who now owns grocery stores in Grand Forks, said that any community is nothing more than a group of individuals with interdependent interests and that there are those who try to put a dividing fence between farmers and townspeople.

"Our greatest danger is from within," Tweet said, "and from those who would destroy free enterprise and the churches and government of our nation." He added that we could all promote our country by telling our young people of the good things that exist rather than tearing down the heroes of the United States and our system of government.

The noon address was followed by a discussion on livestock production.

Robert Jacobs, extension livestock specialist, pointed out the benefits of sheep, hog and beef production in northwestern Minnesota and said that farmers would do well to consider a livestock program to supplement or replace grain income. This is especially true on farms where dairying has been discontinued and barns are standing idle. A farmer with 300 ewes can make $4500, he said. This is the labor return after all of the feed, housing, equipment, and other costs of production are paid. Jacobs also covered other approved practices in sheep, swine and beef production.

Woodrow Aunan, PhD, University of Minnesota, explained the differences found in the carcasses displayed before the audience. In slicing up the meat type and overfat hog carcass Aunan showed that the meat type hog yielded 41% lean meat cuts as compared to 25% from the overly fat hog. The overly fat hog weighed 208 pounds when live as compared to 200 pounds for the live weight of the lean hog. Although these carcasses were very good and very poor there is a distinct difference in hogs as pointed out in the demonstration.

Jacobs then gave a probing demonstration on a live hog supplied by H. E. Loggans of St. Hilaire. The probes showed the hog would yield over 40% lean cuts or would hang up a very good carcass. All farmers planning to buy a boar should insist on probing a hog. Amount of fat is 60% inherited and only boars which probes show to yield a high percentage of lean cuts should be used for breeding purposes.

Farmers also were encouraged to fatten out their lambs instead of shipping out feeder lambs. Carl Spong of the Central Livestock Shipping assn. stated that well over 25% of the lambs leaving the northwest are feeder lambs which go into feedlots in other areas. With good pastures and some grain to the latter lambs these sheep could be fattened in this area giving the farmer the extra income. Wilbur Hallstrum of St. Hilaire provided lambs which farmers had a chance to examine for degree of finish and be better able to determine the finish in their own lambs when shipping next fall.

Quiz Conducted at K.C. Meeting

Local Council Competes with Group from Argyle

A catechetical quiz was a feature of the meeting of the Knights of Columbus Thursday evening at St Bernard's hall.

The quiz was between members of Our Lady of Lourdes council of Thief River Falls and the Bishop Corbett council of Argyle. Rev. Carriere of Brooks was the quizmaster with Rev O'Toole of Crookston and Rev Cardin of Oklee as judges.

Other features of the program were a talk on his recent trip to the state convention by Medard Yutlzenka, district deputy from Argyle, and slides taken in northern Canada in 1958 when Rev O'Toole was on a missionary trip in the Arctic Circle area.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the meeting.

District Office for '60 Census to Be in Crookston

Chauncey M. Carlson Is Appointed Supervisor to Direct Operations

Chauncy M. Carlson will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 16 crew leaders and 250 census takers in the following counties: Becker, Beltrami, Clay, Clearwater, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Otter Tail, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Roseau and Wilkin.

Taking the 1960 census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts.

Duties of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew leader training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and direct supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an advance census report form, a new census taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

Crookston Mayor Calls for Economy

Urges Council to Live Within Budget for 1960

W. C. Nimens, Crookston's new mayor, voiced an appeal to "live within our city budget" in his first talk before the 1960 Crookston city council. "The budget should not be increased except to pay for present services which may become more expensive in months to come," he said.

The new head of the city government noted that "our resources have been strained to the utmost and taxes pushed much higher may result in discouraging further building in the city.

"It would seem, therefore, that until present city indebtedness is somewhat reduced and the absolutely necessary improvement and repairs accomplished, we should be very cautious before beginning any more new projects which would result in considerable expense to the city."

Nimens who said that there are "retired folks, old age pensioners and people with small salaries who are homeowners who object to the tremendous expense" suggested that a council group be established to study the problem of tax assessments for new paving, sidewalks and gutters.

Minnesota's professional Veterinarians, meeting in St Paul for their 63rd annual convention January 25-27, will discuss plans to intensify their slowly winning drive against diseases that are losing the dairy, livestock, and poultry farmers of the state millions of dollars each year.

The three day seminar at the St Paul Hotel will bring some of the outstanding experts of the country to discuss new techniques and scientific advancement in the control of animal diseases. The meeting will point up the fact that medical science is making as rapid strides in combating animal diseases as it is against human diseases: good news indeed for the $600,000,000 livestock and poultry industry of the state.

The Soo Line Employes' Credit union held its sixth annual meeting at the Eagles hall Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, with good attendance despite slippery road conditions.

Richards Attends Sheriffs Parley

Annual Convention Held in St. Paul Jan. 14 to 16

Sheriff Charles Richards returned home Saturday evening after attending the Minnesota Sheriffs' association convention held Jan 14, 15 and 16 at the Lowry Hotel in St Paul. Approximately 70 sheriffs attended the convention, Richards said.

Among the resolutions passed was one which asks for additional crime bureau agents to aid the sheriffs. It was brought out that there are indications to show Twin City burglars are working throughout the state and that addition of more agents would help the county enforcement officers to curtail the burglars' activities in rural areas.

Other resolutions concerned restriction of motor boat operations to persons 16 and over and would also further curb water skiing in state waters, Richards said.

This Area Misses Heavy Snowfall

Central Midwest Is Hit by Storm over Weekend

Northwestern Minnesota again missed the heavy snow which has blanketed the central midwest and eastern sections of the United States over the weekend and the clouds which covered the sky this morning cleared early after a night which saw the mercury drop to one degree.

Cloudy, windy and colder have been predicted for today and tonight with scattered snow flurries and local blowing snow. The KTRF forecast also calls for mostly cloudy and cold tomorrow.

High temperatures since last Thursday have ranged from 1? to 19 degrees and lows from two degrees above zero the night of Jan. 16 to —12 the night of Jan. 11.

About one in five Americans suffer from tired eyes because of lack of glasses when they are needed or the wearing of wrong glasses. Fortunately, the eyes of a healthy person seemingly never lose the ability to recover from eyestrain.

Thieves Drop 2d Game to Pirates

Crookston Sextet Wins Sunday Afternoon 8-4

The senior hockey Thieves dropped their second successive game to the Crookston Pirates on Sunday when, in a game played at Crookston, the locals were beaten, 8 to 4, by the Pirates.

Next Sunday, in an afternoon game on the Arena ice here, the Winnipeg Tobins, a well-rated squad, will play the Thieves in an exhibition game. Face-off time for Sunday's game will be at 2:30 p.m.

Coach Bud Salem's Pirates jumped into a 4 to 0 lead in the first period of play on Sunday, and then were held on even terms during the second and third periods. George Schlieff connected for a "hat trick" three-goal performance for the Thieves, getting a pair of tallies in the second period and adding a single goal in the third period.

Commr. L. P. Zimmerman Demotes Him Wednesday

Paul R. Martz was removed as Minnesota highway patrol chief Wednesday by L. P. Zimmerman, state highway commissioner, in a clash over department policies.

Leo M. Smith, assistant chief the last three years, was named to replace Martz, who was demoted to the rank of captain.

Martz, chief of the 330-man patrol since 1954, indicated he would accept reassignment in the field as a captain.

Zimmerman issued a brief statement saying he had had a "full and frank discussion on highway department policies," and that "I have determined that it would be in the best interests of the department to reduce Martz to the rank of captain.

Smith has been with the patrol 17 years. He became a captain in 1954, replacing Martz as head of the Rochester district when Martz became patrol chief.

Prowlers in 3-3 Tie with Roseau

The two teams engaged in a five-minute overtime period in an attempt to break the deadlock, but the two goalies, Wayne Halvorson of the Prowlers and all-state tournament goalie Dick Roth of the Rams, failed to yield and the game entered the record books as a 3-all tie.

This week's schedule will find the Prowlers travelling to Williams for a conference game on Tuesday night; and on Saturday night, the Baudette Bears will meet the Prowlers in a conference game on the Arena ice. On Monday night, Jan. 25, the Prowlers will play the Grand Forks Redskins in the Winter Sports building on the UND campus in Grand Forks.

Saturday night's game, which had attracted state-wide attention, fulfilled the expectations of the most rabid fans, being a splendid exhibition of hockey by the state's top-ranked high school squads.

Burly Don Ross, another of Roseau's contingent of all-state tournament selections, and who is the seige gun of the Ram's attack, noched the game's opening goal when, from just out in front of the south goal, he crammed a rebound past goalie Wayne Halvorson, scoring at the 4:13 mark. The Prowlers evened the score at 1-all at the 10:14 mark of the period when Eddie Holmes, after carrying the puck across the north blue-line, pulled the trigger on his slap-shot and beat goalie Dick Roth with a waist-high drive that whistled into the net just inside the right goal-post. With but six seconds of play in the period remaining, Arlan Hjelle, just off to the right of the cage, picked up Wennberg's rebound and dunked the puck into the net, giving the Prowlers a 2 to 1 lead.

The Prowler lead was short-lived as the Rams, with Ross getting a pass from Larry Stordahl, who had gone into the north-west corner of the rink to recover the puck from the Prowler defense, rifling a hard shot past Halvorson after just 16 seconds of the period had elapsed. Stordahl, at the 8:56 mark, eluded the Prowler defense and, from 30 feet out and to the left of the north goal, hit the far corner of the cage to give the Rams a 3 to 2 lead.

In the five-minute overtime period, both teams had opportunities to break the tie, but the respective goalies were unyielding.

What More Could be Fairer?

The 16- or 1700 fans who were fortunate enough to find a nook or cranny in the Arena Saturday night for the Roseau vs. Thief River Falls high school hockey game were witnesses to one of the finest games played here. After 36 minutes of playing time the score was deadlocked at 3-all and after a five-minute overtime period the score was still in a 3-all knot. And that's the way the game will be entered into the record book.

It's unfortunate that crowd accommodations at the Arena are so limited, for the school authorities were forced to turn back several hundred fans who were anxious to attend the game. The enlargement of the Arena, both as to the ice surface and the crowd facilities, is a project that merits the attention of both the city and the school officials.

That the two teams skated out on the ice to play hockey can be judged by the fact that referees Paul Bedard and Dave Hendrickson whistled but two penalties, both minor infractions. Charles Oseid of the Rams was given a penalty for covering the puck during a melee in front of the Roseau net in the second period.

The two teams will play a return game on the Roseau ice on Saturday night, Feb. 6. It's not too early for the fans to make arrangements to be on hand for that tussle. While there is plenty of room in that spacious Roseau arena, the game will perhaps attract a standing-room-only crowd.

Dividends

That Plummer's Wally DuChamp, the claimant to the Red Lake county golf title, continues to receive dividends on that hole-in-one that he scored while playing the course here last summer was evident this week. The Kiewel's Products delivered a case of ginger ale, with the compliments of the Canada Dry company, to Wally in recognition of his feat.

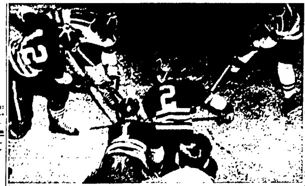
Wally made his hole-in-one when he scored an eagle ace on the fourth hole, holing out his tee shot. If he had taken that golf ball out of play and sent it in to the manufacturer, the company would have mounted the ball as a trophy. But confident Wally used the ball for his tee shot on number five, and the result was a hook that carried it into the river by the pump house.

Fish and Fishing

Most of the outdoor activities excitement that we noticed at Bemidji last week was occasioned by the ice fishermen. That's quite a village that the boys have established out on Lake Bemidji.

And that the boys aren't spending too much time playing cards is evidenced by the fish that are being brought into town. Harold Lehn, one of Bemidji's veteran fishermen, caught a 16-lb 6 oz walleyed pike last week. That monster was within a couple of ounces of the state record, and it did break the record for the biggest walleye to be taken out of Lake Bemidji.

We have been questioned as to the licenses that an angler requires to hook-and-line fish from a dark house. Providing that the dark house has a license, and all of the resort owners who cater to the winter fishermen have licensed houses, the angler requires a valid angling license, at a fee of one dollar and a half. A nonresident needs a special license, which carries a four dollar fee. If the angler also wishes to engage in spearing he will need a spearing license in addition to his angling license, and this fee is one dollar.



The Midgets

The VFW Midgets are playing some entertaining hockey, and we'll make modest wager that in a year or two or three the majority of these boys will be on the Prowler varsity 'B' squads.

Playing in the one-day two-game VFW series at Roseau on Saturday night, the local Midgets dropped a 4 to 0 decision to the Rice Street VFW Midgets of St. Paul in the first game. The powerful Roseau Midgets, by a 9 to 0 score, defeated the Belvedere Hawks, also a St. Paul VFW squad, in the second game.

Don't be surprised if the Midget line of Elroy Frolland, center, and Don Mathieu and Wayne Loeffler, wings, appear as Prowler 'B' squad prospects next season. They show polish in the manner they toss the puck around the ice.

Bemidji 'B's Trim Prowler 'B' Quint

Register 56-40 Victory at Bemidji Thursday

Trailing by three points, 30 to 27, at the intermission, coach Jack Louma's Bemidji 'B' team erupted for 16 points in the third period while limiting the Prowlers 'B' team to two points to gain a 43 to 32 lead at the end of the quarter. In the final period, the Jacks outpointed the locals, 13 to 8, to boost the Bemidji point total to 56, while coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowlers garnered 40 points to lose the preliminary basketball game played on the BSC floor at Bemidji on Friday night.

The first two periods of the game developed into a scoring duel between the Prowlers' Harvey Ebbighausen, who looped in six field goals and three free throws for 15 points and Bemidji's southpaw Jack Phelps, who rang up five field goals and three free throws for 13 points. Phelps added five goals in the second half to take the game's scoring honors with 23 points.

Bemidji Again Whips Prowlers

Led by a pair of hard-driving and sturdy-legged guards — Bob Glas and Lee Fawbush — and with left forward Larry Higgins acting as a swingman in sliding into the free throw circle to loft one-handed tosses into the basket, the Bemidji Lumberjacks defeated a jittery Prowler squad, 63 to 40, in a Northwest conference basketball game played on the spacious court in the new BSC gymnasium in Bemidji on Friday night.

The Prowlers will continue in Northwest conference competition this week when they meet coach Harold (Snooks) Sullivan's surprising East Grand Forks Little Green Wave on the local court on Friday night.

In spite of committing six offensive errors, in which they gave up possession of ball without getting a basket try, the Prowlers were within reach of the Lumberjacks at the end of the first period of play on Friday night, trailing by a 15 to 12 score. Bemidji jumped into a 4 to 0 lead on a pair of field goals by Higgins and John Phillips, that were the result of Prowler errors. And the Jacks held a 9 to 3 lead midway through the period. The Prowlers, on a pair of field goals by Bob Pearson, a hook shot by Steve Embury, a lay-up by Ron Hanson, and a free throw by Ron Solheim, sliced the Bemidji lead to 15 to 12 at the end of the first quarter.

Hanson, taking a pass from Pearson, dropped a field goal in to the south basket, and the Prowlers were back in the game, one point behind the Jacks, 15 to 14. But the Prowler hopes were quickly dampened as Phillips, on an under-the-basket try, looped a backhanded shot into the basket, and Glas, taking a pass from Higgins who covered a Prowler-controlled tip in the Bemidji zone, dribbled in for a lay-up shot.

The Prowlers, who were guilty of nine mechanical errors in the second period, faded during the late minutes and Bemidji moved into a 32 to 21 lead at the intermission.

The Lumberjacks continued their alert play in the third period and outpointed the Prowlers to gain a commanding 47 to 29 advantage entering the final quarter.

The Prowlers did make a brief spurt in the final period, scoring six consecutive points on field goals by Solheim and Don Ulferts and a pair of free throws by Hanson, but Phillips and Higgins added four points to boost the Jacks to a 57 to 38 lead.

Higgins, with 18 points, was the game's high point player, with Glas scoring 14 points for runner up honors. The Prowler scoring was paced by Hanson with 12 points, and Pearson, with 10 points.

Schedule, Wednesday, Jan. 20th: Knox at Washington.

Playing before a crowd that jam-packed the Northrop school gymnasium, coach Phil Beadle's league-leading Indians defeated the Washington Wildcats, 29 to 12, on Thursday afternoon.

Washington jumped into an early lead when Bobby Brodin loped in a corner shot from ten feet out. The Indians, with Tommy Cummings, Dennis Hanson, and Billy Weigelt leading the attack, scored ten points in the first period and added eight points in the second period to take an 18 to 4 lead at the half.

The smaller Washington players had difficulty throughout the game in rebounding and in getting open shots at the basket. The Indians' center, Hanson, was especially effective in blocking the Wildcats shots and in controlling the rebounds and setting up Northrop's fast break attack.

The next game in the grade school series will be played at Northrop on Wednesday afternoon with the Knox Tigers meeting the Indians. Tip off time is at 4:15 P.M.

Answers Questions Concerning Soil Bank

With many farm and town people asking questions about the Conservation Reserve, its objectives and how it fits into the national farm program, Chairman Edward A. Johnson of the Marshall Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee today gave the following answers to some of the questions most commonly asked:

Q. What is the purpose of the Conservation Reserve?

A. Its main purpose is to withdraw cropland from production for the present and thus help check surpluses that hurt farm prices and income. At the same time it assures that the acres taken out of production are devoted to conservation uses.

Q. Is this the same program that is sometimes called the Soil Bank?

A. Yes. The Soil Bank originally had two parts. There was the Acreage Reserve, which applied to a few main crops, and the Conservation Reserve, which applies to total cropland. The Acreage Reserve was discontinued, and the Conservation Reserve is now the entire Soil Bank program.

Q. How is the program carried out?

A. Through contracts voluntarily entered into between farmers and the government. The farmer agrees to hold specific land out of production and devote it to conservation uses. The Government makes an annual per-acre payment to the farmer for the life of the contract and pays part of the cost of establishing grass, trees, or some other conservation use on the land.

Q. Is all farmland eligible to be put in the Conservation Reserve?

A. No. It must be classed as cropland and, generally speaking, must have produced a crop or been in a regular crop rotation during the year immediately preceding the first year of the contract.

Q. May a farmer put all his cropland in the Conservation Reserve?

A. Yes. In fact, that is encouraged, because it leaves no cropland available on the farm and thus assures reduced production. The family may continue to live on the farm and use the non-cropland, such as permanent pasture or orchard land. The Government payment provides some income, and the family keeps full control of the management of the farm.

Q. What does a farmer do for the payment he receives?

A. To help check surpluses in the national interest, the farmer gives up the opportunity he might have to make more money by farming the land. Also, he goes to considerable expense in carrying out a conservation practice on the land to protect it.

Q. Are many farmers willing to do this?

A. In each of the last two years, more farmers have applied for contracts than could be accepted within available funds.

Q. Does the program help non-farm people in any way?

A. Yes, it does. Accumulation of farm surpluses is wasteful for everyone—urban as well as farm people. The Conservation Reserve helps prevent this. It also protects the land so that consumers can be sure of abundant food and fiber in the future. An immediate benefit to urban people is the fact that the program encourages better conditions for wildlife and thus provides hunting and fishing for sportsmen.

Q. What about the cost of the program?

A. For all the land in the program through the 1959 crop season, the rental payment per acre averages $11.53. Payments range from a low of about $6 an acre to a high of $25, and a substantial amount of high-producing land has been placed in the program.

Q. Is the program getting getting results?

A. The results to date are encouraging. The amount of land in the Conservation Reserve in 1960 will amount to more than six per cent of the country's total cropland and an even higher percentage of the land normally devoted to crops. A survey shows that this land would normally have produced large quantities of leading crops, especially corn, oats, grain sorghum, wheat, barley and soy beans, to add to existing surpluses.

State School Board Assn. OKs Resolutions

Emery Lindesmith, Owatonna, and Florence Lehmann, Minneapolis, Wednesday were elected president and vice president of the Minnesota School Boards association.

In the closing session of its three-day convention in St Paul at which the Thief River Falls schools were represented by board President Arnold Pearson and Supt. Irwin Mickelson, the association also passed resolutions that:

URGED a state-wide law specifying age for entering school "with due consideration to special accelerated programs for gifted children."

OPPOSED reduction in the amount of state-aid-for-school bus transportation, such as would result from a plan currently proposed by the state department of education.

OPPOSED granting any federal or state tax money to private or parochial schools.

Arthur Naftalin, Minnesota commissioner of administration, Tuesday warned the gathering that the foreseeable increase in student population probably will require an increased legislature education appropriation of 20 million dollars in the next biennium — without increasing present state aid formulas.

However, he said, if the state's economy grows at the 1955-57 rate, increased income and ore tax collections could cover the gap. Approximately seven million dollars more could be raised through better tax collection, he added, if the state were to enact income tax withholding provisions.

State Employment Service Finds Jobs for 174,348 in '59

Starkey Reports Total for State Is Highest for Any Year Since 1956

People using the facilities of the Minnesota state employment service to solve their employment problems were placed in a total of 174,348 jobs during 1959, it was announced today by Frank T. Starkey, commissioner, department of employment security. This figure, Starkey said, represented a seven per cent increase over the 163,035 jobs filled during 1958 and was the highest total recorded by the 33 employment offices since 1956, when 180,527 placements were made.

People seeking nonfarm jobs through this service during 1959 were placed in 112,325 positions in private industry and government, Starkey pointed out, an increase of 19 per cent over the 94,162 nonagricultural placements made by the offices during 1958.

"The state employment service's function of finding jobs for people and people for jobs has come a long way in the past 20 years," Starkey said. "Back in 1940 our offices placed workers in 56,357 nonfarm jobs; our 1959 figure betters that by 98.6 per cent. We feel this demonstrates a growing acceptance on the part of both workers and employers of the complete employment services available, without fee, through the department's 33 offices in the State."

Editorials . . .

"I have been studying these 40 years, and I find that it has been so much time lost . . . I believe that I am composed of matter, but I have never been able to satisfy myself what it is that produces thought. I am even ignorant whether my understanding is a simple faculty like that of walking or digesting, or if I think in the same manner as I take hold of a thing with my hands . . . Progress Continues

During the decade of the '50s Thief River Falls has continued the rate of growth that started in the last years of the troublesome '30s. It was in 1929 that the city reversed the decline of that period, and from that time the progress has followed a fairly steady and consistent growth pattern.

There has been little deviation in that growth pattern during the past ten years. The city's population is now well over the 8,000 mark. Building permits during this period totaled $8,543,114. Annual bank debits increased by about 45% and the resources of our three bank and savings institutions doubled, rising from $9,440,827 to $18,-883,007.

The demand for electricity doubled again as it had in the preceding decade. In the '40s the ouput went up from about 4 million kilowatt hours to 9 million, and in the '50s the annual total went up from the 9 million figure to more than 20 million.

All of these indicators show healthy growth and there is no reason to believe the next ten years will be less favorable, and it should average out fairly well. With good management and proper planning we will of course be better able to improve our prospects. In this next decade, as in those of the past, our progress will depend to some extent on how well we manage our own affairs—public and private.

Peaceful Little Rock

Good citizens of Arkansas recognize the fact that the Little Rock revolution was a costly folly. The Arkansas Gazette, in an interesting appeal for new industry, admits that after the collision between Governor Faubus and the law of the Republic, Little Rock had not been looked upon favorably as a place to establish a new business.

"Admitting that there has been justification for the city's questionable reputation, the Gazette gives assurance that Little Rock has as much to offer outside capital as any other southern city, and perhaps more. To this point it makes this interesting statement:

"Yet there is one great distinction in Little Rock's favor. Here the trouble is past. In other Southern cities, and we take no satisfaction in this observation, the adjustment may be only beginning. In Little Rock the void between old custom and new law has been bridged by the application in good faith of the Pupil Assignment laws. Good order and public education have been restored and secured by the community's own leadership, in actions which have now been ratified both in the state courts and at the polls."

And as additional proof that the trouble is a part of the past and not of the present, the Gazette says:

"The men who dynamited two buildings and a city-owned automobile here last Labor Day have been brought to bar. One pleaded guilty, and three have been convicted; the fifth, awaiting trial, acknowledged his participation in testifying aganst another. The School Board which reopened the high schools, after restoring security to a formerly beleaguered corps of teachers, this week won an overwhelming vote of confidence: Two incumbents up for reelection won by margins of better than 2 to 1."

This is a most encouraging report. It justifies the hope that the segregation problem in the South will be solved. Gradually the area of segregation will be reduced and as it shrinks in size the process of change will gain momentum.

The peaceful solution of the Little Rock school integration problem may be attributed largely to the influence of the moderates in both the South and the North. Had the extremists prevailed there probably would have been much bloodshed then and less harmony now. The Little Rock solution establishes the pattern for peaceful integration throughout the South. Let the change be gradual.

College Costs

The Minneapolis Tribune has discovered that "The cost of college education has become so large that few families can take this in stride and pay for it out of current income."

But this is not a new and fearful fact. As far as we know, a college education has always been expensive. At no time have more than a comparatively few families been able to pay the cost out of current income. While college costs are higher today, as are all other costs, nevertheless a college education probably does not require a greater sacrifice by the average student or family than it has in the past.

We will go along with the Tribune in support of loans being made available for needy and deserving students. With the assurance that loans are available we would shift a larger share of the cost of a college education from the taxpayer and to the student. This would mean that the taxpayers would not be paying for the education of those who can well afford to pay all of the cost.

And in providing public funds for student loans we would place more emphasis on "deserving" as a qualification requirement. Too many of those now attending college are wasting their own time and the taxpayers' dollars. Many would be better served if they got themselves a job.

The Better Life?

"In a "Thank You" letter to the American people, David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, closes his expression of appreciation for "understanding, patience and support," with the declaration that "The More You Earn, The More You Buy."

That statement generally is true. But it is not always true. It is not true, for instance, when the bigger pay check buys less. And that is the reason for concern about the pay boost for steel workers.

The pay boost for steel workers will mean higher prices for steel. The pay boost for steel workers will result in pay boosts for many other workers and higher prices for many other commodities. The pay boost for steel workers will mean another swing up the inflation spiral and another cut in the buying power of the dollar. For a large segment of our population the pay boost for steel workers will mean a reduction in buying power and a lower standard of living.

The new steel contract will not mean "A Better Life for Every American," as Mr. McDonald says it will. On the contrary, considered in its long range effects, the new steel contract will not mean a better life for the average steel worker.

A few years ago the state had a comfortable balance of more than $50 million in its income tax fund for school purposes. That big balance was an unfortunate thing as it invited increases in school aid that the tax did not justify. We would have been much better off if the balance in the fund at that time had been used to reduce the state debt, thus discouraging the spending beyond our means. But the educators are a tough pressure group and they now have the spending geared to a program that will make necessary the new big tax increases.

Well, Mr. Khrushchev, have your scientists ever inflated a plastic balloon 250 miles up that expands to a size as big as a ten-story building?

Senator Harry Byrd is not getting excited about that surplus President Eisenhower predicts at the end of the next fiscal year. The Virginia Democrat seems to have little confidence in the judgment of his colleagues. Which is understandable.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover stated Saturday that the Communist party in America is "now more powerful, more unified and even more of a menace to our Republic," as a result of the recent vist by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. This is one warning that should be taken seriously by all of us.

A Leap Year Memo

(Northfield News)

It's Leap Year again . . . and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.

They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.

According to the encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of bothe highe and lowe estait" shall have the privilege of proposing during leap years.

If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound . . . unless he could show that another woman had prior claim on his affections.

The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man. If the edge of a scarlet flannel petticoat wasn't clearly visible, a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.

France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.

The gallant English supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break. But they backed up the custom by depriving a man of benefit of clergy if he scoffed at a leap year proposal.

Even if he didn't hurt the lady's feelings, he was obliged to present her with a silk gown . . . as a consolation prize.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Report from the Governor

by Orville L. Freeman

Just a week ago I received a report of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which highlights one of the most promising of today's educational developments. It describes the selection in 1959 of the fourth group of high school graduates from all over the United States to receive National Merit Scholarships for four years of college education.

Minnesota Ranks High

Of the 920 scholarships granted, thirty are to boys and girls from Minnesota. We can be proud of the fact that Minnesota ranks ninth among all the states in the number of these scholarships, ahead of many states that are larger than ours and surpassed only by states much larger than ours.

Another way of expressing this rank is that the scholarships from Minnesota constitute 3.3% of the total granted, although our population is only 1.9% of the national total. The high school seniors receive these awards on the basis of competition in several tests and other qualifying processes, intended to winnow students of highest excellence, regardless of race or religion.

Funds for Scholarships

These scholarships are financed by the Ford Foundation, the Carnegie Corporation, and ninety business corporations and foundations, including large and small businesses and AFL-CIO. They constitute a significant effort to provide adequate higher education for exceptionally talented young people on whom our nation must depend for future leadership.

Our Goals are Higher Yet

While we are proud of Minnesota's rank in this national program, we must set our goals still higher. We know that there are still too many of our gifted high school graduates who do not go on to college. We know, too, that many exceptionally able boys and girls in our elementary and secondary are not getting as much benefit from their years in school as they could if they were identified early and given special attention and opportunities commensurate with their abilities.

Official Action Planned

The Minnesota Legislature has created a Governor's Advisory Board on Handicapped, Gifted and Exceptional Children and this board has set up a special committee to recommend programs for the gifted. It has just completed a survey of Minnesota schools on the basis of which it plans to make recommendations for further legislation. Just as we in Minnesota have made great progress in providing special education for handicapped children, we hope to lend in a new program for our gifted.

Equality in Educational Opportunity

We believe in the importance of equality of opportunity—but we must recognize that "equal opportunity" does not mean "identical opportunity." True equality in educational opportunity means opportunity equally suited to the needs and abilities of each individual. It is only to the extent that we put this principle into practice that we can develop our human resources to their fullest.

Trained intelligence is essential to our progress and our survival. We need greater excellence in every field of endeavor—in science, in medicine, in teaching, in business, and in public service. We need more brilliant physicists and engineers. We need more brilliant minds dedicated to finding ways by which we can learn to live together peacefully. We need to give every child with the potential ability to contribute in any of the arts and sciences the fullest opportunity to make such contributions.

PEEKIN' into the PAST

THE LATEST THING

The cookstove shown above was a shiny new model in 1900. It was complete with a built-in tank for heating water and a warming shelf. In the background will be noted the woodbox and upon the walls are hanging herbs for seasoning.

The iron kettles and pots were serviceable but heavy for the housewife to handle and it took a long time to heat them up or cool them off. The cook could easily be a "slave" over a hot stove like this.

Improvements in food marketing as well as in stove manufacturing have liberated the housewife of today from stoves like the one in the photograph. Prepared mixes, frozen foods, easy desserts and uniform quality distinguish today's food market from the grocery store of yesteryear.

HERE'S TO YOU

On "Toasting"

Classic drink in medieval England during the Christmas-to-New Year's week was the wassail bowl, decorated with slices of toasted bread. The host drank to the health of those present. Eventually these wishes were referred to as "toasts." Today, the person who presides at a banquet is called a toastmaster, honoring his right to propose wishes for the good health of guests.

Guild Beginnings

Brewers were among the first tradesmen to unite in guilds for the maintenance of high standards. Brewing was a recognized trade in England before 1377. In 1422 there was a guild of brewers which occupied its own hall there.

Early State Brewers

Back in 1864, as the great Civil War was drawing to a close, John Hauenstein, Sr., and Andrew Betz founded a brewery in New Ulm near the winding Cottonwood River. Although completely wiped out by a cyclone in 1881, the Hauenstein Brewing Company has grown steadily. Today it is under the supervision of a third generation of Hauensteins, Hans P., who is president and general manager. For nearly a century, Minnesota brewers, their sons, and grandsons, have kept the wholesome traditions and heritage of fine brewing—blending these with 20th century know-how to contribute to Minnesota's economy and the pleasure of living here.

4-H Club Meets

A good attendance was noted when the Smiley 4-H club met Tuesday, Jan. 12. During the business meeting Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs Maurice Newton discussed the radio speaking contest and winter shows with the club members. Mrs. Norton Nelson reported on some of the information received at the 4-H institute and discussed planning recreation for a club meeting. The program presented by Sharon Knutson included community singing led by Ronnie Philipp, an action song directed by Gloria Philipp, a project talk on safe care and use of electricity by Orrin Helgeland, followed by open discussion, a skit by Sharon Rude and Dianne Folkedahl, and a project talk on food preparation by Nancy Newton. The committee for recreation consisting of Bobby McCrum, Howard Lee, and Michael Kraemer helped Nelda Lea Nelson and Sharon Knutson with games and relays. Dianne Folkedahl, a former member of Wyanriver, joined the the Smiley club. Lunch was served by the McCrum and Lee families.

Orrin Helgeland, Bobby McCrum, Barry Lee, and Alo Rude were the members from the Smiley 4-H club attending the electrification training session at the court house Saturday. They reported an interesting meeting presented by Les Kolfenheim from the Red Lake Electric Co op. Each one was given an opportunity to make an extension cord to take home with them.

Saturday evening visitors at the Robert Kraemer home were Mr. and Mrs. George Lindbloom and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heinze.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Torkelson and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Swanson and boys visited Mrs. Annie Olson in Thief River Falls Sunday evening.

Coffee guests at the Dennis Nelson home Wednesday were Mrs. Vivian McCrum, Miss Clara Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vande Streek of St Hilaire and Mr and Mrs. Norton Nelson and Lois.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Gust Berggren, mother of Mrs. Maurice Newton, is presently confined in the local hospital.

Callers during the week at the Anton Torkelson home were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Swanson and boys.

Bethany Aid to Meet

Mrs. Adam Lendobeja and Mrs. Rufus Olson will be hostesses when the Bethany Ladies Aid meets at the Adam Lendobeja home Thursday, Jan. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson returned home last week after spending two weeks visiting with their daughter and family, the Jim Froseths of Janesville, Wis. Enroute home they visited relatives in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Norman Johnson spent a few days at the home of her daughter, the Dave Sorvigs of St. Hilaire and returned home Thursday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Nelson, who are the parents of a son born Jan. 15.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I borrowed on my GI insurance and want to start paying off the loan with monthly payments. How do I do this?

A—Make your check or money order payable to the Veterans Administration and mail it to the VA office which has your insurance records. Be sure to give your insurance number and specify that the payment is to be applied to your loan.

Q—I was in military service both in World War II and in the Korean conflict. I have never used my GI loan benefits. Which deadline am I bound by—the one for World War II veterans or the one for Korea veterans?

A—The deadline for Korea veterans applies in your case. You have until Jan. 31, 1965, to obtain your GI loan.

Q—I am on the VA pension rolls for nonservice connected disability and have just got VA's annual income questionnaire through the mails. I received a money gift during 1959 from relatives. Do I have to report it as income?

A—Yes, money gifts are considered as income for pension purposes and should be reported as income on the questionnaire.

Q—Where can I write to get a replacement for my honorable discharge which is lost?

A—Write to the Personnel Records Center of the Armed Forces, 9700 Page Blvd., St Louis, Missouri. Give your service number and your branch of service. There is no charge for this replacement.

Q—I have a nonservice connected disability for which my doctor recommends hospitalization & treatment. Under what conditions may I be admitted to a VA hospital?

A—The law provides that veterans of any war with nonservice connected disabilities for which hospitalization is necessary may be admitted only if they state under oath they are financially unable to pay hospital charges elsewhere, and if beds are available.

Q—Is there a grace period for late payments of installments on GI loans?

A—No. Veterans should make their GI loan payments on or before the date they are due. An extra charge may be made by GI lenders when payments are received late.

Q—I am the widow of a World War II veteran who died of an injury received during his wartime service. I receive a check each month from VA. Will this check in any way be affected by the new pension law?

A—No. The new law applies only to pensions, based on nonservice-connected disabilities and deaths. It does not in any way affect compensation payments made to veterans and others on account of service connected disabilities and deaths.

"I have been studying these 40 years, and I find that it has been so much time lost . . . I believe that I am composed of matter, but I have never been able to satisfy myself what it is that produces thought. I am even ignorant whether my understanding is a simple faculty like that of walking or digesting, or if I think in the same manner as I take hold of a thing with my hands . . . I talk a great deal, and when I have done speaking I remain confounded and ashamed of what I have said."

—Voltaire's "Good Brahmin."

Progress Continues

During the decade of the '50s Thief River Falls has continued the rate of growth that started in the last years of the troublesome '20s. It was in 1929 that the city reversed the decline of that period, and from that time the progress has followed a fairly steady and consistent growth pattern.

There has been little deviation in that growth pattern during the past ten years. The city's population is now well over the 8,000 mark. Building permits during this period totaled $8,543,114. Annual bank debits increased by about 45% and the resources of our three bank and savings institutions doubled, rising from $9,410,827 to $18,883,007.

The demand for electricity doubled again as it had in the preceding decade. In the '40s the ouput went up from about 4 million kilowatt hours to 9 million, and in the '50s the annual total went up from the 9 million figure to more than 20 million.

All of these indicators show healthy growth and there is no reason to believe the next ten years will be less favorable, and it should average out fairly well. With good management and proper planning we will of course be better able to improve our prospects. In this next decade, as in those of the past, our progress will depend to some extent on how well we manage our own affairs—public and private.

Peaceful Little Rock

Good citizens of Arkansas recognize the fact that the Little Rock revolution was a costly folly. The Arkansas Gazette, in an interesting appeal for new industry, admits that after the collision between Governor Faubus and the law of the Republic, Little Rock had not been looked upon favorably as a place to establish a new business.

Admitting that there has been justification for the city's questionable reputation, the Gazette gives assurance that Little Rock has as much to offer outside capital as any other southern city, and perhaps more. To this point it makes this interesting statement:

"Yet there is one great distinction in Little Rock's favor. Here the trouble is past. In other Southern cities, and we take no satisfaction in this observation, the adjustment may be only beginning. In Little Rock the void between old custom and new law has been bridged by the application in good faith of the Pupil Assignment laws. Good order and public education have been restored and secured by the community's own leadership, in actions which have now been ratified both in the state courts and at the polls."

And as additional proof that the trouble is a part of the past and not of the present, the Gazette says:

"The men who dynamited two buildings and a city-owned automobile here last Labor Day have been brought to bar. One pleaded guilty, and three have been convicted; the fifth, awaiting trial, acknowledged his participation in testifying aganst another. The School Board which reopened the high schools, after restoring security to a formerly beleaguered corps of teachers, this week won an overwhelming vote of confidence: Two incumbents up for reelection won by margins of better than 2 to 1."

This is a most encouraging report. It justifies the hope that the segregation problem in the South will be solved. Gradually the area of segregation will be reduced and as it shrinks in size the process of change will gain momentum.

The peaceful solution of the Little Rock school integration problem may be attributed largely to the influence of the moderates in both the South and the North. Had the extremists prevailed there probably would have been much bloodshed then and less harmony now. The Little Rock solution establishes the pattern for peaceful integration throughout the South. Let the change be gradual.

College Costs

The Minneapolis Tribune has discovered that "The cost of college education has become so large that few families can take this in stride and pay for it out of current income."

But this is not a new and fearful fact. As far as we know a college education has always been expensive. At no time have more than a comparatively few families been able to pay the cost out of current income. While college costs are higher today, as are all other costs, nevertheless a college education probably does not require a greater sacrifice by the average student or family than it has in the past.

We will go along with the Tribune in support of loans being made available for needy and deserving students. With the assurance that loans are available we would shift a larger share of the cost of a college education from the taxpayer and to the student. This would mean that the taxpayers would not be paying for the education of those who can well afford to pay all of the cost.

And in providing public funds for student loans we would place more emphasis on "deserving" as a qualification requirement. Too many of those now attending college are wasting their own time and the taxpayers' dollars. Many would be better served if they got themselves a job.

The Better Life?

"In a "Thank You" letter to the American people, David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, closes his expression of appreciation for "understanding, patience and support," with the declaration that "The More You Earn, The More You Buy."

That statement generally is true. But it is not always true. It is not true, for instance, when the bigger pay check buys less. And that is the reason for concern about the pay boost for steel workers.

The pay boost for steel workers will mean higher prices for steel. The pay boost for steel workers will result in pay boosts for many other workers and higher prices for many other commodities. The pay boost for steel workers will mean another swing up the inflation spiral and another cut in the buying power of the dollar. For a large segment of our population the pay boost for steel workers will mean a reduction in buying power and a lower standard of living.

The new steel contract will not mean "A Better Life for Every American," as Mr. McDonald says it will. On the contrary, considered in its long range effects, the new steel contract will not mean a better life for the average steel worker.

In another ten days spring will be only two months away. Summer is almost here.

A few years ago the state had a comfortable balance of more than $50 million in its income tax fund for school purposes. That big balance was an unfortunate thing as it invited increases in school aid that the tax did not justify. We would have been much better off if the balance in the fund at that time had been used to reduce the state debt, thus discouraging the spending beyond our means. But the educators are a tough pressure group and they now have the spending geared to a program that will make necessary the new big tax increases.

A Leap Year Memo

(Northfield News)

It's Leap Year again . . . and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.

They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.

According to the encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of bothe highe and lowe estait" shall have the privilege of proposing during leap years.

If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound . . . unless he could show that another woman had prior claim on his affections.

The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man—if the edge of a scarlet flannel petticoat wasn't clearly visible, a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.

France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.

The gallant English supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break. But they backed up the custom by depriving a man of benefit of clergy if he scoffed at a leap year proposal.

Even if he didn't hurt the lady's feelings, he was obliged to present her with a silk gown . . . as a consolation prize.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Association for Retarded to Meet

JAMES F. JOHNSON GIVEN PROMOTION IN U. S. NAVY

Promoted to his present rate Dec. 16, while serving aboard the Atlantic Fleet ocean mine sweeper USS Direct, was James F. Johnson, engineman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson of Thief River Falls.

The U.S. uses about 170 billion gallons of fresh water daily for domestic, industrial and irrigation purposes — four times as much as was used 50 years ago.

Just a week ago I received a report of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which highlights one of the most promising of today's educational developments. It describes the selection in 1959 of the fourth group of high school graduates from all over the United States to receive National Merit Scholarships for four years of college education.

Minnesota Ranks High

Of the 920 scholarships granted, thirty are to boys and girls from Minnesota. We can be proud of the fact that Minnesota ranks ninth among all the states in the number of these scholarships, ahead of many states that are larger than ours and surpassed only by states much larger than ours.

Another way of expressing this rank is that the scholarships from Minnesota constitute 3.3% of the total granted, although our population is only 1.9% of the national total. The high school seniors receive these awards on the basis of competition in several tests and other qualifying processes, intended to winnow students of highest excellence, regardless of race or religion.

Funds for Scholarships

These scholarships are financed by the Ford Foundation, the Carnegie Corporation, and ninety business corporations and foundations, including large and small businesses and AFL-CIO. They constitute a significant effort to provide adequate higher education for exceptionally talented young people on whom our nation must depend for future leadership.

Our Goals are Higher Yet

While we are proud of Minnesota's rank in this national program, we must set our goals still higher. We know that there are still too many of our gifted high school graduates who do not go on to college. We know, too, that many exceptionally able boys and girls in our elementary and secondary are not getting as much benefit from their years in school as they could if they were identified early and given special attention and opportunities commensurate with their abilities.

Official Action Planned

The Minnesota Legislature has created a Governor's Advisory Board on Handicapped, Gifted and Exceptional Children and this board has set up a special committee to recommend programs for the gifted. It has just completed a survey of Minnesota schools on the basis of which it plans to make recommendations for further legislation. Just as we in Minnesota have made great progress in providing special education for handicapped children, we hope to lead in a new program for our gifted.

Equality in Educational Opportunity

We believe in the importance of equality of opportunity—but we must recognize that "equal opportunity" does not mean "identical opportunity." True equality in educational opportunity means opportunity equal is suited to the needs and abilities of each individual. It is only—to the extent that we put this principle into practice that we can develop our human resources to their fullest.

Trained intelligence is essential to our progress and our survival. We need greater excellence in every field of endeavor—in science, in medicine, in teaching, in business, and in public service. We need more brilliant physicists and engineers. We need more brilliant minds dedicated to finding ways by which we can learn to live together peacefully. We need to give every child with the potential ability to contribute in any of the arts and sciences the fullest opportunity to make such contributions.

PEEKIN' into the PAST

THE LATEST THING

The cookstove shown above was a shiny new model in 1900. It was complete with a built-in tank for heating water and a warming shelf. In the background will be noted the woodbox and upon the walls are hanging herbs for seasoning.

The iron kettles and pots were serviceable but heavy for the housewife to handle and it took a long time to heat them up or cool them off. The cook could easily be a "slave" over a hot stove like this.

Improvements in food marketing as well as in stove manufacturing have liberated the housewife of today from stoves like the one in the photograph. Prepared mixes, frozen foods, easy desserts and uniform quality distinguish today's food market from the grocery store of yesteryear.

HERE'S TO YOU

On "Toasting"

Classic drink in medieval England during the Christmas-to-New Year's week was the wassail bowl, decorated with slices of toasted bread. The host drank to the health of those present. Eventually these wishes were referred to as "toasts." Today, the person who presides at a banquet is called a toastmaster, honoring his right to propose wishes for the good health of guests.

Guild Beginnings

Brewers were among the first tradesmen to unite in guilds for the maintenance of high standards. Brewing was a recognized trade in England before 1377. In 1422 there was a guild of brewers which occupied its own hall there.

Early State Brewers

Back in 1864, as the great Civil War was drawing to a close, John Hauenstein, Sr., and Andrew Betz founded a brewery in New Ulm near the winding Cottonwood River. Although completely wiped out by a cyclone in 1881, the Hauenstein Brewing Company has grown steadily. Today it is under the supervision of a third generation of Hauensteins, Hans P., who is president and general manager. For nearly a century, Minnesota brewers, their sons, and grandsons, have, kept the wholesome traditions and heritage of fine brewing — blending these with 20th century know-how to contribute to Minnesota's economy and the pleasure of living here.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I borrowed on my GI insurance and want to start paying off the loan with monthly payments. How do I do this?

A—Make your check or money order payable to the Veterans Administration and mail it to the VA office which has your insurance records. Be sure to give your insurance number and specify that the payment is to be applied to your loan.

Q—Is it possible to take college extension courses by correspondence under the War Orphans Education program?

Q—I was in military service both in World War II and in the Korean conflict. I have never used my GI loan benefits. Which deadline am I bound by—the one for World War II veterans or the one for Korea veterans?

A—The deadline for Korea veterans applies in your case. You have until Jan 31, 1965, to obtain your GI loan.

Q—I am on the VA pension rolls for nonservice-connected disability and have just got VA's annual income questionnaire, through the mails. I received a money gift during 1959 from relatives. Do I have to report it as income?

A—Yes, money gifts are considered as income for pension purposes and should be reported as income on the questionnaire.

Q—Where can I write to get a replacement for my honorable discharge which is lost?

A—Write to the Personnel Records Center of the Armed Forces, 9700 Page Blvd., St. Louis Missouri. Give your service number and your branch of service. There is no charge for this replacement.

Q—I have a nonservice connected disability for which my doctor recommends hospitalization & treatment. Under what conditions may I be admitted to a VA hospital?

A—The law provides that veterans of any war with nonservice-connected disabilities for which hospitalization is necessary may be admitted only if they state under oath they are financially unable to pay hospital charges elsewhere, and if beds are available.

Q—Is there a grace period for late payments of installments on GI loans?

A—No. Veterans should make their GI loan payments on or before the date they are due. An extra charge may be made by GI lenders when payments are received late.

Q—I am the widow of a World War II veteran who died of an injury received during his wartime service. I receive a check each month from VA. Will this check in any way be affected by the new pension law?

A—No. The new law applies only to pensions, based on nonservice-connected disabilities and deaths. It does not in any way affect compensation payments made to veterans and others on account of service-connected disabilities and deaths.

Minnesota Weather Changing, Says 'U' Man

When Grandpa says winters aren't as cold as they used to be, he knows what he's talking about.

The change isn't a big one, but autumns and winters are definitely getting warmer, a University of Minnesota soil climatologist said Thursday.

Donald G. Baker said at Farm and Home Week that Minnesota's average winter temperature is about 4 degrees above a century ago. Annual temperature has gone up about 2 degrees.

But don't be too pleased by the trend. It may bode ill for farmers, and here's why. While temperatures have slowly increased, total precipitation has stayed about the same or decreased slightly.

Higher temperatures mean faster moisture evaporation. So with no more moisture to begin with, farmers stand to lose it faster.

As a result, Baker said, water conservation measures are more important than ever.

Warmer weather, of course, isn't unique to Minnesota. "During the last century," Baker said, "there has been a warming trend throughout most of the world. Fall and winter temperatures show the greatest increases. This trend is most marked in the more northerly latitudes of the northern hemisphere."

Baker noted world-wide evidence of the warming trend. Glaciers are receding, he said. Oceans are warming up and the arctic ice cap seems to be getting thinner. Animals and birds are moving farther north.

Silage Exhibit Set for Winter Shows

Farmers Asked to Bring, In Samples by Feb. 23rd

One section of the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, that is rapidly increasing in interest and increasing in number of exhibits is the Silage Show, according to O. C. Soine, crops show superintendent. Here, samples of fresh silage are on display in neat plastic bags so that farmers can compare various kinds.

A judging sheet is used for each sample and valuable information is furnished to each exhibitor about the quality and condition of his sample. Samples should be brought by exhibitors on Monday, February 22, and Tuesday morning, February 23, of the Winter Shows week; judging starts at 10:30 a.m. on February 23.

The three classes in this section of the show are for corn, grass, and supplemental silage. The latter class was set up for oats alone or a mixture of oats and peas and any other type. Some farmers use a preservative such as molasses, beet pulp, sodium metabisulphite, and many others. These samples would go into the supplemental silage class.

Cash premiums ranging from $5.00 for first place to $1.00 for fifth place are being offered in each of the three classes. A top winner will also be chosen from each class. The "top silage sample" in the entire show will be awarded a bronze plaque by the Red River Valley Development association.

Agricultural Water Resources to be Topic on Monday, February 22

Subjects of much interest will headline the educational meetings of the 1960 Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, in February.

On Monday, February 22, a symposium on agricultural water resources will be held on the Northwest School of Agriculture campus. Nationally-known experts in this field will discuss the work of agencies and some research facts that are available and concern the subject of "water resources for farming in the Red River Valley area."

On Tuesday, February 23, there will be a top-level course on the latest developments in fertilizers as concerns Northwestern Minnesota. This has been arranged by the Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota.

On Wednesday, February 24, a possible new development of feeding barley to beef cattle, which is of importance to this area, will be discussed. The feeding of rolled barley to beef cattle is a possibility for Red River Valley cattle feeders. This will be discussed by the originator of research on this information Dr. Bert Guerin of St. Louis, Missouri. Dr. W. E. Dinusson, head of the animal husbandry department, North Dakota Agricultural college, will discuss the research work which has been completed to date by their college on the feeding of rolled barley to beef cattle.

A special cooking school highlighting the use of dairy products will be conducted on Friday, February 26, by the Minnesota Dairy Industries Committee.

A number of other meetings and special activities will also be scheduled for the week.

Brig. Gen. R. P. Miller Takes over Post Jan. 15

Brigadier General Robert P. Miller, Appleton, Minn., took over the command of the Minnesota National Guard 47th "Viking" Infantry Division from Major General Richard Cook of Redwood Falls on January 15th. The change of command was announced by Major General Joseph E. Nelson, the adjutant general of Minnesota.

General Cook, the division commander for the past two years, is retiring after 44 years of military service and relinquishes his command of the division to his assistant division commander. Gen. Cook recently served as military commander during the period when Albert Lea and Freeborn county were under martial law.

Gen. Miller, the new division commander, began his military career as a private in the Minnesota National Guard in 1928. During World War II, Miller served as Battalion Commander in the 135th Infantry Regiment and was awarded the Silver Star medal for his gallant actions in personally leading his men in hand to hand combat against the enemy. He holds the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf cluster for having been wounded twice within a six month period.

No. Central Plane Boardings Here in 1959 Rises 14 Pct.

Required Average of Five Per Day Fully Met During Past Six Months

Unofficial figures on the number of commercial airline boardings in Minnesota during 1959, released last week by the Minnesota Department of Aeronautics, show that Thief River Falls had a gain for the year of 14%. The total North Central boardings from here last year was 1,568 compared to 1,378 in 1958.

While this total averaged more than four a day, it was short of the five a day required by the Civil Aeronautics Board. During the last six months of 1959 the boardings here averaged 145 a month. Counting those who applied for flight but who, for various reasons, could not be enplaned, this six month record was well over the required five-a-day.

During 1959 Bemidji was up 17% with 2,629 boardings, and Brainerd was up 9% with 2,431 boardings. While the total boardings at Thief River Falls was lower, the average boarding from here represented more passenger-miles and greater revenue for the company.

Moorhead Man Heads Drive for Elmer Andersen

Efforts to line Republicans in Minnesota's Ninth Congressional District behind St. Paul businessman Elmer L. Andersen will be picking up steam within the next few days, according to Fred L. Behling of Moorhead, who is head of the statewide volunteer committee working in behalf of Andersen's candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Behling was named state chairman of the volunteer committee working in Andersen's behalf shortly after the St. Paul business man and former state senator declared himself in the race for governor earlier this month.

Behling, like Andersen, is a businessman and civic leader. He is president of the F. L. Behling Company, which markets Red River Valley potatoes around the nation.

Jobs Inc. Asks Study of Cost of Government

Requests Creation of Citizens' Group to Conduct Survey

At a special meeting of the directors of Jobs Incorporated, held in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday evening, a resolution was adopted urging that a citizens committee be formed for the purpose of studying government operations for the purpose of effecting economies as a means of curbing mounting taxes.

The resolution suggests that such a committee be named jointly by the governing bodies of the city, the school district and the county. The study would include operations in other communities, noting what steps, if any, are being taken elsewhere to relieve the burden of mounting costs.

The resolution follows:

"Jobs Incorporated has become increasingly aware of the importance of a favorable tax structure in the encouragement of industrial expansion. While all cities, large or small, have experienced tax increases in recent years, Jobs Incorporated believes the tax structure in Thief River Falls has become excessively burdensome.

"For the purpose of seeking more efficient and less costly public services, Jobs Incorporated recommends that a study be made of our government operations at the local level.

"Jobs Incorporated suggests that a citizens' committee be named jointly by the governing bodies of our city, our school district and the county, and that this committee conduct such studies of our own operations, and similar operations in other communities, as may serve as a base for comparison purposes. This committee should also take note of what steps if any are being taken in other communities to relieve the burden of mounting costs.

"It is the considered judgment of Jobs Incorporated that Thief River Falls can and should proceed with building projects that are essential to the progress of an expanding community. Our problem is not so critical that we must deny ourselves improvements that are necessary.

"What appears to be most needed is planned progress, providing for an orderly development, and greater cooperation between and among our local taxing units in order that a coordinated debt retirement program may be maintained that will level off the debt service costs for which taxes must be spread."

'Survival' Course Dates Changed; to Start February 2

Civil Defense Training Course to Continue for Six Weeks at Lincoln High

The civil defense course, "Personal and Family Preparedness for Survival," previously scheduled to begin on January 26 has been changed to February 2. The class will meet in Room 203 at Lincoln high school, 7:30 to 9:30 and will run for six weeks.

The class provides a free textbook and other related materials which may be kept for further reference, showing of films, discussion and question and answer periods. Certificates will be given to all who attend 12 hours it was announced by Robert Gramstad of the Lincoln high school faculty, who will serve as instructor.

36 Evening Courses to Start in February at Vocational School

Minn. Historical Society, Historical Building, Zone 1

A proposed schedule of 36 evening classes in vocational and hobby courses for a 1960 winter session, starting in February has been arranged by the area vocational school directors of adult education.

A schedule of the courses is published elsewhere in this issue and a bulletin containing a short description of each course is being mailed this week, according to Mrs. Viola Jaranson who, with Clifford Wiklund, are the directors.

Classes are open to all adults residing in the area served by the school and no certification or diploma is required. Registrations will be accepted next week, Tuesday through Friday, January 26-29, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and on Monday, February 1, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Fees payable at the time of registration are established on a basis that will reimburse the school for all instruction costs and the school reserves the right to withdraw any courses in which registration is insufficient to meet this requirement. Classes will begin during the week of Monday, Feb. 1, and will be held weekly according to schedule.

Business Meeting and Dinner Scheduled for Wednesday, January 27

Dreng Bjornaraa of Minneapolis, formerly of this city, will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Thief River Falls Builders Exchange in the Elks club rooms next Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, at 7 o'clock, R. S. Eldevik, secretary, announced today.

Bjornaraa, one time editor of the Times here, is now serving as district director of public relations for the United States Steel Corp.

Preceding the banquet, the builders exchange will hold a business session at 6 o'clock, at which time officers will be elected for the coming year.

An advance sale of tickets is being conducted by a committee headed by Howard Hoel and including Elmer Johnson and Calvin Ripley.

Plan to Form 'Friends of the Library' Group in Thief River Falls

Steps were taken during the last week to begin the organization of a "Friends of the Library" group to help the Carnegie public library provide this city and county with additional services which the present budget will not allow.

A small group met at the Hans Chommie home Wednesday to plan how to enlist the aid of interested volunteers, men and women, in the proposal. Suggested projects range from longed for extras to concrete necessities which are crying for immediate attention.

A spokesman for the library board said, "Anyone who has visited the library in the last few years knows that its shelves are overcrowded, the regular patron's response is frustration as he searches for books on shelves so overfull that all attempts of the staff to keep them in alphabetical order goes down to defeat.

"Because shelves are overcrowded, one might think the supply of books is more than adequate. But this is not the case. A library must grow or cease to be of use at all. The enlargement of the reference section, in constant use by adults as well as students, is sorely constricted by rising publishing costs which have reduced the library's purchasing power. This cut is bad in popular fields of fiction and Local members of the Teamsters union are expected to vote soon on a counter-proposal of increased benefits made by the city council at an informal meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 20, but indications are that the council's offer will not be accepted.

The union asked that the city pay an additional 20c an hour to members this year, furnish paid Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage, four week vacations for those who have over 20 years of seniority and provide two hours of reporting time to employes called back to work.

The counter proposal of the council was for a 4c an hour increase in wages and the two-hour reporting time.

The matter will now be put up to a vote of the union members employed by the city. No date has been announced for the meeting but there are indications that it might be held either Jan. 21 or 22.

Following the meeting, union representatives will again meet with the city council for further negotiations. Until the matter is settled, the 1960 city budget will not be completed.

County Is Allotted $202,836 for Highway Building and Upkeep

State Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman today announced the apportionment of $26,986,118 to Minnesota's 87 counties to be used during 1960 for construction and maintenance on county roads which have been designated as county-state aid highways. Of this amount, $3,214,282 must be spent on designated state aid routes within municipalities of less than 5,000 population.

The total apportioned amount comes from the state road-user fund which is made up of state motor vehicle license fees and gasoline tax imposed by the state. Counties receive 29 per cent of the fund while municipalities with over 5,000 population receive nine per cent. Sixty two per cent goes for the state trunk highway system.

Amounts the various counties receive are determined on the basis of a formula which takes into consideration each county's motor vehicle registrations, number of miles of county-state aid highways and financial need.

The allotment for Pennington county is $202,836, of which $115,338 is for county road construction and $76,892 for maintenance, with $6,361 for construction in villages and $1,242 for maintenance.

Marshall county is allotted $481,033, with $272,441 for county highway construction and $181,627 for maintenance, while $16,179 is set aside for construction on city and village streets with $10,786 for maintenance.

The allotment for Red Lake county is $168,108, of which $95,192 is for county road construction and $63,461 for maintenance, with $5,673 for construction of city and village streets and $3,782 for maintenance.

Bids Sought by City Council on Electrical Job

New Distribution Circuits Required, Supt. M. Owen Says

A variety of matters was taken up by the new city council Tuesday evening, Jan. 19, in the first regular meeting of the body since it took office Jan. 5.

The bid of $7,915 by the General Electric company for rewinding one of the two water turbines at the power plant was accepted by the council in preference to the Westinghouse company bid of $9,248. Work will be completed in 11 weeks which will make the generator operable before the spring runoff.

Morris Owen, superintendent of electrical generation, presented plans and specifications to the council for the addition of switching gear which will add two new distribution circuits. For the benefit of new council members, Owen repeated his earlier statements and figures that two of the four circuits now in operation are dangerously overloaded and that each must be divided in two.

Plans for additional operations at the Land O'Lakes turkey processing plant which will double its electrical load this year make it imperative that extra facilities be added to the eastside distribution system, Owen said, and one circuit will be needed just to provide power for that operation.

The council called for bids for the additional switching gear. Bids will be opened at the Feb. 16 meeting.

Plans and specifications for deepening the municipal airport well were approved. Fidelity bonds for city employes were approved as was the house mover's bond of Stanley Ranum.

A resolution directing payment of $1,575 to the Tunberg Motor company for the new police car was adopted as was the resolution directing the payment of $2,943.77 to D. H. Stewart and Associates for engineering services in connection with the storm sewer project in district three.

A resolution directing the city clerk to pay the county welfare board $3,260.28 as the city's share of 1959 expenses was adopted.

D. H. Stewart, consulting engineer for the city, was directed by the council to request that $19,000 in state aid funds to be used for payment of work in storm sewer district three be released by the state highway

Minnesota Road-user Funds Are Designated for State-aid Streets

Apportionment of $8,370,596 to 59 Minnesota municipalities with over 5,000 population, to be used for street construction and maintenance during 1960, was announced today by State Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman.

Under the apportionment, the city of Thief River Falls will receive $39,601, including $29,701 for construction and $9,900 for maintenance.

Other allotments include Crookston, $12,247; Bemidji, $[illegible],889; Detroit Lakes, $24,744; and East Grand Forks, $26,538.

These funds will be used for work on streets that have been designated as part of the municipal state aid street system which are not part of any trunk highway. The Minnesota highway department has responsibility for construction and maintenance on streets within a city which are on the trunk highway system. Municipal streets are designated jointly by the highway department and the governing bodies of the communities concerned.

This $8.3 million apportionment represents nine per cent of the state road-user fund, which is made up of state motor vehicle license fees and gasoline tax imposed by the state, that is made available to municipalities with over 5,000 population. Counties receive 29 per cent of the road-user fund, while 62 per cent goes for the state trunk highway system.

County Agents' Work Affects Many People, Annual Report Shows

County extension work is a link between the University of the state and the experimental station and the people in the county. Extension work serves agriculture. It also serves youth and the homemaker. All groups are served. The extension service does so the farm and home they may be in town. The 4-H club work and youth in town as well as those on farms are served through the extension office. Agricultural allied industries, such as those dealing in feed, seed and electrical dealers, batcheries and others are served by the office in classifying information, as it is gathered or discovered, by people in the county.

Extension work involves contact with people in many different ways. To bring information and research to the attention of the extension audiences, various communication media is used. This may involve writing news releases for newspapers and radio. This may mean a meeting for an interested groups such as those for 4-H clubs or crop conferences. It may mean holding or assisting in events where information is passed along on such projects as the annual 4-H club fair, a county dairy or pea sale or 4-H events.

Demonstration plots may be used to show and tell about crop varieties or responses to fertilizer. Or the communication may be made through a farm visit, a letter or a telephone call. Circular letters and individual letters are also used. All these methods are used to communicate to all or part of the county residents. Information is also supplied to agricultural publications in the state, district, today. The TRF Times and KTRF Radio have done an excellent job in assisting in disseminating information.

The extent of monetary return to the county residents from the county office's services is uncertain. It is certain that almost no one would wish to go without extension information and research activity. The quicker the application of research information by farmers and others, the greater the benefit. Some of the more dramatic accomplishments described in the report point out that there is still net return to the county of $10 for every extension dollar, or $70,000 to $100,000.

A swine producer using improved orientation pointers gained $4,000 over previous losses. A sugar farmer in the farm planning program increased his annual income by $2,000. Others used new methods to gain the accelerated adoption of improved techniques. Proper farm organization of the factors of production was stressed by the office. Studies of the use of land, labor, capital and management will need to be continued in the most effective way in order to maximize profits on farms.

Plan for 'Friends of the Library' Group in County

ten fiction, but especially so in the specialized field of reference.

"This reduced purchasing power could be offset considerably if people were more responsive to gifts—memorial or endowment funds, for example. Even the smallest gift, one dollar or less, can buy a new child's book, or help further added to someone else's can eventually grow to buy a reference volume that will serve many people in the years to come.

"Gifts contributed need not be in up-to-date library system and meeting local needs with modern interests and needs might become routine fact. Extras like a projector and membership in a film library, for example, or a globe library easily available to any club or group for a modest fee might be a reality if enough Friends of the Library could be found who cared to make these extra gifts. Even a recording section with appropriate records for children's music of every kind could come to be a dream and really happen.

All interested in learning more about the Friends of the Library are urged to have their names listed at the library and they will be notified when a group meeting will be held.

Commissioner Johnson read a communication of Fire Fighters liquor store manager, that the store roof be repaired. Plans and specifications will be prepared by the architect and submitted to the council at the next meeting. Volunteers should see Ingvaldson or Mayor Hendrickson regarding the matter.
